

THE DR. JOSE REGUEIRO SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

The mission of The Dr. Jose Regueiro Scholarship Foundation is to provide scholarships, grants and assistance to individuals at an institution of higher learning who lack sufficient resources to enroll in and complete post-secondary education.

The Foundation is making it possible for active students, who find themselves in situations that would bring a premature ending to their educational goals, to succeed beyond their unforeseen circumstances. The Foundation creates a structure to guide individuals through the maze of resources currently available to all. This structure leads to appropriate counseling and guidance on how to acquire the knowledge of the existence of available tools to survive and succeed in all areas of their lives. We feel helping others meet these needs are yet another reality of today's daily life hurdles.

The mission of the Florida National University Athletic Department is to provide assistance within an athletic structure that promotes the development of a well rounded education through structured sport and competition, to develop life skills of discipline, integrity, leadership, philanthropy and social responsibility, to elevate ethnic and cultural diversity within the athletic programs, to assure equitable opportunity for all staff and student-athletes, and to make the athletic program a durable source of pride for the student population, student-athletes, alumni, university, and community of FNU.

Florida National University opened its first class on January 4th, 1988, in the city of Hialeah, Florida, as Florida International Institute under the administration of Dr. José Regueiro, Dr. María C. Regueiro and Mr. Omar Sánchez. It offered business, computer, dental, electronics (now discontinued), medical, paralegal, and travel programs. The institution soon became Florida International College and finally in September 1989, Florida National College. A second campus was initiated in Miami (Flagler Campus) on March 3, 1989; a third campus was opened in Miami (Bird Road Campus) on March 5, 1990.

Florida National College officially changed its name to Florida National University March 24, 2012, after receiving approval by its accrediting agency to offer programs at a more advance degree level. At the present time, FNU offers two Master Degree, nine Baccalaureate Degree Programs, twenty-three Associate Degree programs, seven Diploma Programs, and six Certificate Programs.
