CONNECTING • INSPIRING • TRANSFORMING

Welcome

The Louisiana Library Association invites you to attend the 2016 Annual Conference, March 8-10 at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Baton Rouge. We hope you will join us for an exciting lineup of sessions on all types of topics to enhance your knowledge in the library field, including three Pre-Conference Sessions on Tuesday, over 100 sessions on Wednesday and Thursday, and meal events with keynote speakers Shalanda Stanley, Ashley Weaver and Dr. Tai Istre. We'll also be honoring individuals who have shown distinguished service and dedication to libraries at our annual awards ceremony on Wednesday afternoon. The LLA Conference is a great time to learn, celebrate the profession, and network with your colleagues. We look forward to seeing you in Baton Rouge!

National Trends and the Impact on Library Planning, Decision Making and Resource Allocation

11:00 am - 11:50 am

Cypress II

Sponsor(s): Academic

A speech by the Louisiana

Commissioner of Higher Education, Joseph C. Rallo. Issues he will consider: Competency-based education, e-books, and MOOCs are here to stay, and university libraries must adjust to accommodate their presence.

For Louisiana, the need to bring less-credentialed adults back to the academic environment to prepare them for the jobs coming to the state is an additional challenge for libraries historically focused on research and the traditional student. Can the neighborhood library compete with the spectrum of services offered by Google, Amazon and others? What skills will the "new" librarian need to navigate these trends?

Speaker(s): Joseph C. Rallo, Board of Regents

Reflecting the World Around Us: Collecting Diverse Materials for Children and Teens

10:00 am - 10:50 am

Riverboat

Sponsor(s): Public, Diversity IG

Diversity in youth literature is not a new topic for librarians, but it is still an important one. However, with constraints on the amount of time school and youth librarians may have for collection development, seeking out these crucial titles may fall by the wayside. Luckily, there is now a large variety of resources to assist librarians in selecting titles that feature characters of diverse racial backgrounds, gender identities, sexualities, and abilities.
