

Humanities I Honors Summer Reading Assignment Contract

By signing this contract, I _____, acknowledge that there will be summer work required to take Humanities I Honors for the 2015-2016 academic school year. I am aware that I will begin the year with a failing grade for 1st quarter if I do not complete these assignments.

I have been made aware of the assignments and know that I must complete the following (please initial each part of the assignment after the information has been presented to you):

1. Read and annotate BOTH books. I'll just be looking for basic annotations for The Absolutely True Diary of a Part Time Indian (three annotations per chapter), but more in depth annotations for The Devil in the White City (see packet). Annotations will be checked in on Friday, August 14th in class for Part-Time Indian and should be turned in via email for Devil in the White City no later than Friday, August 7th.

4. Create a creative project for one of the books. It is up to you whether you complete the project for The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian or The Devil in the White City. Be prepared to present and discuss your project in class. Your project will be due on Monday, August 17th. You must present this project in front of the class to receive credit.
(Initial here) _____
5. Write a 3-5 page essay following the essay prompt on The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian which will be due on Friday, August 14th.
(Initial here) _____

Please know that these assignments are not meant to intimidate you. We will be using these assignments as a foundation for other units and assignments throughout the year. Your completion and understanding of these assignments are essential to your success in this course.

As stated in the assignment packet, I will be available to answer your questions over the summer in person and/or via email if needed. Please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions and concerns.
