

FCBA Luncheon with FCC Commissioner Ajit Pai on February 21

The FCBA will be holding a luncheon on Thursday, February 21, 2013 featuring FCC Commissioner Ajit Pai. The luncheon will be held at the Mayflower Hotel, 1127 Connecticut Avenue, NW. Registration will begin at 11:30 a.m. and the luncheon will begin at Noon. Please note that tables of 10 are available, although you cannot register online for this option; you must download the form and fax or email it in with attendee names.

Commissioner Ajit Pai

Ajit V. Pai was nominated to the Federal Communications Commission by President Barack Obama and on May 7, 2012 was confirmed unanimously by the United States Senate. On May 14, 2012, he was sworn in for a term that concludes on June 30, 2016.

Commissioner Pai's focus is on creating a regulatory environment in which competition and innovation will flourish, thus benefitting American consumers. He believes that it is vital for the FCC to adopt policies that will give private firms the strongest

Nominations for “Excellence in Government Service” Award Due March 15

In 2008, the Federal Communications Bar Association established an award, to be provided annually, to recognize the contributions of federal government employees to the field of communications. Recipients of the award include Daniel “Mack” Armstrong, Evan Kwerel, Julius Knapp, Mary Beth Richards, and Patrick Carney. The sixth recipient will be announced in Spring 2013.

All current federal government employees in communications-related positions (not limited to attorneys or FCBA members) are eligible nominees. The FCBA will consider an individual's dedication to excellence and long-term commitment to federal government public service in selecting

PRESIDENT'S Message

DEAR MEMBERS:

Whether or not you subscribe to the notion that a groundhog can, by its shadow, forecast the end of winter, there is one fact we ought to be able to agree on, and that is we are in the midst of winter – a busy winter. The reason I say it is a busy winter for the FCBA should be fairly obvious from the breadth of programming, CLEs, and committee activities being delivered or planned. Just take a spin through this newsletter. We have CLEs on the PSTN-to-IP Transition, the International Dimensions of Cybersecurity, a retrospective of the 1992 Cable Act 20 Years On and much more, including the 8th Annual Privacy and Data Security Symposium. FCC Commissioner Ajit Pai will be joining us for his first FCBA lunch as a featured speaker on February 21, so that will be an exciting event. Some of the chapters are doing great work on CLEs and events as well. This month also kicks off solicitations for nominations for what will be the sixth “Excellence in Government Service” Award. I urge anyone who knows a federal government employee active in the field of communications, who by his or her consistent actions, demonstrates a generosity of spirit, service, dedication and outstanding public service beyond the call of duty, to take the time to nominate that person. There is absolutely no requirement that the person nominated (or nominating) be an FCBA member – although that’s always a nice touch. Nominations are due to the FCBA office by March 15 and we hope to welcome a new awardee at our spring reception. Please also do look at the Foundation pages of this newsletter and help us get the word out on the application process and deadlines for summer interns and for the popular Foundation high school scholarship program.

I want to thank all the active committees who have undertaken CLE programming this year and commend particularly the efforts of our CLE Committee Co-Chairs, Kris Monteith, Lee Petro and Mike Senkowski. At my urging the CLE Committee Co-Chairs have been attempting to support the work of the substantive committees as they plan programming, because we all know as volunteers it is sometimes hard to find the time to do all the things required to organize a thoughtful and compelling program. Kris, Lee and Mike are resources to help. While we have a great calendar of upcoming CLEs, there is room for a couple more. We hope FCBA members will continue to consult the newsletter and website and alerts as new programming is scheduled and attend those CLEs that appeal to your needs and interests. If you have ideas for worthwhile new topics or programming, Kris, Lee and Mike would like to hear from you. They would probably welcome the break from hearing from me! Kerry Loughney, our FCBA Membership Director, is incredibly well versed in what it takes to make a CLE a great CLE, so anyone in the throes of planning professional educational programming also would do well to check in with Kerry.

Another shout out has to go to John Nakahata and his intrepid co-chairs of this year’s National Telecommunications Moot Court competition. John, Matthew Gerst, Adrienne Biddings and Eduardo Guzman. This strong team, with the help of others, created a timely and interesting wireless broadband/first amendment moot court problem that I and a couple of other friendly but firm moot judges heard oral argument in a courtroom at Catholic University of America on February 1 and 2. This competition would not be possible without the efforts of many folks and it is a wonderful example of how committed members of our association year in and year out support and mentor the next generation of communications litigators.

