Garden & Weeks Hall
10-12 and 16-18 Princes Gardens
London SW7 1NE

Dear GW resident,

The Wardening team would like to congratulate you for joining Imperial College and welcome you to one of the friendliest, social and supportive Halls in the college. This letter introduces Garden & Weeks (GW) hall and the Wardening team and gives important information for your arrival.

GW Hall is run by a Wardening team of four: the warden is Dr João Cabral (Senior lecturer in Chemical Engineering), the assistant warden is Dr Martyn McLachlan (Research Fellow, Materials) and the sub-wardens Elly Jay (PhD student in Materials) and Marco Visentini Scarzanella (PhD student in Computing) and The hall supervisor is Vladimir Jarina who looks after all facilities. In addition, GW has nine Hall Seniors (second year residents) and a student-elected Hall Committee.

The Wardening team looks after your welfare, organises a busy programme of events, and makes sure everyone respects the (very reasonable) GW rules. You will get to know us well and should feel free to contact us about any concerns or problems, or just to have a chat. A member of the team is available every night from 7pm to 7am during the week and 24hrs during the weekend. We can be contacted by email at 'Garden and Weeks Hall Wardens' gw-wardens@imperial.ac.uk or by telephone on +44 (0)7740 918619 (the 'duty mobile'), or 40901 from an Imperial phone.

GW houses 145 fresher students in two unique (grade II listed) buildings in South Kensington (SK), minutes from Imperial SK campus and next door to the Sports Centre. Weeks (64 students) is a building from the late 50's while Garden (81 students) is a row of Victorian houses from the 1850's. GW hall has single, double and triple rooms, and seven common rooms, sitting and study areas (equipped with flat screen TVs, two pianos, pool and table tennis), a computer room, even a student run café-bar "Bonkies" and a large back garden. GW has shared kitchens, with lockable cupboard and fridge space, and coin-operated laundries in the basement. Each resident has a telephone extension and internet connection to Imperial's network. Check our website for more information: www.union.ic.ac.uk/halls/gardenweeks (and Facebook link).

We have planned a fantastic fresher's week to welcome you to GW hall. Please arrive no later than 3pm on Saturday, October 2nd 2010. You should be aware that parking outside the hall is very limited, and closely patrolled by Westminster Council! As such, you will only be able to park your car to unload (up to 15 min). You will however be issued a parking voucher for 2 hrs and there are also paid parking facilities in the area. Do note that, due to roadworks in the South Kensington area, there may be travel disruptions, and, if you are coming by car, you are advised to check the Accommodation Office website at <http://www.imperial.ac.uk/accommodation> before you travel.

You will receive your keys, telephone number and internet setup instructions upon arrival. You may want to bring your own bedding and cooking set or, alternatively (if you come from far away), you can purchase a set prior to your arrival. Please remember that you will only have a limited amount of storage space in your room, so don't bring too much stuff.

GW organises a plethora of events throughout the year from formal dinners, boat parties, paintball, table tennis/table football competitions, international food nights, roller disco to beach, Halloween and pyjama parties – and that's just for starters. We also have very successful hall sports teams, playing football and basketball. Each Sunday, the GW team organise a free breakfast from 11 am and DVD nights (with popcorn and ice cream). More details will be published on the GW hall website. The schedule for GW Fresher's week 2010-2011 is outlined below:
