Chicken on a power line Ever see a chicken on an electric line? Neither had Bob Baird until the other day.

Some game chickens live in the wild near his home at Vaugim Road at Alder Springs. "They fly almost like a quail," Mr. Baird said. "And I saw this one chicken on the electric line just like an ordinary bird. He stayed there several minutes." The chickens are descended from some game birds that were being raised in the neighborhood a few years ago.