Lastly, I want to thank those who urged friends and colleagues to become FCBA members over the past few months. These efforts are much appreciated. One cannot overstate the value of personal endorsements of the FCBA as a venue for networking, professional development and volunteer opportunities of all sorts. The Association has lots going on and lots in the works. We look forward to a great winter and hope to see you at a CLE, a moot courtroom, or a lunch or other event soon.

A MULTI-STAKEHOLDER VS. REGULATORY APPROACH TO CYBERSECURITY

Network security has become an increasing focus of industry, consumers, and governments across the globe. A major issue is whether cybersecurity is best achieved through a multi-stakeholder approach or through a more regulatory approach. This panel will focus on the pros and cons of each approach as the United States and countries around the world struggle with best securing their networks.

SECURING THE INTERNATIONAL TELECOMMUNICATIONS SUPPLY CHAIN

The U.S. Government has long sought to balance the need to secure the nation's telecommunications infrastructure with the desire to ensure that service providers can leverage the most efficient and effective technologies in their networks. In recent years, the U.S. Government has expressed concerns about the use of equipment sourced from certain foreign manufacturers, and the vulnerabilities that such use could introduce into networks. This panel will examine these complex issues, and the broader policy implicated by international telecommunications supply chains.

Wednesday, February 20, 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. The PSTN to IP Transition: Issues and Answers

The FCBA Wireline Committee will hold a CLE on Wednesday, February 20, 2013 from 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. on The PSTN to IP Transition: Issues and Answers. This program will be held at Davis Wright Tremaine LLP, 1919 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW.

The transformation of the U.S. telecommunications and information infrastructure from the legacy public switched network (PSTN) to predominantly IP-based networks is accelerating rapidly, and now the policy “other shoe” has dropped: In November 2012, AT&T petitioned the FCC to open a proceeding “to facilitate the ‘telephone’ industry’s continued transition from legacy transmission platforms and services to new services based fully on [IP],” and the NTCA asked the Commission to “initiate a rulemaking to examine the means of promoting and sustaining the ongoing evolution of the Public Switched Telephone Network” from TDM to IP. In December 2012, US Telecom joined the fray, seeking an FCC declaratory ruling that ILECs “are no longer presumptively dominant when providing interstate mass market and enterprise switched access services.” The AT&T and USTelecom petitions urge the FCC to consider elimination of much of the traditional regulation of ILECs, arguing that the transition to IP will essentially render such regulation obsolete, while NTCA asks the FCC to adopt what it calls a “smart regulation” approach. Competitive carriers naturally disagree with some of the proposals, contending that deregulation will enable ILECs to perpetuate bottlenecks to end users and favoring stronger FCC action to ensure equitable IP interconnection. The FCC is in the midst of receiving comments on these petitions.

This CLE will feature representatives of the groups on all sides of this critical policy debate, and will examine the impacts of the TDM-to-IP transition on the wireline industry.

The FCBA Privacy and Data Security Committee and the ABA Forum on Communications Law will hold the 8th Annual Privacy & Data Security Symposium on Wednesday, March 20, 2013 from 2:00 – 6:00 p.m. This CLE will be held at Hogan Lovells US LLP, 555 13th Street, NW, Fulbright Conference Center, Washington, DC.

It’s no secret. We live and operate in a world where an individual’s online and offline behavior is monitored 24-7. Our behavior is monitored via the internet, email, wireless devices, social networking platforms, street cameras, and GPS by the government, advertisers, employees and family and friends. How does this all happen? Carefully. And not without a fair amount of ambiguity

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

The Honorable Douglas F. Gansler, Attorney General, State of Maryland and President, National Association of Attorneys General

SESSION 1

Big Brother and Your Personal Information – Balancing Privacy, Security and the Public Interest: How much Access/Protection/Process Is Too Much?

There are good reasons for government to have access to an individual's personal information. And there are good reasons for government not to have such access. Some argue that the standards for government's ability to access personal information are outdated given the changes in technology, as well as confusing, too lenient, and subject to a process that is shrouded in secrecy and ambiguity. Others argue that the government's ability to access personal information is essential to law enforcement, preserving our national security, and should be expanded in certain situations. The issues are how much government access, protection or due process is too much? Our panel of experts will explore the issue of government access to and use of personal information from various perspectives under the alphabet soup of relevant statutes such as FISA, ECPA, CALEA, and any limitations imposed by the 4th Amendment. Panelists also will discuss the proposals to reform the law and best practices for responding to government requests.

