

Arbitration of Oil and Gas Disputes

Jakarta, 1 September 2015

Venue

Sasono Mulyo 1, Le Meridien Hotel
Jl. Jend. Sudirman Kav. 18-20, Jakarta

Objective

Disputes are sometimes inevitable in international trade, more so in the oil and gas business which invests in large, complex, capital-intensive projects that can last for decades, in a business environment which is constantly in flux. It is therefore unsurprising that the energy sector makes up the largest segment of arbitrations administered by the ICC, comprising 18.6% of the entire ICC caseload in the year 2014.

This session will discuss this important practice area, specifically addressing ICC arbitration cases which deal with production sharing contracts, among other issues arising out of oil and gas arbitrations.

Who should attend

All local, regional and international business executives involved in international trade.
