CONCOL- Revised 3/26/96 2 Pages

1. People who know you fairly well, see you on a regular basis, and would know something about your use of _____ ["alcohol" or "drugs"; whichever is appropriate].
2. People you trust, whom we could talk to in confidence without creating problems for you.

These interviews are completely confidential, and we would not give these people any information that you have shared with us. They would, however, know that you are participating in a research project, and we would ask them to talk to us about your use of _____ ["alcohol" or "drugs"; whichever is appropriate].

May we have the names of three people, and your permission to talk with them during this research project?