SESSION II

Business Access to Information – What Bargains Have Employees and Consumers Struck?

There are many reasons why a business would monitor consumer or employee behavior – and access and use personal information in the process. Employers wish to protect corporate confidential information, other employees, its reputation or to limit liability. Advertisers and marketers wish to sell goods and services and maximize marketing opportunities. Whether it's for the purpose of managing a company's "Bring Your Own Device" initiative or for behavioral targeting based on the use of apps, websites or social networking, business access to information remains a hotly debated and ever evolving area of the law. Our panel of experts will explore the latest developments with respect to what personal information employers, advertisers, marketers, and third party service providers can access without running afoul of privacy laws or crossing the line with regard to the "creep" factor. Our panelists also will offer best practices and practical guidance designed to help your clients keep clear of trouble when accessing information for corporate "defense" or for corporate "offense."

Wednesday, March 27, 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. Why Every Lawyer Should Understand The Basic Concepts Of Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) – 2013

The FCBA Professional Responsibility Committee will hold a CLE on Wednesday, March 27, 2013 from 6:00 – 8:15 p.m. on Why Every Lawyer Should Understand the Basic Concepts of Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) – 2013. This program will be held at a location to be determined in Washington, DC.

Law firms face a panoply of risks in today's environment, and for that reason they should be proactive in mitigating those risks to safeguard their long term success and survival. This program is intended to give firms an overview of Enterprise Risk Management, so that they can begin to develop their own framework to identify and proactively address risks (including the Federal Communications ability to censure, suspend or disbar attorneys for a variety of offences) and opportunities across their entire firm. Ultimately, you should also be able to come away from the session with ways to make the firm eligible for favorable pricing and coverage of malpractice insurance.

Eileen Garczynski is a Vice President at Ames & Gough and an expert on lawyers' professional liability issues and the risk and insurance needs of law firms around the country. David Rosenfeld is a nationally recognized authority on legal ethics and professional Interested in Hosting an FCBA event?

The FCBA greatly appreciates the support of our members' firms and companies who provide space for our brown bag lunches, committee meetings, and CLE Seminars throughout the year. We are, however, always looking for new locations that can host FCBA events. We will be experimenting with some new presentation technology in future CLE seminars, which require more technical support than we have needed in the past.

In general terms, we need conference rooms that can seat at least 30 (more if possible) people at tables for brown bag lunches and committee meetings and conference rooms that can seat a minimum of 60 for CLE seminars. Firms and companies hosting brown bag lunches provide beverages and desserts; firms and companies hosting CLE seminars provide beverages and snacks. CLE seminars are generally held from 6:00 – 8:30 p.m. Additionally, for CLE seminars we need facilities that can provide technology support for microphones for as many as six speakers on a panel, the ability to tie the house sound system into a teleconference bridge, video projection capabilities for PowerPoint presentations, and access to the internet for Webinar services. If your firm or company has the needed conference room facilities and capabilities and would be willing to host future FCBA activities, please email Stan Zenor, stan@fcb.org, or Kerry Loughney, kerry@fcb.org.

Midwest Chapter

Event: Brown Bag Lunch with Lori Andrews

Date/Time: Wednesday February 20, 12:00 – 1:30 p.m.

Location: Tribune Tower, 435 N. Michigan Ave.

Please join us for a unique brown bag lunch program featuring guest speaker professor and author Lori Andrews. Professor Andrews is the Director of the Institute for Science, Law and Technology at IIT Chicago-Kent College of Law (<http://www.kentlaw.iit.edu/faculty/full-time-faculty/lori-b-andrews>). In her most recent book, I Know Who You Are and I Saw What You Did: Social Networks and the Death of Privacy (2012), she explores the challenges that social networks are creating for lawyers. The American Bar Association Journal describes Lori as “a lawyer with a literary bent who has the scientific chops to rival any CSI investigator.” Lori is the author of 11 non-fiction books and more than 100 articles on health care policy, biotechnology, genetics and digital technologies. She also writes mystery books (Sequence, The Silent Assassin, and Immunity) with a female geneticist and a military lawyer as the main characters. Lori received her B.A. summa cum laude from Yale College and her J.D. from Yale Law School. Her path-breaking litigation about technologies caused the National Law Journal to list her as one of the “100 Most Influential Lawyers in America.”

