Bylaws Amendment for Ratification. In accordance with Article IX, Section 1, of the ALTA Bylaws, the following amendments to the Bylaws have been approved by the ALTA Board of Directors for referral to the Membership for ratification.

Explanation for the Amendment:

At the 2006 Midwinter Meeting, the ALTA Board of Directors authorized the creation of a Restructuring Task Force (RSTF) to examine ALTA's current market position and to recommend changes that will create a stronger and more responsive national organization for library trustees and advocates. At the 2007 Midwinter Meeting, the RSTF delivered its final report, which was adopted by the Board. The Bylaws changes listed below cover two main areas:

Board and Committees

Currently, there are 22 members on the ALTA Board, and 15 committees. The proposed new Board will have 11 members. There will be 15 new ALTA committees organized into four committee clusters. The clusters would be formed from committees with similar charges, such as advocacy and member education. Each committee cluster will have a representative on the Board. The new Board and committee structure will better meet the changing needs of the association and will give members more opportunities to volunteer and impact ALTA.

State Representatives

The Board also recommends the development of an assembly of representatives from all 50 states. The state representatives would provide a nationwide network for the exchange of information on activities and issues related to library trusteeship and advocacy, as well as facilitate two-way communication between members and state library organizations at the state and regional level, and ALTA at the national level.

We believe that, taken together, the Bylaws changes below will allow ALTA the leadership and flexibility to develop new products for its members, ensure its future viability, enhance its national visibility, and increase its membership. We urge you to vote yes.

Anne Sterling, President, on behalf of the Board of Directors.

Started a Toastmasters Club for the Maywood Community in the Maywood Library. As an advocate and secretary of a community group, participated in the drive that was successful in the election of the 1st African American as Mayor for the Village of Maywood. Proud of being selected as 1998 State of Illinois, Trustee of the year for my service and commitment to the Library.

STATEMENT: Trustees must recognize our obligation to adapt to changes in both the political and social environment, and to consistently focus on the continuing role of Libraries in the 21st Century. We must ensure that we have a working knowledge of the issues that confront our libraries such as literacy, economics, and crime. We must grab available opportunities to partner with our elected officials and stay on top of legislative issues that are affecting our libraries; such as tax caps, and privacy issues. We must continue to position our libraries where they are an integral part of the solution to these issues, and look for opportunities to move beyond advocacy to players in the decision making process. Our Libraries must be recognized as the hub of our community. My goal is to utilize the training tools we have available to continuously educate all trustees so that they remain highly effective.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES

01. GLENN, VALERIE , Degrees and Certifications: University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, MSLS, 2000; University of Maryland, College Park, B.A., English Language and Literature, 1998. Current Position: Government Documents and Reference Librarian, The University of Alabama Libraries, 2007-present. Previous Positions: Government Documents and Reference Librarian, University of Alabama Libraries, 2007-Present; Government Documents Librarian, University of North Texas Libraries, 2001-06; Government Documents/Reference Librarian, Samford University, 2000-01. ALA Activities: Committee on Legislation: Government Information Subcommittee, 2004-Present; ACRL Law and Political Science Section: Publications Committee, 2005-07; GODORT: Legislation Committee, 2001-05; NMRT: New Writers Support Ad Hoc Committee, 2002-03; GODORT: Working Group Member, Ad Hoc Committee on Digitization of Government Information, 2001-02. Offices Held outside of ALA: Association of Southeastern Research Libraries: Steering Committee, Collaborative Federal Depository Program, 2007-Present; ALA GODORT: Chair, Bylaws and Organization Committee, 2007-Present; ALA GODORT: Chair, Government Information Technology Committee, 2006-07; ALA GODORT: Chair, Legislation Committee, 2004-05; Texas Library Association: Chair, GODORT, 2003-04. Publications: "Preserving Government and Political Information: The Web-at-Risk Project," First Monday, July 2007. Honors, Awards, Prizes, Medals, Citations: Newsbank/Readex/ALA GODORT Catharine J. Reynolds Research Grant Award (with Cathy Hartman), 2002.

STATEMENT: I am concerned about what I perceive is a growing disconnect among GODORT Members regarding certain policy initiatives. GODORT plays a valuable role in the development of ALA policy on government information issues, and we need to continue to contribute our expertise, while ensuring that we are representing our Membership. The development of tools like the GODORT discussion list and wiki can be utilized to gain feedback from Members who don't always have their voices heard. I would also like to see the reduction of GODORT meetings. Our organization is diverse, our ambitions high. However, at a time when more of us are wearing several professional 'hats' we shouldn't make our Members choose between being active in GODORT vs. other units of ALA. We have the tools to implement virtual participation, and I think it's important to re-examine our work styles and the emphasis we place on work at conference.

02. WEST, AMY, Degrees and Certifications: University of Washington, MLIS, 1999; Smith College, B.A. Philosophy, 1993. Current Position: Data Services Librarian,

