NOW AND FOREVER

In last week's column I made sure to call special attention to the work of the Art & Environment Committee which so creatively and beautifully again this year made Holy Name Cathedral look spectacular during the Christmas season which too quickly ends after this Epiphany Day. Donna Cizsewski is the chair of that most hard working group. Her two dependable partners always are Ron Birch and Darren Milanowicz along with the help of others over the years including Diane Nockels, her son Michael Fuchs, and those noted here last weekend. When I arrived at the Cathedral early in 2002, there was a professional decorator and her family/company that were responsible for the Christmas, Lent, Holy Week, and Easter decorations at Holy Name and other parishes who hired her. She did pretty work which was timely; a complaint, however, was voiced by interested parishioners whose volunteer assist was resisted by her in order to expedite the professional group's multi-church timetable. The liturgy director who arrived with me was Father Ron Kunkel. He brought the volunteers' problem to me, and we considered how to approach our hired friends. It was not necessary. The paid company sensed our uneasiness with the exclusion of parishioners and voluntarily resigned their relationship with Holy Name Cathedral after Holy Week, 2003. Mary Jane Rouchka had been the most energetic A & E volunteer and accepted the organizing responsibilities of the first completely volunteer committee – pricing flowers, buying flowers and other decorations, scheduling the long nights that made each liturgical day look as it should, and recruiting other helpers. I was nervous before Christmas, 2003; but I had no need to be nervous. Cardinal George expressed his opinion that the Cathedral that season never looked better. The following Christmas, new chair Donna Cizsewski took over the duties with Pat Still and Ron Birch; they enlisted Darren Milanowicz. Pat eventually became a full-time staff member in charge of special events and liturgies; but she continued to work with A & E until her sad death just before Holy Week in 2011. Meanwhile, Donna, Darren, and Ron remain the core. They appreciate the hard work of the maintenance crew. And I appreciate them. In cooperation with many others, they have never given us a problem as they have contributed so much to the liturgy at our most beautiful Cathedral under the liturgical leadership of Father Ron Kunkel, Father Paul Stein, Father Matthew Compton, and now Father Brad Zamora. Again, in the name of all of us and in the Holy Name of Jesus, I thank Holy Name Cathedral's expert, dedicated, proud, and superlative Art & Environment Committee. They make us look good.

Jeremiah Kinsella died on January 6, 1875 – 140 years ago this Wednesday, over ten months before the building we pray in today was opened. Father Kinsella was the founding pastor of Holy Name Parish. Kinsella followed Chicago's first bishop William Quarter, from New York City and arrived here on May 29, 1844; he was ordained a priest by Bishop Quarter 39 days later. On November 29, 1844, Father Kinsella was appointed as the first President of the University of St. Mary of the Lake, a Catholic school of higher education chartered on December 19 – three weeks after Kinsella's appointment, just five months after his ordination. The University building would be erected on the block bounded by Chicago, Cass/Wabash, Superior, and Wolcott/State – the same block on which Holy Name Cathedral stands today. The property previously belonged to Chicago's first Mayor, William Ogden. Anxious to attract settlers, the Protestant Mayor donated half the land to the Catholic Church. The University of St. Mary of the Lake was the first institution of higher learning chartered in Illinois. Building began in the fall of 1845. The building was constructed on the south half of the block, facing about 100 feet off Superior. Three stories erected on a brick basement, the University was built with spacious lawns dotted with oaks, lindens, and elms. It cost a whopping $12,000 to build. Classrooms were on the first floor; the second floor was divided between the library and living quarters for Father Kinsella and the professors. The third floor was the student dormitory. In the center of the first floor was the Chapel of the Holy Name. The scattered immigrants who populated the land north of the Chicago River in the 1840s were mostly German and Irish. The Germans had St. Joseph Church constructed on the northeast corner of Wabash and Chicago. Mass was in Latin. However, sermons and confessions were in German. The Irish came to the Chapel of the Holy Name at the University. Father Kinsella recognized their need. A free standing, small Church was built on the southwest corner of the University's grounds. Holy Name became a parish on November 18, 1849. Officially, Kinsella is listed as pastor from 1849-1851. Still, the administration of the parish/University remained intertwined in the same clerical hands. With Bishop Quarter's death, the administration never was close to the second Bishop, James O. Van de Velde, a Belgian Jesuit from St. Louis. They did agree that Holy Name needed a new Church. On August 3, 1853, a cornerstone laid by the Bishop at the southeast corner of State and Superior, across the street from where we pray today. That Church, built of brick, rose slowly. The roof was long delayed. Bishop Van de Velde, never comfortable in Chicago, finally got the Pope to appoint him to Natchez, Mississippi. His successor, Bishop Anthony O'Regan, an immigrant also from the St. Louis seminary, immediately was at odds with the administration of the University and of Holy Name. Some of the tussle was financial. Some was over the bishop's offer to Father Arnold Damen and Jesuits to take over Holy Name. When Damen decided instead to build Holy Family Church on the West Side, Bishop O'Regan unsuccessfully tried to lure the Holy Cross Fathers from South Bend. A new Holy Name Church opened on Christmas Day, 1854. The entire administration – Fathers Kinsella, Howry, Breen, and Hoey – resigned from parish and University the next month. Parishioners met (1) to express confidence in the priests; (2) to pledge themselves to completing the new Church if the priests were returned; (3) to express their respect to Church and bishop; and (4) to appoint a committee to draft their grievances to be forwarded to Rome. An internet search traces a Father Kinsella to St. Raymond Church in the Bronx, then to Immaculate Conception in Westchester County. I think that's our friend. On Wednesday, pray for Father Kinsella, our founder. It does not seem that he would share our warmth for our parish. He never realized that he had founded what would be recognized in the 21st century as one of America's great Cathedrals and the premier major seminary in the USA which operates in Mundelein, Illinois, under the original charter as the University of St. Mary of the Lake. Father Kinsella was our founder. God bless him. He was one of us.

