

INSTRUCTIONS

PURPOSE: The primary purpose of the Professional/Administrative evaluation system is to record a formal evaluation of how well a staff member has performed his/her duties. Important subsidiary purposes are:

- 1) To provide for regular discussions about individual performance and improvement thereof.
- 2) To provide formal recognition for a job well done.
- 3) To provide information useful in making decisions concerning salary adjustments.

FREQUENCY: Evaluations are to be completed annually. A department head may initiate an evaluation at any time one is deemed appropriate. An evaluation may also be performed at reasonable intervals upon a staff member's request.

METHOD: Each evaluation includes an interview, which involves a candid discussion of the strengths and weaknesses of the individual being evaluated, which culminates in completion of the evaluation form. The person being evaluated is given full opportunity to provide additional insight into his/her performance as he/she perceives it. It is also recommended that the employee's job description be reviewed and updated at this time.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR EVALUATION: The evaluation of each Professional/Administrative staff member is completed by the person to whom the staff member reports, as reflected on the approved organizational chart of the area. Evaluations may be reviewed by administrative staff in the reporting line and by the divisional vice president.

PERFORMANCE STANDARDS: It is recognized that no two departments in the University are identical. Thus, the meaning and application of terms such as "satisfactory" and "outstanding" will vary somewhat. Similarly, the application and importance of the eleven characteristics listed on the evaluation form will vary somewhat from department to department. It is expected, however, that standards will be applied consistently in the evaluation of comparable positions within a department or an area, and that each person being evaluated will be fully informed concerning the standards to be applied and the expectations of the evaluator.

OPTIONAL APPROACHES:

a. Self-Evaluation: The person being evaluated may prepare a narrative self-evaluation in which he/she reports and evaluates information related to job performance for the period being evaluated. If a self-evaluation is written, the evaluator reviews the self-evaluation, discusses it with the staff member, appends it to the evaluation form, and forwards it as part of the evaluation record.

b. Record of Goals, Objectives, and Activities: In some instances it is appropriate to record in writing goals, objectives, and activities for the coming year. In such cases, they are recorded as part of the evaluation record. It is assumed that the next evaluation will include a review of the staff member's progress toward attainment of established goals, objectives, and activities.

DISPOSITION: Upon completion, please return the evaluation to Megan Massaro in the Office of Human Resources. A copy should be retained for both departmental records and the employee's personal records.
