Reading Log Instructions

It is time to change things up a bit!! With this new Reading Log, you will be recording your MINUTES read along with your pages read. Your requirement now is to read at least 20 MINUTES per day.

Each box below represents 20 MINUTES of independent reading per day and is worth 2 points. This is 20 consecutive minutes!!! Even though this is the requirement, you are encouraged to read more than 20 minutes each day to improve your reading skills and ability. Time spent reading during Reading class will not count unless I indicate this to you. Not always do we have 20 consecutive minutes to read.

All types of reading material are acceptable as long as it is appropriate for school. Materials read for Reading class will not be accepted as independent reading material, such as the textbook. However, any self-selected books read for projects, whether for this class or another class, will be accepted.

Boxes can be completed during study halls at the discretion of the study hall teacher. Check with your teacher before you start reading. Not all study halls have 20 consecutive minutes to read due to Study Island and Study Skills. Your study hall teacher needs to initial next to the log if you choose to read during study hall.

Remember, the summary need not be long but must be a complete thought AND written legibly. I cannot give you points if I cannot read what you wrote.

EXTRA CREDIT is offered each week. In order to earn the extra credit, you will be reading an extra day, filling out the daily log provided, AND obtaining a parent/adult signature.

Extra Credit will not be given to any Reading logs that are incomplete or turned in late!!

Your Reading Log will be worth 12 points in the project section of your grade.