Thursday, January 7, will be my 14th anniversary at our parish. I have been and remain proud and happy to be the pastor of the great Holy Name Cathedral, the most beautiful Church in Chicago, the place where Chicago goes to pray. For all that has been, thanks be to God. For all that will be, blessed be the Holy Name of the Lord – now and forever.

Career Expert & Coach Anita Jenke Inaugurates 2016!

Networking: An Essential Tool for Career and Life!

Networking is recognized as essential to job search success. Yet, it is one of the least understood (and most feared) of all the parts of search and ongoing career management. This session will help participants grasp networking as a "learnable skill" and key to career opportunity and connection. They will develop a values statement (elevator pitch) and learn how to broaden their networks and to utilize them for job search and career transition.

Anita Jenke is the Executive Director of the Career Transitions Center of Chicago, a volunteer-driven, not-for-profit organization which provides professional assistance to individuals in or considering employment transition. Don't miss this opportunity to start your year right with expert advice on how to better your career and your life.

Please join us on January 14; we always welcome new attendees. Refreshments will be available. Bring a friend or two---along with your enthusiasm and commitment to improve.

Young Adult Pilgrimage to Italy November 10-22, 2016

A pilgrimage helps us to grow in our relationship with Christ, and encounter Him in nature, art and history. A pilgrimage helps us to center our lives, again, on and in Christ. This special pilgrimage to Italy will afford those who come on this journey to encounter Christ in each other as young adult Catholics (ages 18-45), but also in the many places of our Christian heritage. Through the treasures of the Vatican, the architecture of the churches and basilicas, and the celebration of our faith, together we will reflect on the gift of God's mercy in our lives. Our pilgrimage will take us to Italy for the close of The Jubilee Year of Mercy. What better way to experience the continued blessings of God in our lives, than journeying to "our home" and praying and celebrating with Pope Francis.

Those who are interested in joining us for this pilgrimage are invited to an informational meeting Monday, January 25 at 6:30 pm in the Parish Rectory. Join us to hear more details about the pilgrimage, lodgings, and registration. If you have any questions, please contact Jennifer Delvaux at (312) 787-8040 or jdelvaux@holynamcathedral.org.

"Why is the Message of the Gospel Joyful?"

Sponsored by the Faith Formation Commission

Trust in your gifts.

The story of the Magi — the wise men — as recorded in the Gospel of Matthew makes several facts very clear. We often focus on the gifts that were brought as examples of stewardship, and, in truth, this story was certainly one of the inspirations for the giving that occurs at Christmas.

However, as is often the case, there is a deeper and more meaningful message found here. When they found the child Jesus, they opened their treasures and they gave “Him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh.” They did not present the gifts to His parents; they presented them directly to Him. The baby Jesus had no real need for these gifts, and we assume that Mary and Joseph used them in Christ’s behalf, to support Him.