University of Minnesota, 2007-present. Previous Positions: Data Services Librarian, University of Minnesota, 2007-Present. ALA Activities: GODORT: coordinator-elect, International Documents Task Force, 2007-Present; GODORT: Awards Committee, 2005-07; Committee on Legislation: Subcommittee on Privacy, 2005-06; LITA: Technology and Access Committee, 2003-06; GODORT: Legislation Committee, 2003-05; GODORT: co-chair, Government Information Technology Committee, 2002-03; GODORT: Government Information Technology Committee, 2000-01. Offices Held outside of ALA: Minnesota Library Association: Chair, GODORT, 2007-Present. Publications: Author, "Coming Soon to a Location Near You," Government Information Quarterly (Elsevier, Inc.), 2008; Chapter Author, "The Impact of Technology on Managing Access to Electronic Government Information in Libraries," Managing Electronic Government Information in Libraries: Issues and Practices (ALA Editions), 2008; Editor/Contributor, "Tech Watch," DttP: A Quarterly Journal of Government Information Practice and Perspective (GODORT), 2007-present; Author, "Decisions, Decisions, Decisions: Standards for Evaluating International Statistics Resources," Journal of Government Information (Pergamon Press), 2002. Accomplishments: I worked on the National Historical Geographic Information System (NHGIS) from 2004-2006. NHGIS makes available U.S. Census statistics from 1790-present available for free on the web. I managed the metadata creation. I consider this my primary accomplishment so far because NHGIS embodies the principle of "documents to the people" by significantly expanding access to key government information and it extended the boundaries of library work at the University of Minnesota. Additional accomplishments include creating a nationally recognized website for the University of Minnesota Government Publications Library and moderating GOVDOC-L since 2001.

STATEMENT: I've been a member of GODORT for nearly ten years, I've enjoyed it and am pleased with GODORT's efforts towards strategic planning, especially the development of the membership survey. I'd like to continue the trend towards using technology to assist in our activities during and between conferences and to help manage implementation of any necessary changes identified in the survey.

03. BRAZEE, KATHRYN L, Current Position: Senior Librarian, U.S. Government Printing Office, 2007-present. ALA Activities: ALA GODORT: Secretary, Federal Documents Task Force, 2001-02; ALA GODORT: Member, Membership Committee, 1999-2001.

STATEMENT: As ALA GODORT is a professional association of importance and influence for government documents library personnel, I will provide reliable and accurate service as Secretary to the Round Table.

04. PAYNE, YADIRA V., Current Position: Interim Government Documents Librarian, Augusta State University, 2007-present. Offices Held outside of ALA: Georgia Library Association: Secretary - Current (2008), Government Documents Interest Group.

STATEMENT: Professionally, I am concerned with providing the most access to information in the simplest manner possible. As Gov Docs Librarian I wish to educate the public on the accessibility of information that the government provides. Cultural Diversity is a major interest of mine, as such my goal in everything I do is to think globally but act locally. Assisting patrons from all cultures and educational levels affords me the opportunity to think outside of the box in order to create educational and informational programs which are better suited to our growing patronage.

05. CLARK, KIRSTEN, Current Position: Gov't Information & Regional Depository Librarian, University of Minnesota, 2007-present. ALA Activities: GODORT: Secretary, Steering Committee, 2006-07; GODORT: Cataloging Committee, 2001-05; GODORT: Ad Hoc Committee on Digitization of Government Information, 2001-02. Offices Held outside of ALA: Minnesota Library Association: Vice Chair/Chair, MLA GODORT, 2007-Present; ALA GODORT: Secretary, Steering Committee, 2006-07; New Mexico Library Association: Vice Chair/Chair, NM ACRL, 2005-06; Mountain Plains Library Association: Chair, Government Documents Section, 2004-06; ALA GODORT: Cataloging Committee, 2001-05; Minnesota Library Association: Vice Chair/Chair, MLA GODORT, 1999-2001.

STATEMENT: With my new job as a regional librarian, I see many selectives holding several job hats with government information sometimes being at the bottom of the stack. Less time doesn't negate the importance of government documents, but rather places greater need on time-saving measures. Cooperation across libraries is a key to this time-saving and the Federal Documents Task Force is a prime place to work on developing ways for librarians to use their allotted "documents time" to the best advantage. Several projects, such as the GODORT wiki, have started us on this path but it is time to expand and grow using new technologies to make us the best and most useful organization possible.

In the 1970s and 1980s, I held various offices including Secretary and conference committee chairs in New Jersey Library Association, and in New York Technical Services Librarians, and co-founded the Preservation Section of ALA. For 20 years I taught an annual seminar on U.N. and other international document for an international audience, and led a like seminar as an ALA Pre-Conference at the World Bank in the summer of 2007.

STATEMENT: Documents librarians in the first decade of the 21st Century form a strong community where we support each other with information and resources across state and national boundaries, and across oceans and continents. Historical and current documents on human rights, children's issues, economic and poverty data, concerns about women, technology and the environment - and above all the will of both individuals and nations to make things better - all of that is the substance of our work. My special focus as a documents librarian today is to take an active role in making all formats - paper sitting on local shelves, and those born digital which live on servers dotted around the world, known and readily accessible to scholars, students, and the general public. Documents are a vital resource, and we in the documents community, in groups such as IDTF and GODORT more generally, together can offer much.

STATEMENT: I am very concerned with the issues of equitable access to information whether it be in tangible or electronic format. This is of paramount importance in regards to state and local government information. The lack of material being archived and the vast differences in the type and amount of information available at these lower levels of government are two major issues of concern for me.

STATEMENT: I am interested in the availability of taxpayer funded and government produced information, since I think it's availability is vital to the functioning of democracy. I also think that the complete digitization of such information is not the answer, since we are a long way from filling all the technological gaps that remain barriers to access. I am interested in how academic, special and public libraries can work together to try to ensure that such information remain available and that bridges can be built whenever possible.

STATEMENT: Over the past few years, GODORT leaders have made difficult decisions in order to put the round table on more solid financial footing. We have learned to say "no" when the budget won't support an expenditure. More important, dedicated individuals have made our publications timely and relevant, leading to sales and advertising revenue. The future looks rosier when GODORT publications are produced in a timely way for a willing market. In associations like ours, publications play an important role in generating income. If elected, I will work with others to ensure that we encourage the creation and sale of quality publications which benefit the round table.
