Latino Studies Program Undergraduate Minor

The Latino Studies Program offers an interdisciplinary minor in Latino Studies to undergraduate students in any college at Cornell with courses mostly drawn from history, sociology, anthropology, literature, language, but the program also cross lists courses from other colleges.

Requirements

- * The minor is earned upon the completion of five courses (a minimum of 15 credits) in Latino Studies, including the required course, Latinos in the United States (DSOC 2650, LSP 2010, SOC 2650), which is offered each spring semester.
- * Students are required to include at least three courses from Group I (Humanities) and Group II (Social Science) and must complete at least one course from each group. Of the three courses, two must be at the 300 or 400 level.
- * One course from the elective category can count towards the minor.
- * Courses must be completed with a letter grade of "C" or above.

Please refer to <http://latino.cornell.edu/academics/undergraduate-minor.cfm> for distribution and course list.

Please note: You do not have to enroll under LSP in order for the courses to be counted towards the minor - you can register under the cross-listed department. Independent studies and Freshman Writing Seminars DO NOT count towards fulfilling minor requirements. Not all courses offered each semester/year. Please refer to the roster and listing in the LSP office or on our web site at <http://latino.lsp.cornell.edu/>. The list varies each semester in accordance with faculty schedules and visiting appointments.

Registration

It is suggested that students who are interested in the minor, file an application with the Latino Studies Program office by the beginning of their junior year. Applications are available in the Latino Studies Program office, 434 Rockefeller Hall and by contacting Marti Dense at mfd1@cornell.edu.
