

CASI Awards Scholarships New Library Dedicated

The new Big Bend Library was packed to its maximum capacity for the dedication of the new facility and graduation exercises for an all-female class of 2002. Many friends and supporters were present to help celebrate the occasion. The Reverend Judith Burgess, president of the Big Bend Education Corporation, credited various individuals and organizations that helped fund the building of the library. The guest speaker for the event was the Honorable Judge Val Beard, the first female attorney and judge in Brewster County. She delivered an inspiring speech to the graduates.

Scholarships were presented by Andrea Odom, counselor, Tom Williams, Vice-President of the TCSD Board of Trustees, Hut Brown, CASI Scholarship Chairman, and Lanetta Barnes-Tinney. The valedictorian of the Class of 2002 is Miranda Garcia. She received the CASI Valedictorian Scholarship and the Joee Barnes Memorial Scholarship. Miranda will be studying pre-med, attending Midland College for her basic coursework. Ananda Morlock is the salutatorian of her graduating class. She received a CASI/Local Business Scholarship in the amount of $1,000 and the Big Bend Telephone Company Scholarship for $1,000 for four years. Ananda will be studying communications and theatre at Sul Ross State University. Other recipients of the $1,000 CASI/Local Business Scholarships were Nichole Wells, Olivia Solis and Margarita Garcia. Natalay Jurado received a Joee Barnes Memorial Scholarship in the amount of $1,000. Nichole, Olivia, Margarita and Nataly will all be attending Midland College in the fall. They plan to have medical careers, studying sonography, nursing, EMT, and radiography. 86% of the graduating class will be attending college this fall!

CASI friends, THANK YOU! Your support of our children makes a difference. The scholarship program helps our graduates so much. November will be here soon. Please make plans to come by to visit our new library facility. We look forward to seeing you. Until then...Adios.

President's Message

The upcoming Great Peppers' Meeting is just around the corner. I know the folks in Arizona are working hard to make this year's event a great success; I hope to see many of our members attending and making their plans early.

There will be much occurring during this meeting. I'm sure someone out there wants to rewrite the rule book, now that it has been a few years since we addressed this issue. There will also be openings on the Board of Directors that will be filled during this meeting. CASI needs some good dedicated, capable, and ready to work members to replace those who have served so well for many years and are not seeking re-election. I hope there will be a good number of candidates running for the Board.

We are also looking for members who would be willing to support some of the Board members by doing some of the work required by the position on the Board. If you are willing and would like to know more about helping, please contact Johyne Harriman.

Johyne is also looking for some help during the Great Peppers' Meeting. If you think you'll have some spare time, please contact Johyne. I know she would appreciate it.

Last year during TICC, I was asked why many of the new white tables in the judging area had a gold plaque on them with the name of the Irving Elks Lodge. In the early 90's, many members were around when the Pods were asked to donate the cost of a table. Many Pods responded to the request, and a gold plate was placed on the table with the Pod's name on it. The Irving Elks Lodge has been the only one to continue to donate money for new tables, thus their name is the only one on the new white tables.

The Board is trying to replace all the old tables, which are breaking down and are very heavy to handle requiring at least two people to move them. The new white tables are more durable and lighter to handle. I know the Board would very much appreciate any donations from Pods or anyone towards the purchase of tables and chairs. The new pavilion now offers a place to gather and socialize, and new tables and chairs are needed for this area. If there are any Pods or members out there with some extra funds they would like to see go for a good cause and get their name on a new white table, please contact someone on the Board. We would appreciate the help.

I'm sure most of our members are now aware that once again the CASI Liability Insurance Policy has a liability rider. This rider can be purchased from our insurance carrier for $275 to cover a cookoff location, if needed. The decision to have or not have liability coverage for a cookoff has become a serious issue. We have been very fortunate to have had so many years of, for the most part, problem free cookoffs as far as anyone getting seriously hurt. Call it luck or whatever, someday, somewhere, something is going to happen to end that lucky streak. If and when that day comes, the cost could be devastating to those responsible if they are not covered by insurance. I believe it is time for all of us to get serious about having insurance at every cookoff for the protection of all concerned. Those members putting on cookoffs must start asking those responsible for the location if liability insurance is in force and ensure the policy will cover the cookoff. If the location does not have the coverage, then it must become part of the overall expenses of the cookoff and be purchased from the CASI carrier. The person responsible for the cookoff could be held liable for a serious accident. Are YOU willing to assume the risk? Don't think you are above being sued. Anyone can sue anyone these days and even if you are not held liable, the price of defending yourself in court could cost you a lot of money in more ways than one.

