Purpose

Oregon law charges the Attorney General with the duty and responsibility to represent the public's interest in connection with assets held for charitable purposes. The Attorney General carries out this responsibility by requiring organizations holding such assets and/or soliciting in Oregon to register and file periodic financial reports.

Once submitted, this Form and all attachments become a part of the public record. Any interested person may examine or obtain a copy of a Registration Form or an annual report for a charitable organization by contacting the Charitable Activities Section.

Who Must Register

Generally, corporations, trusts or other organizations which hold assets, solicit donations or conduct activities on behalf of a charitable purpose in the state of Oregon will be required to register with the Charitable Activities Section of the Department of Justice. A charitable purpose means any purpose to promote the well-being of the public at large, or for the benefit of an indefinite number of persons including, but not limited to, educational, literary or scientific purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals or for the benefit of religious, rehabilitation services, public recreation, civic improvement or services which lessen the burden of government.

An organization or trust granted tax-exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service under §501(c)(3), (4), or (19) of the Internal Revenue Code is presumed to be organized for a charitable purpose. More specifically, the following organizations must register:

- All organizations organized under the laws of the state of Oregon for charitable purposes must register. This includes, but is not limited to, any corporation registered with the Oregon Secretary of State as a nonprofit, public benefit corporation.
- All organizations organized under the laws of any state jurisdiction other than Oregon and doing business, holding assets or soliciting in the state of Oregon.
- All trustees which hold property or an interest in property in trust for a charitable purpose. Such trusts include charitable remainder trusts and lead trusts.

Organizations Exempt from Registration

Certain charitable organizations are not required to register with the Charitable Activities Section.

The following list includes the types of organizations exempt from registration requirements and the documentation required to support the exemption. Organizations which fail to provide this documentation will not be exempted from registration.

When to Register

Organizations required to register must do so before conducting activities, holding assets, or soliciting contributions for a charitable purpose. Corporations organized under the laws of Oregon should register immediately following incorporation.

Registration is a one-time event. However, all charitable organizations are required to file annual financial reports with the Charitable Activities Section. Financial report forms will be mailed to the organization shortly following the end of the organization's fiscal year.

What Form to File

File Form RF-T if the organization is a trust.

File Form RF-C if the organization is an Oregon or foreign corporation, association or similar entity. Foreign corporations are those corporations incorporated outside the state of Oregon.

For those organizations registering in multiple states, the Charitable Activities Section accepts the Unified Registration Statement for Charitable Organizations in lieu of Form RF-C. A copy of this multi-state form is available at <http://www.multistatefiling.org>.
