IS SPONSORING A PANAMA REVERSE TRADE MISSION ON AIRPORT AND AIR TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT TECHNOLOGIES

INDUSTRY ROUNDTABLE

U.S. TRADE AND DEVELOPMENT AGENCY HEADQUARTERS | SUITE 1500 | 1000 WILSON BLVD, ARLINGTON, VA 22209

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 2014

Panama seeks to capitalize on its geographic location by becoming a regional aviation transportation hub, linking air transport between Central America, the Caribbean and South America. Panama's Tocumen International Airport is the largest and most active airport in Central America by passenger traffic volume and is the only airport in Central America that operates with two runways. The country has seven other airports that are important to the country's transportation infrastructure. Panama is interested in working with U.S. aviation experts and utilizing U.S. aviation technologies.

The Industry Roundtable is designed to introduce U.S. companies to procurement opportunities in Panama's aviation sector. The Industry Roundtable also will include presentations from USTDA and other U.S. government officials who are responsible for promoting U.S. private sector participation in Panama's aviation sector.

The Panama delegation will consist of senior representatives from Tocumen International Airport and the Civil Aviation Authority of Panama, senior air traffic control officials from Panama, and a U.S. Embassy representative from Panama. The Panama delegation will discuss in detail their future plans for airport infrastructure development, air traffic control modernization and future security equipment plans.
