Midwest Sport & Exercise Psychology Symposium

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

24th Annual Symposium Friday, February 21 & Saturday, February 22, 2014 Hosted by the School of Human Movement, Sport, & Leisure Studies Bowling Green State University

The Midwest Sport & Exercise Psychology Symposium will consist of research presentations, research proposals, and round table discussions. Students wanting to present must submit an abstract and may present only once, but can be listed as a co-author in additional abstracts. Student papers may have been presented elsewhere or submitted for upcoming conferences. Please make your abstracts complete and descriptive following the guidelines below.

Types of presentations

Research Presentations involve completed research on sport and exercise psychology topics.

Research Proposals involve developing research ideas. The speaker should provide the audience with the rationale for the study, questions or hypotheses to be investigated and proposed methodology for the study. Preliminary or pilot data may be presented.

Intervention Presentations involve unique intervention techniques or programs that have been previously applied or proposals for working with a specific population or individual. Presentations should include a description of the population, targeted skills or problems, specific intervention protocols, and an evaluation.

Submission Procedures

- 1. Complete the Submission Cover Page (see page 2)
- 2. A one page typed abstract is required for each submitted proposal. Abstracts must be typed, Times Roman 12-point font, left justified with 1.5 inch margins. Place the title on the top line centered and bold. Then, create a double space and provide the presenters' first and last name(s) as well as university affiliation. Arrange another double line space followed by single spaced text outlining the proposed presentation. Format abstract consistent with APA Publication Manual 6th edition.

Abstracts should include:

- a clear statement of the problem and its significance,
- general description of the method used or proposed,
- summary of the results, and
- major conclusions/practical implications you have drawn from the data.
- 3. E-Mail completed submission cover page and abstract in a Word compatible file to: cquery@bgsu.edu by 5:00 p.m. February 1, 2014.