I believe the time has come to make insurance coverage for every cookoff mandatory. For the peace of mind of everyone connected with a cookoff, I am asking our members and Great Peppers to give this issue very serious thought and address this need at the upcoming Great Peppers' Meeting in September.

It seems there is always an issue of a serious nature that comes up each year, and it appears that liability insurance for cookoffs is heading the list this year.

Thanks to all of you for your support of CASI and what we do.

CASI/President

On Site

This is a very difficult article to write. Since the August On Site article will contain additional information on the upcoming Great Peppers' Meeting, I will take this opportunity to say thank you.

In two months, I will surrender the position of Executive Director of one of the best organizations in the world. It has been a great four years. Accomplishments on the part of CASI members have been many. Tears of sadness have been shed as friends and loved ones were lost, and tears of happiness have been shed as new faces came among us. Many smiles have been shared as new cooks win their first first-place points. Miles have been logged in furtherance of CASI's efforts, and I still believe CASI Can! Thank you, my friends, for making all this possible.

In two short months, your Great Peppers will elect a new Executive Director and four Board members. While the deadline for candidates to declare their intent is not until August, it is not premature to start discussions among your Pods as to whom you want to represent you. I urge you to take this election seriously. Get to know the candidates. If you have questions, call, email or visit with them in person. No one who is running for office will turn down an opportunity to talk with you, Great Pepper or not. Yes, the Great Peppers carry the vote, but the Pod members vote on the Great Peppers.

In two short months, CASI has its annual Great Peppers' Meeting. If you have not yet made your reservations to attend, please do so soon. You do not have to be a Great Pepper or an officer of your Pod to attend the meeting. One of the things I enjoy most about the Great Peppers' Meetings is the friendship. This is a once-a-year opportunity to visit with some pretty fine people, politic a little, but mostly enjoy. It's like TICC without the competition (and the dust). It's also a rules change consideration year; rules discussions are always entertaining. You will want to make time to attend the Candidates' Forum and the Rules Review session on Friday at the Great Peppers' Meeting.

In two very short months, I go back to being just another CASI cook. I can say, however, that I'll be just another cook with a wealth of memories. Over the past four years, I have gathered an abundance of information and made that information available to everyone, and I will continue to do so. My CASI promotion work is not finished. On the Board or not, I always will be available to help in whatever means possible.

Most sincerely,
Johyne Harriman

Pepperdean's Pondering

This month I'm pondering Pod finances, hoping to spark a little dialog that will help us all learn some new useful ideas. I'm going to start by sharing the way we handle finances for the Mason Dixon Pod. I invite you to send me information on what you do in your home Pods to fund your programs. Next month

I'll share your ideas, and we can all learn from one another.

My first couple of years as Great Pepper, I thought I was captain of the Financial Titanic. Our Pod had a nice balance in the bank; however, this was the residue of a very profitable cookoff held many years before. The danger came in that we were running an annual deficit, even with the Great Pepper personally subsidizing some of the expenses. I knew this couldn't last or we'd soon run out of money. Additionally, I felt the position of Great Pepper should be based on the desire to serve and the ability to lead, not the ability to pay.

I'd hear of other Pods donating large sums of money to different charities and wonder how they did that. We also had the goal of saving enough money to hire a popular band and put on a high profile cookoff. To do this, we needed to increase our bank balance rather than watch as it continued to shrink. We came up with a plan.

To start, we standardized our entry fees. We decided that entry into Pod cookoffs would be $17 unless there were more than the basic amenities. If the cookoff gave nice goodie bags, t-shirts, a party, and so on, we would charge $22. We would continue to have free entry to all first-time cooks.