That is what we do when we give to the Church. Although our gifts need to be viewed by us as gifts to God, we also must have a trust, which includes the understanding that those who will use the gifts will use them wisely and justly. The Magi trusted that their gifts would be used in a way that was beneficial. We need to have that same kind of trust. Most of all, we need to understand the importance of giving, of being good stewards. www.thecatholicsteward.com

Fr. Gus is the first Black priest in the United States and the first Black priest in the Archdiocese of Chicago. His cause for beatification is in process. Our parish group meets monthly to pray for his cause and to continue activities that reflect his spirit. As we are studying his life, we are inspired by his compassion, patience and lack of revenge.

Our next meeting is Sunday, January 17th at 12:00pm in the rectory.

Everyone no matter age, race, gender or ethnicity is welcome.

LOOK WHAT YOU DID!

Today we recall that the Magi brought gifts to the newborn Lord. In these past few weeks, you have also brought gifts to the Lord in your gifts to people in need. The generous spirit of Holy Name Cathedral parishioners made this winter a little warmer and Christmas a bit kinder.

1. For our annual Christmas in October, we appealed for $10 gifts cards to give to our Thursday and Friday Supper guests. We needed 250, and you donated 300+.
2. For our annual Christmas in November, we appealed for gloves for the guests who attend our Suppers. We needed 250, you donated over 450! (The extras were shared with Catholic Charities and St. Malachy Grade School). In addition to gloves, our busy hands of Act 2 members knitted 275 hats. A senior citizen in Indiana with family ties to Holy Name has made a year round project of crocheting for our guests. Thank you, Act 2 and Clarissa!
3. Each week in the bulletin there are appeals for cash donations and dessert bakers to support our year round effort to feed 210 people each Thursday and Friday evening. As always, our parishioners and visitors responded generously.

Thank you for giving the Lord Jesus the birthday gifts He has always wanted: His people practicing Matthew 25.

Do You Like to Bake?

February Bakers Needed

On Thursday evenings, our parish provides meals for the local hungry at Catholic Charities. 130 guests are served a warm meal provided by a local restaurant or purchased through Jewel Food Store. To add a homemade touch to the night, homemade desserts are also served. Would you be willing to bake for our guests in February?

We need 130 large cookies (4 inches) or 260 smaller cookies or cupcakes or banana loaves or whatever is your favorite to bake. If you or your family or your circle of friends are in the baking spirit, please call Fr. John Boivin at 312-787-8040 to schedule a date.

The Holy Door of Mercy

What must one do in order to receive the special Plenary Indulgence in the Year of Mercy?

In order to gain this special Indulgence, a Catholic is required to partake of the Sacrament of Reconciliation, receive the Eucharist at Mass, make a profession of faith and offer prayers for the intentions of the Pope each time one visits, in the course of a pilgrimage, Holy Name Cathedral, and there walks through the Holy Door of Mercy, and makes a visit.

Furthermore, the Jubilee Indulgence can also be obtained for the deceased. We are bound to them by the witness of faith and charity that they have left us. Thus, as we remember them in the Eucharistic celebration, thus we can, in the great mystery of the Communion of Saints, pray for them, that the merciful Face of the Father free them of every remnant of fault and strongly embrace them in the unending beatitude.

The Church's teaching about indulgences assumes that sins which have been forgiven can nevertheless still carry consequences, such as inordinate attachments to created things, damaged relationships, and various destructive effects. These consequences stand in need of purification. Indulgences, which invoke the treasury of grace entrusted to the Church, represent a means of purification. By obtaining indulgences, the faithful address the need for their own purification as well as that of those who have passed over to the Lord in death.

Having experienced the bountiful mercy of God in our lives, we are called—as Pope Francis insistently tells us—to be the instruments and hands of God's mercy in the world, especially through the spiritual and corporal works of mercy.

