Literary Arts – Front Porch Stories Sertoma Arts Center

Age: All Ages. Front Porch Stories founder Gale Buck realized two important facts about storytelling in July 2013. First, storytellers need an audience and second, the general public needs good storytelling. Front Porch Stories was born to bring friendly audiences and family-oriented storytellers together. Admission to these events has always been one smile; we have never failed to collect. Storytellers donate their time for the experience, but they do get recordings of the event (not available for sale). Front Porch Stories is now a quarterly event, which features local storytellers sharing their favorite stories and a growing audience of friends, new and old, who appreciate the ancient art of storytelling -- a perfect match.

SERTOMA ARTS CENTER