As I said last month, we have gone to a number of organizations and suggested they have a cookoff. Other cookoff leads have come to us from our Internet site. When we speak to representatives of these groups, we tell them we will promote their event with the chili cooks, bring the judging supplies, and bring a head judge and referee to run the judging. We ask them to supply awards, judges, and local event promotion. They usually ask how much we charge. We explain that we do not charge for our services because we want to raise money for their charity. We tell them we will just keep the CASI entry fees to help defray our expenses. They always feel that this is a good deal.

After we send in the sanctioning fee and pay for the judging supplies, we often have a tidy sum to add to the treasury. During the past couple of years, we've been able to subsidize our delegate's trip to the Great Pepper's Meeting, offer some TICC expense money to the Maryland State champion, subsidize some nice parties at our backyard cookoffs, make some charitable donations, and still watch the balance grow little by little.

That's how we've turned the corner, financially, in Maryland. We're now saving for the 2004 Great Peppers Meeting, which we are hosting in Baltimore.

That gets us started. Now, let's hear how your Pods raise and manage money. Please send your ideas and thoughts to me at pepperdean@comcast.net or call me at 410-879-6410.

Chili Bites

June is now the month of the Folk Life Festival in San Antonio. SAP-CASI has a chili booth there, and it is our main way of raising money for our charities. It used to be in August and was way too hot for sensible people. Chili people certainly aren't sensible, and I wonder about the others who come out every day. People even come from out of town to roast in the sun.

Chillympiad had the chili booth for the first few years and just to confuse you totally, it was in September. It was cooler but it rained; not that it didn't rain in August. I have a wonderful mental picture of three or four of us holding down the canopy to keep it from blowing away.

There weren't very many of us when we started working the chili booth. You had very little time off, and you didn't have to wear a costume. Shorts were the name of the game and fun. We really did have a lot of fun in those early days. There were people dancing in the booth, and Dottie Lehman throwing crackers at me. We helped them sing on Stage 1, and we were a very appreciative audience. We laughed at anything. I know I had a bit of wine, because I was the official wine taster for the Yugoslavs. I had to do a lot of tasting to make sure which wine was the best for that year. It always took me until Sunday night to make up my mind.

Those were the days before you had to worry that someone would drink too much and have an accident on the way home and try to sue the Institute. On Sunday night after closing, they would bring all of the beer kegs from all of the booths up and we had the Policeman's Ball. Everyone would come to our area, along with people from other booths, and have a party. There is still a kazoo on top of the Institute where I tried to throw it over to the other side.

I worked very hard for many years at the Folk Life Festival, but I got tinnitus and the noise was too much for me. I think that I worked just about every job in the booth except cooking, although I have been known to add salt until caught by Tom Pike. I did the parades. I even served beer, once. I was trying to sell it cheaper than it was. If the chili bowls cost a certain amount, I couldn't see why I had to charge more for the beer. Fortunately, they found out before I gave the store away. I was used to a certain price for chili, and my mind didn't want to compute a different price for beer.

When I was Pepper Popper, I was in charge of the booth; that is always the job of the Pepper Popper. Starting that year we had co-chairmanships, and a chairman didn't have to work the whole day unless they wanted to do so. Some did. I didn't and neither did my co-chairman, George Jowers.

I am going to finish this and get back to sorting about a thousand books. I had houseguests in those days before everybody got motor homes. Norma, Elton, Patty and Randy were the most constant. I was all wound up when I got home, and Norma usually stayed up with me until I calmed down and was ready for bed. The rest conked out on us.

At one Folk Life Festival, I had to leave early to cook chili at a Cookoff, as I needed to qualify. While I was gone, Elton and Norma had a brunch for a college friend of Elton's. The friend never did understand where the homeowners were and how Elton could have a brunch when the homeowners weren't there. There were a lot of good times in those years. Pat makes a mean Bloody Mary and Elton was known to drink at least one. Me, I had Mimosas.

That it's for this month. Get those points, so you can get out of the sun. Good luck to all of you and thank goodness, Norma finally qualified. I can now rest. I have to check to see if Janie is qualified, and I can quit worrying about them. Larry is on his own this year. Chiligula did not smile on him. I think it was that Second Place that did it. I have noticed that a lot of the Terlingua winners, except Cindy Reed, have bad luck for a while. I would be perfectly happy to have a year of bad luck if Boomer would be so kind as to call my number.