The following letter was sent from the Archbishop to all priests and deacons and Msgr. Mayall wanted to share it with you

OFFICE OF THE ARCHBISHOP

ARCHDIOCESE OF CHICAGO

ARCHBISHOP QUIGLEY CENTER
835 NORTH RUSH STREET • CHICAGO, IL 60611-2030

December 16
Jubilee of Mercy

Dear Priests and Deacons:

My Christmas card this year was chosen to highlight that the Holy Family shared so much in common with refugee families throughout the world. That connection is brought home to us once again, as the Feast of Epiphany marks the beginning of the celebration in the United States of National Migration Week, January 3-10, 2016. For the 30th anniversary of this celebration, Pope Francis has chosen the theme “Migrants and Refugees Challenge Us: The Response of the Gospel of Mercy.”

As he notes in the letter he issued for this year’s celebration, all migrants are “our brothers and sisters in search of a better life, far away from poverty, hunger, exploitation and the unjust distribution of the planet’s resources, which are meant to be equitably shared by all.” They are seeking the same thing everyone seeks, he writes, “a better, more decent and prosperous life to share with our loved ones... indifference and silence lead to complicity whenever we stand by as people are dying of suffocation, starvation, violence and shipwreck.”

“Today, more than in the past,” Pope Francis observes, “the Gospel of mercy troubles our consciences, prevents us from taking the suffering of others for granted, and points out a way of responding” with practical works of spiritual and corporal mercy.

During National Migration Week, Catholics are called to participate through prayer and action to try and ease the struggles of immigrants and to reflect on the Church’s obligation to welcome the stranger.

Throughout the month of January, I encourage you to use these related resources provided by the Archdiocesan Office for Immigrant Affairs, the Priests for Justice for Immigrants, and the USCCB Justice for Immigrants Office.

The following resources are available at National Migration Week 2016 or www.catholicsandimmigrants.org.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS PAST (& PRESENT)

JUST FOR TODAY...I will live through this day only. I will not brood about yesterday or obsess about tomorrow. I will not set far-reaching goals or try to overcome all of my problems at once. I know that I can do something for 24 hours that would overwhelm me if I had to keep it up for a lifetime.

JUST FOR TODAY...I will be happy. I will not dwell on thoughts that depress me. If my mind fills with clouds I will chase them away and fill it with sunshine.

JUST FOR TODAY...I will accept what is. I will face reality. I will correct those things that I can correct & accept those I cannot.

JUST FOR TODAY...I will improve my mind. I will read something that requires effort, thought & concentration. I will not be a mental loafer.

JUST FOR TODAY...I will make a conscious effort to be agreeable. I will be kind & courteous to those who cross my path, and I'll not speak ill of others. I will improve my appearance, speak softly, & not interrupt when someone else is talking.

JUST FOR TODAY...I will refrain from improving anybody but myself.

JUST FOR TODAY...I will do something positive to improve my health. If I'm a smoker, I'll quit. If I am overweight, I will eat healthfully – if only just for today. And not only that, I will get off the couch & take a brisk walk, even if it's only around the block.

JUST FOR TODAY...I will gather the courage to do what is right & take responsibility for my own actions.

Answering Atheism: How to Make the Case for God with Logic and Charity by Trent Horn

Today's popular champions of atheism are often called New Atheists. But there's nothing really "new" about their arguments. They're the same basic objections to God that mankind has wrestled with for centuries.

In Answering Atheism, Trent Horn responds to that need with a fresh resource for the God debate, based on reason, common sense, and more importantly, a charitable approach that respects atheists' sincerity and good will, making this book suitable not just for believers but for skeptics and seekers too.

About the Club:

The HNC Young Adult Book Club will meet (more or less) every 4th Thursday of each month. BYOB and pot-luck snacks to share. Enter the Rectory through the entrance on Wabash Ave. Free parking in the HNC lot, which is accessible off Superior between Dearborn & State. All ages welcome.

LOOKING IN THE RIGHT PLACES

“Appearances can be deceiving,” as the saying goes. As we celebrate the epiphania, the “appearing” of the eternal Word of God on earth, this is still true.

What rapturous foresight must have filled Isaiah as he wrote the words we hear today. How, for four hundred years, they must have filled the hearts of the people of Israel with hope for the day when God’s glory would shine on them. How deceived some must have felt when the glory of God came to them in the lowliest and humblest of human lives.

We have many expectations about how the divine presence will appear among us. But we can also set ourselves up, through the expectations, to miss the divine glory when it truly appears. We get caught up in looking for the star, forgetting that the star is not the divine sign, the babe is. It may take a persistent journey for us to come upon the true appearance of God’s glory in our lives: Jesus Christ.
