AHVLA will not permit any unwarranted breach of confidentiality or act in contravention of their obligations under the Data Protection Act 1998.

Documents attached to this application

- Site plan (the animal area, biosecurity points and extent of site to be licensed)
- Contingency Plan

Notes for Information (these do not form part of the licence conditions)

- It is an offence to hold an animal gathering for the purpose of sale, including show or exhibition (if any), or for onward consignment within Great Britain without a licence issued by a Veterinary Inspector.
- It is a requirement of the Welfare of Animals at Markets Order 1990 (as amended) that 'no person shall permit an unfit animal to be exposed for sale in a market'. The definition of 'unfit' includes 'diseased'.
- All words and phrases used in the licence shall bear the meaning they bear in the Animal Health Act 1981 and the Animal Gatherings Order 2010 unless otherwise defined or the context otherwise requires.
- Failure to comply with the conditions of the licence is an offence under the Animal Health Act 1981 and the Animal Gatherings Order 2010 and may render a person liable to prosecution and heavy penalties on conviction.
- In addition, breaches of the provisions of the licence or the Animal Gatherings Order 2010 may lead to this licence being suspended, made subject to additional conditions or being revoked without further notice.

Failure to observe the measures required in this licence is an offence under Section 73 of the Animal Health Act 1981. The penalty on conviction of an offence under this section is a maximum of six months imprisonment and/or a £5,000 fine.

The Animal Health and Veterinary Laboratories Agency is an Executive Agency of the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs working across Great Britain on behalf of Defra, the Scottish Government and Welsh Government