The Tejas Medicineman Presents: "Chili Chants"

This month, we promised to discuss gadgets we carry with us on the Chili Trail. I would guess the simplest item is the common can opener. Most cooks just use the ordinary pointed hook on the side of the can, lift and punch a hole opener. It is the path of least resistance when dealing with tomato sauce and bouillon cans. The point also serves to help cut off the Swanson label for saving.

A tour of some dollar stores will find you a special can opener that rolls around the top of the can and smoothly removes the lid. The whole top of the can comes off and can be used for a temporary lid. This sometimes is nice for those cooks that like to use a little broth now and some later.

Cook with jalapeno peppers? What to do with the seeds? Most of the more experienced cooks just punch a few holes in the pepper and plop them in the pot. The less experienced, and those that have had a pepper burst in a pot with seeds everywhere, have used the metal tea balls. Make sure you buy the stainless ones.

There are some cooks who like to add other types of condiments or spices to their pots and do so by using little cloth tea bags tied to hold the contents. Some of the gourmet shops have snap together mesh balls made of Teflon or such. One Terlingua champion used to utilize this cooking method. People always wondered what the "secret ingredients" were in the little bag floating in the pot.

Spice grinders have caused a lot of controversy over the years. Most of the better spice and powder merchants provide our spices ground fine enough that no additional grinding is needed. Some cooks like to regrind their spices anyway, just before dumping into the pot, because it "freshens" up the flavor. Hand grinders are just not adequate. The Krupps and a couple of other electric coffee and spice grinders that are on the market do very well. However, they do tend to get dirty or gummed up if you don't do constant maintenance on them. Mamma Max Reed uses a carburetor brush or a shaving brush to keep hers clean between uses. The thing about electric grinders is the sometimes lack of plug-ins. I found the small voltage converters that plug into the cigarette lighter in the car would be just enough to get the job done.

Next month we will try to dig up some more gadgets for you. Write and tell me about your favorite Chili Trail gadget at tejasmed @ev1.net.

We got mail! Alan Dean writes concerning the contents of his Chili Case. "There are two necessities for my chili box - tequila and a good cigar. Tequila is my first ingredient. It goes in the cook, not in the pot. The cigar is for after turn-in. I send smoke to Chiligula to help my chili."

So, that's why your wife, Susan, was so happy smoking that cigar in that picture you had on your web site for so long..... she sneaked into your Chili Case!!

The Chili Frontier Part 7

When going around and talking to a lot of people about chili cookoffs, some people will ask you if you are talking about the Championship they have in Nevada. Some will mention they know there are World Championships held in Terlingua. They ask about the difference in the two and are really interested in them. I put some facts on paper regarding the differences and had it available to hand out. It's very basic, just some facts, but does serve the purpose for which it was intended. You may find it useful or may contribute to it and make it better. Many cooks today have only heard about CASI, or only heard about ICS, or only heard about Tolbert depending on when, where and how they started cooking chili. Here is what I created and use in Central Florida.

THREE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP CHILI COOKOFFS

Yes, there are three World Championship Chili Cookoffs held each year. You know boxing has three organizations that sanction boxing matches – well welcome to the Chili World, as there are also three. All three organizations are a result of the early days of the 1967 Chili Championship, when the first chili championship was held. As the number of people cooking in that championship grew over the years so did the ideas about how it should be run and operated. Needless to say there were differences of opinion and some people went one way, others went another way, and the third group went their way. Yes, there are a lot of “who started what”, “who did what” opinions among the three groups on who had the rights to what. That was 35 years ago. Things are much better in the Chili World today – even the “Hatfields and McCoys” are speaking to each other now and enjoyed a joint family reunion recently.

Now that the Chili background has been covered without getting into all the nitty gritty – let's show you all the World Championships. People qualify to cook in the respective chili organizations' “championships” as follows:

ICS – Win a State or Regional Championship or the World Semi Finals.

CASI – As a Florida resident, you need 9 points in CASI sanctioned Chili Cookoffs – 1st place receives 4 points, 2nd place 3 points, 3rd place 2 points, and 4th thru 10 place receives 1 point; or be in the top THREE Florida Residents in the Florida State Chili Championship (CASI) or in the top 3 in any Regional Championship.