This event organized by the FCBA Midwest Chapter welcomes both members and non-members so please feel free to bring a friend or coworker, and don't forget your lunch!

To RSVP: Sara Cole (sara.cole@tdstelecom.com) by the 10:00 a.m. on Friday, February 15.

the individual to be honored. In addition, the FCBA will view favorably nominees who have demonstrated service, dedication, and generosity of spirit in their careers. Nominations (1,000 words or less) should include the following information: (1) full name, title, work address and contact information of the nominee; (2) summary of nominee's outstanding service and/or achievements; (3) a narrative explanation of the nominee's service including the following information: how the nominee's dedication to excellence and public service is outstanding, significant and “above and beyond the call of duty;” the length of the government service; and any other relevant information, such as a history of mentoring, that would assist the award committee in evaluating the nomination. Please submit written nominations by email to kerry@fcba.org. Nominations are due no later than March 15, 2013.

Annual Seminar Scholarships Available for Government Employees and Academics

To promote the goal of broad attendance and boost participation from public sector employees and academics, the FCBA is again offering Annual Seminar scholarships. Last year, the scholarship program was fully subscribed. An increase in attendance by the public sector and academics provides a unique networking opportunity and benefits all Annual Seminar attendees. The scholarship covers the registration fee (approximately $200), which includes meals, entertainment, and attendance at the seminar. Scholarship recipients will be responsible for all other costs of attending the Seminar, including travel and lodging expenses. A limited number of scholarships will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. Applicants are urged to apply early.

FCBA ANNUAL SEMINAR SCHOLARSHIPS

Information and Application Instructions:

(1) Scholarships are available to full-time government members and to full-time academic professor members.

(2) To apply, please fax or email a completed application form along with a copy of your ID card from your government agency or academic institution.

(3) Applications will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis. The cut-off date for applications is Friday, March 29, 2013.

(4) Scholarships may be applied only toward the registration fee for the 2013 FCBA Annual Seminar. (Individuals receiving scholarships are responsible for all other costs of attending a seminar, including travel and lodging expenses).

Please fax or email the application found on page 22 to:

incentive to raise and invest capital; to develop new products and services; and to compete in established and new markets. Specifically, Commissioner Pai is working to remove uncertainty that can deter businesses and investors from taking risks, to revisit outdated regulations, and to set clear, modernized rules for the road. These steps will result in consumers enjoying better products at lower prices and the communications industry contributing to faster economic growth and more job creation.

Commissioner Pai also believes that the FCC must act with dispatch to reflect the pace of change in today's marketplace. Faced with an industry as vibrant and dynamic as today's communications sector, the Commission must be careful not to cling to twentieth century approaches in addressing the technological landscape of the twenty-first century. Thus, for example, it is a priority of Commissioner Pai to increase promptly the availability of spectrum for high-value uses.

Commissioner Pai's regulatory approach has been shaped by his decade and a half of experience in communications, law, and policy.

Between 2007 and 2011, Commissioner Pai held several positions in the FCC's Office of General Counsel, serving most prominently as Deputy General Counsel. In this role, he had supervisory responsibility over several dozen lawyers in the Administrative Law Division and worked on a wide variety of regulatory and transactional matters involving the wireless, wireline, cable, Internet, media, and satellite industries.

Commissioner Pai's career outside of the FCC has spanned the private and public sectors. With respect to the private sector, Pai worked in the Washington, DC office of Jenner & Block LLP, where he was a Partner in the Communications Practice until being sworn in as a Commissioner. Years earlier, he served as Associate General Counsel at Verizon Communications Inc., where he handled competition matters, regulatory issues, and counseling of business units on broadband initiatives.

Commissioner Pai also has served in all three branches of the federal government. After moving to Washington, DC in 1998, his first post was with the United States Department of Justice's Antitrust Division as an Honors Program trial attorney on the Telecommunications Task Force. There, he worked on proposed mergers and acquisitions and on novel requests for regulatory relief following the enactment of the Telecommunications Act of 1996.

