In order to increase your energy savings, it's important that you:

- Resist the urge to override the programmed settings. Every time you do, you use more energy and may end up paying more on your energy bill.
- Set the "hold" button at a constant energy-saving temperature when going away for the weekend or on vacation.
- Install your thermostat on an interior wall, away from heating or cooling vents, appliances, lighting, doorways, skylights, windows and areas that receive direct sunlight or drafts.
- If your home has multiple heating or cooling zones, use a Wi-Fi Enabled Thermostat for each zone to maximize comfort and savings. More sophisticated models may be programmed to run the circulating fan for a brief 5-10 minute period in the event a heating or cooling cycle has not taken place during the previous hour. This is particularly useful in homes subject to stratification where, without frequent air circulation, hot air rises and separates from the cooler air that falls.