He later returned to the Department of Justice to serve as Senior Counsel in the Office of Legal Policy. Pai has worked on Capitol Hill as well, first as Deputy Chief Counsel to the United States Senate Judiciary Committee's Subcommittee on Administrative Oversight and the Courts, and later as Chief Counsel to the Senate Judiciary Committee's Subcommittee on the Constitution, Civil Rights, and Property Rights. Immediately following law school, he clerked for the Honorable Martin L.C. Feldman of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana.

Commissioner Pai received a B.A. with honors from Harvard University in 1994 and a J.D. from the University of Chicago in 1997, where he was an editor of the University of Chicago Law Review and won the Thomas J. Mulroy Prize. In 2010, Pai was one of 55 individuals nationwide chosen for the 2011 Marshall Memorial Fellowship, a leadership development initiative of the German Marshall Fund of the United States.

The son of immigrants from India, Commissioner Pai grew up in Parsons, Kansas. He now lives in Arlington, Virginia, with his wife, Janine, and son, Alexander.

Please join us in welcoming Commissioner Pai on February 21!

International Telecommunications Committee Hosts Reception

On December 3-14, the United States sent a delegation led by Ambassador Terry Kramer to the ITU's World Conference on International Telecommunications. In honor of the work of the Ambassador and the U.S. delegation, the International Telecommunications Committee hosted a reception in his honor.

It was well attended and an enjoyable evening.

International Telecommunications Committee Reception

New York Chapter

The New York Chapter, like the rest of this region, continues to rebuild after Superstorm Sandy. The Chapter supports the recovery efforts of its members, partners and friends. In the meantime, the New York Chapter is planning a variety of events and programs for 2013.

The Co-Chairs of the Chapter include Michele Thomas, Principal Corporate Counsel for T-Mobile USA; Jennifer Kostyu, Partner at Wilkinson Barker Knauer, LLP; LaVonda Reed-Huff, Professor of Law at Syracuse University College of Law; and Susanna Zwerling, Senior Counsel, Merger Compliance for NBC Universal. The Chapter's Steering Committee, which brings a wide range of expertise and interests to the Chapter, includes: Mary Burgess, AT&T; Christopher Arfaa, Arfaa Law, P.C.; David Bronston, Phillips Lytle LLP; Christopher Cantor, Marshlian & Donahue, LLC, The CommLaw Group; William Flynn, Harris Beach PLLC; Elise Hiller, Klein Law Group PLLC; Julie Laine, Time Warner Cable; Michael Santorelli, Advanced Communications Law & Policy Institute, New York Law School; and Allen Zoracki, Klein Law Group PLLC.

The New York Chapter also hopes to continue its partnerships with other legal interest groups, including the Government Law Center of Albany Law School, the Syracuse University College of Law, New York Law School, the Practising Law Institute, and the New York State Wireless Association.

In September, the New York Chapter kicked off the school year with the students of Brooklyn, Cardozo, and New York Law Schools with a happy hour, to introduce the law students to the New York technology, media, and telecommunications law community. We hope that this will be the first of many opportunities for the New York area law students to partner with the FCBA for such events.

The New York Chapter expects 2013 to be a busy year, with multiple events throughout the state. A breakfast program regarding mobile payments, originally planned for the fall of 2012 but postponed due to Superstorm Sandy, has been rescheduled for February 5. The program will be held at Google's New York headquarters and will include a moderated discussion on the many emerging legal and policy questions surrounding the rise of mobile payment services. Representatives from leading mobile payment companies and other experts will examine the current market for these services and address issues like privacy and cybersecurity that impact service providers and consumers.

In addition, the New York Chapter is planning a program for April or May that will discuss the upcoming Incentive Auction to repurpose broadcast TV spectrum for wireless broadband use. The Chapter also is collaborating with the New York State Wireless Association on its annual conference (scheduled for June 13 and 14 in New York City). The Communications Law & Policy Society (CLPS) at Syracuse University College of Law hosted a Brown Bag Lunch in November at which Professor Reed-Huff and Professor Roy Gutterman, of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, spoke to students about careers in the industry and about their individual career paths. CLPS is planning a spring meet-and-greet in Washington for the spring. Additional details about these and other programs will be forthcoming.

If you would like to join the email list for the New York Chapter, please send your name and email address to Jennifer Kostyu at jkostyu@wbklaw.com.

Panel Introductions

Anne Swanson, Dow Lohnes PLLC

10:00 – 11:00 a.m.

YOUR LOCAL REGULATORY FORECAST

This panel will dig into the cold, hard truths of the current regulatory environment and examine some of the hottest FCC topics facing your broadcast clients. Has the online public file requirement exposed television stations to any new bone-chilling liabilities? Will this FCC's broadcast ownership ruling survive the inevitable blizzard of court challenges? Will auctions soon yield cold cash instead of spectrum freezes? What mind-numbing sales issues are stations facing now that political leads have gone cold? And will the new IP captioning and emergency information obligations lead to a chilling effect on local station content, including winter storm coverage, or focus new attention on all that broadcasters deliver, whatever the weather? Bank on our contestants -- sorry, panelists -- having a (snow)ball as they shovel through these and other issues.

Moderator:

Bill LeBeau, Holland & Knight LLP, Washington, DC

Speakers:

Matthew Berry, Office of Commissioner Ajit Pai, Federal Communications Commission, Washington, DC

Jennifer Johnson, Covington & Burling LLP, Washington, DC

Kathleen Kirby, Wiley Rein LLP, Washington, DC

Margaret Tobey, NBCUniversal, Washington, DC

11:15 – 12:15 p.m.

EMPLOYMENT ISSUES: AVOIDING A PERPETUAL WINTER OF DISCONTENT

Hiring, firing, recruiting, and avoiding chilly employee relations in the 21st century is about as easy as dodging moguls while blindfolded down a double black diamond. Don't be given the cold shoulder during your next EEO outreach. Join our expert panelists for navigating the icebergs of issues today's broadcasters are confronting, including Facebook and Twitter in the workplace and non-compete contracts.

Maury Baskin, Venable LLP, Washington, DC

Joanne Ochsman, Allbritton Communications Company, Arlington, VA

Gregg Skall, Womble Carlyle Sandridge & Rice, LLP, Washington, DC

Bart Stringham, National Association of Broadcasters, Washington, DC

12:30 – 1:45 p.m.

DEEP FREEZE OR HOT SEAT? PRIVACY ISSUES IN NEW MEDIA & TECHNOLOGY

As broadcasters become increasingly innovative with their digital offerings, they are drifting into new areas of privacy concerns. Join our panelists as they discuss mobile apps, widgets, and other digital services that might otherwise have your clients skating on thin ice. What's the latest on telemarketing and text messaging regulation? Learn what's behind the rising number of class action lawsuits concerning text messaging, mobile apps, and location-based services. In light of the FTC's COPPA Review, what new rules could impact general audience websites, and how do you best insulate your clients regarding children's privacy issues? Our experts will tell you what you need to know so you're not left out in the cold.

Joanne McNabb, Privacy Enforcement and Protection Unit, California Department of Justice, Sacramento, CA

2:00 – 3:00 p.m.

COPYRIGHT & THE INTERNET: GIVING BROADCASTERS THE COLD SHOULDER?

Television is facing an avalanche of disruptive technologies that threaten to shred current business models. Our experts will discuss the latest developments regarding Aereo, AutoHop, FilmOn, and other video providers. During the last Congress, webcasters faced a distinctly chilly reception from legislators. Will there be a thaw in lawmakers' attitudes towards pending streaming legislation, and how will it affect your clients and their royalty payments? We'll have a flurry of social media issues to examine, as well as updates on the hot and cold relationships with the performing rights organizations

Hosted by George Mason University School of Law, Arlington, VA

TPRC is now soliciting abstracts of papers, proposals for panels, tutorials and demonstrations, and student papers for presentation at the 2013 conference, to be held September 27-29, 2013 at the George Mason University Law School, in Arlington, Virginia. These presentations should report current theoretical or empirical research relevant to communication and information policy.

TPRC is an annual conference on communication, information and Internet policy that convenes international and interdisciplinary researchers and policymakers from academia, industry, government, and nonprofit organizations. Its purpose is to present original research relevant to policy making, share information about areas where research is needed, and engage in discussion on current policy issues. The conference program consists of presentations selected from submitted paper abstracts, student papers, and proposals for panels, tutorials, and demonstrations.

Contributions may be from any disciplinary perspective – the sole criterion is research quality. Topic areas in previous conferences have included competition, antitrust, and other market issues; broadband deployment and adoption; spectrum and wireless application policy; media, old and new; intellectual property, technology, and Internet law; privacy, security, identity and trust; governance and institutions; innovation and entrepreneurship; and distributional outcomes and social goals. The deadlines for submissions is March 31, 2013.

March 31, 2013: Main conference abstracts, and proposals for panels, tutorials and demonstrations. Acceptances/rejections will be provided by May 31, 2013. Complete papers for accepted abstracts will be due to TPRC on August 15, 2013.

April 30, 2013: Student papers. The student paper competition requires submission of completed papers rather than abstracts. Acceptances/rejections will be provided by June 30, 2013.

Full Call for Papers including review criteria is available at www.tprc.org.

Volunteers Needed for Law School Outreach Program

It is time once again for the FCBA Young Lawyers Committee's annual law school outreach initiative. The goal of the initiative is to reach out to law students and introduce them to the FCBA and careers in communications law through sponsoring career panels at various law schools. We are currently looking for volunteers to speak on panels and help organize some events.

Career panels are being planned at the following law schools: American, Catholic, Colorado, Georgetown, George Mason, George Washington, Howard, Syracuse, UDC, University of Miami, and Yale. Please contact Kristine Fargotstein (Kristine.Fargotstein@fcc.gov) and Matt Pearl (Matthew.Pearl@fcc.gov) if you would like to help with this outreach effort and make 2013 another successful year for the program!

FCBA Foundation Applications for Funding of Unpaid Legal Internships

For the 20th consecutive year, the Federal Communications Bar Association (FCBA) Foundation will award stipends to law students from its Chairman Robert E. Lee Scholarship and Internship Fund. In 2013, the Foundation will award several stipends to law students employed as unpaid summer interns in positions with the FCC and other federal, state, and local government agencies with a connection to the communications industry. In addition, the Foundation will select one outstanding intern among those chosen to receive an additional stipend for the summer -- the "Max Paglin Award." Mr. Paglin was the former General Counsel and Executive Director of the FCC, and the founder of the Golden Jubilee Commission on Telecommunications, which compiled a definitive legislative history of the Communications Act.

Applicants will be selected on the basis of: (1) a demonstrated interest in the communications field, (2) having secured or having pending, an unpaid summer position (internship) for at least eight weeks in communications with a Federal, state, or local government agency with a connection to the communications industry, (3) dependence on financial assistance in order to accept the unpaid internship in a government agency; and, (4) community activities. To the extent a recipient receives unanticipated funding for the unpaid internship, the FCBA Foundation's general policy is to reduce its scholarship awards by any amount that a recipient's total funding (including all sources) for the internship would otherwise exceed $7,000.

Applications for internship stipends should be submitted to Kerry Loughney, FCBA Foundation, 1020 19th Street, NW, Suite 325, Washington, DC 20036 or kerry@fcba.org (electronic submissions are encouraged). Applications must be postmarked by March 13, 2013. Applicants may be asked to interview with members of the Foundation Board; interviews may be conducted by telephone. Please encourage eligible applicants to apply.

The application for a Lee Fund scholarship is posted in the Foundation section of the FCBA Website – http://www.fcba.org/foundation/internship_stipends.shtml.

FCBA Foundation College Scholarship Program Applications Now Available

Applications for the FCBA Foundation's 2013 College Scholarship Program, which provides financial assistance for DC high school students to attend college, are now available on the FCBA website: http://www.fcba.org/foundation/scholarship_fund.shtml. Over the past 18 years, the Foundation has helped more than 150 students from DC schools attend college. In 2012, the Foundation awarded 15 college scholarships and laptop computers to graduating seniors from eight DC public high schools.

Scholarship amounts range from several thousand dollars to potentially as much as $32,000, payable over four years. Scholarships are awarded to graduating high school seniors who demonstrate through their application and personal interview that their academic achievements, school attendance records, and service to school and community show their potential to succeed in college and make positive contributions to their communities. Preference is given to students with experience or interest in pursuing studies or a career in the communications sector, such as in engineering, computer science, information technology, journalism, media, telecommunications, or law.

The deadline to apply for 2013 scholarships is March 1, 2013. Applications must be postmarked or emailed by no later than this date.

Applications should be submitted to Kerry Loughney, FCBA Foundation, 1020 19th Street, NW, Suite 325, Washington, DC 20036 or kerry@fcba.org (electronic submissions are encouraged). The Foundation plans to conduct interviews of promising applicants over a period beginning April 17 – 21, 2013 and to notify successful applicants regarding their scholarship awards by mid-May 2013.

If you have any questions about the application, please contact the FCBA offices at 202-293-4000 or by email at kerry@fcba.org.

College Scholarship Program Call for Volunteers

The FCBA Foundation's College Scholarship Program is seeking your help in the upcoming review of scholarship applications from DC area high school students. Through its scholarship program, the FCBA Foundation provides financial assistance for local high school students to attend college. Over the past 18 years, the Foundation has helped close to 155 students from District of Columbia schools to attend college. Scholarship amounts range from several thousand dollars to as much as $32,000, payable over four years. The scholarships will be awarded to graduating high school seniors who demonstrate through their application and personal interview that their academic achievements, school attendance records, and service to school and community show their potential to succeed in college and make positive contributions to their communities. Additional credit is provided to those applicants that have demonstrated an interest in Science, Technology, Engineering, or Math (STEM) or law or journalism.

In 2012, the Foundation awarded 15 college scholarships and laptop computers to graduating seniors from eight DC public high schools.

Beginning in early March, we will make available groups of five applications to each volunteer reviewer, plus detailed instructions on how to review and grade them. Reviews will be “due” by Friday, April 5.

We then will invite the best candidates back for a personal interview to be held at NAB Headquarters between April 17-20, and we will need additional volunteers for this process. Scholarships will be announced in conjunction with the FCBA June luncheon.

Please let us know if you are willing to participate in the written evaluation and/or the personal interview process. Please email Ann Bobeck at abobeck@nab.org or Micah Caldwell at mcaldwell@itta.us. Thank you for your consideration.

NTIA to Volunteer at Martha's Table on February 24

On Sunday, February 24, 2013, from 10:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m., NTIA will be preparing and distributing food at the FCBA Foundation's partner charity, Martha's Table. The FCBA has been meeting monthly to volunteer at Martha's Table for many years. Martha's Table feeds hundreds of homeless adults and children on the streets of Washington daily, through its mobile soup kitchen. Martha's Table is located in a yellow building at 2114 Fourteenth Street, NW, in the District, near the intersection of 14th and U Streets. On-street parking is available. Volunteers are asked to bring food if possible, (e.g., cold cuts, bread, peanut butter, jelly, vegetables and potatoes) because the center often runs out of donated food.

Please mark your calendars, bring your friends and children, and participate in this great volunteer effort. If you are able to volunteer on February 24, March 31, April 28, or a future date, please contact Howard Weiss at 703-812-0471, weiss@fhhlaw.com.

The FCBA volunteers on the last Sunday of every month, so mark your calendars now!

GOVERNMENT / ACADEMIC

2.13.5

FCC Public Safety & Homeland Security Bureau Internships

The Federal Communications Commission’s (FCC) Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau (PSHSB) is seeking legal interns (unpaid) for the summer of 2013 for its Policy and Licensing Division (PLD) and its Cybersecurity and Communications Reliability Division (CCRD).

PLD drafts, develops, and administers rules, regulations and policies pertaining to public safety communications such as 700 MHz and 800 MHz spectrum, 911/Enhanced 911 (including text-to-911 issues), Public Safety Answering Points (PSAPs), emergency alerting and operability and interoperability for public safety communications. In addition, the Division oversees the licensing of spectrum for public safety entities such as police and fire departments.

CCRD provides policy, legal and technical advice and drafts FCC and PSHSB-level orders, public notices, studies, analyses, and other documents on a variety of public safety and homeland security-related communications issues such as 911 reliability, cyber security, mobile phone security, network resiliency, continuity of communications during and following weather-related and other major disasters, and other related issues.

PSHSB legal interns will assist with analyses of a broad range of legal issues relating to policies, programs and regulations of the agency. The intern will perform legal research on a variety of issues and also may be required to prepare written summaries of research findings. Additionally, interns will assist in the preparation of legal memoranda and other FCC documents. The intern also may attend and participate in meetings with FCC personnel and outside parties.

PLD Opportunities: To apply for unpaid legal internship opportunities in PLD applicants must be first, second or third year law students with strong analytical, research, writing and organizational skills. Students must also be enrolled in law school at least half-time in order to apply. Applicants should send a cover letter, resume and brief writing sample to John Evanoff, Policy and Licensing Division, Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau, Federal Communications Commission at John.Evanoff@fcc.gov. Questions regarding PLD unpaid legal internship opportunities should be directed to John Evanoff at (202) 418-0848 or John.Evanoff@fcc.gov.