TOLBERT – As a Florida resident, you need 6 points obtained in ANY Tolbert or CASI cookoff. Tolbert points are 5 points for 1st place, 4 points for 2nd place, 3 points for 3rd place, and 2 points 4th thru 10th place. However, if you WIN (first place) in any Tolbert, CASI or ICS (regardless of the level of cookoff), you qualify for their Championship.

The Sunshine POD is affiliated with CASI – CASI has organizations called “PODS”. Under the international organization, Pods (clubs) are located all over the United States. The Sunshine State Chili POD is in the Central/South part of Florida. There is another POD in Florida located up in the Panhandle, Florida on the Panhandle POD. At present, neither ICS nor Tolbert have any organizations below the national level.

ICS pays money to the top three places in Chili (and other categories also); CASI does not award prize money, nor does TOLBERT. Usually the entry fees for CASI and Tolbert Cookoffs are much less than ICS.

To cook in an ICS Cookoff, you must belong to ICS. In CASI and Tolbert Cookoffs, you do not have to belong to the organization to cook.

CASI, ICS and Tolbert Web Sites: www.chili.org. ICS is www.chilicookoff.com. Tolbert is: www.abowlofred.com

Of the three, CASI is the largest in terms of the number of cookoff held throughout the US, Canada, Mexico and other foreign counties and the number of cooks entered – followed by ICS and Tolbert.

To have a cookoff sanctioned by ICS, $350.00 must be submitted by the organization wanting to be sanctioned with the application. This is non-refundable. To be sanctioned by CASI, there is no money submitted with request for a CASI Packet. After the cookoff is complete, there is a one-time $5.00 packet fee and $2.00 per entered cook that must be submitted within 30 days.

2002 State of Maryland Championship

It was the encore of the War Between the States. Maryland chili cooks came to the 2002 Maryland State Chili Cookoff with their game faces on. There was immense determination to amend for last year's event when Virginia cooks took the top four spots and six of the top ten. Rumor had it that all prospective Maryland chili judges had been forced to complete remedial judging classes, including one called “How To Identify and Deal With Virginia Chili”.

The Commonwealth of Virginia would be well prepared. It has been reported that, fearing last year was a fluke, there was a secret CASI caucus of Virginia cooks. Jim and Monica Parker and Steve and Donna Corley would be sent to defend the honor of their homeland. Another part of the strategy was to have Dan and Janie Bauer infiltrate the judging panel.

The strategy failed. The Free State crowd had their vindication. Marylanders can cook chili with their heads again held high. Susan Dean led the charge as they captured the top five places and eight of the top ten plus Showmanship.

It was a wonderful day. The Hard Times Café College Park was a great host, and the folks who came to sample the chili were genuinely interested in CASI and cooking chili. Several spectators expressed a desire to cook in upcoming cookoffs.

All of the cooks had their booths decorated to the hilt. Chris Hullinger created a stir with his Unintentional Veggie Chili Flambe and Wahne Clarke constructed his Magic Circle. Wahne told us of the time he used self-rising flour to build the circle instead of lime. There was a brief shower and three spectators were trapped inside.

Bess's Best

As I take pen in hand and rack my brain for a topic for this month (or something worth reading), Harry and I hope all is well at your household and with you.

No, the rain hasn't stopped. In fact, we are way over what we should have in moisture with another 2 inches in about 20 minutes yesterday. But Harry and I decided to heck with it and have hit the chili trail.

Harry told me that he could understand why I couldn't find anything to write about because I talk too much! He told me that on the way home from the last cookoff, when he advised me that at the last two cookoffs I talked from the time I got there until the time we left. I don't think that was entirely correct, but you know Harry. Stop and think a minute about a Chili Cookoff.

What do you do at a cookoff? Yes, cook chili in competition, but tell me where you go to view or enter any other event that you see the opposition greet each other with a hug and a kiss upon arrival. And if a new cook is present, it's not long until he has been greeted with that same friendly hug and kiss.

Maybe I didn't stop talking at the last two cookoffs, but as I have told you before, Chili Cooks are a special group of people. They are family, and a Chili Cookoff is like a family reunion. Some of the things that Harry comes up with we don't see eye-to-eye on, but one thing I do agree with him is that cookoffs should be longer. Less time for cooking and more time for talking and reuniting friendships.

Where else but a cookoff do you give someone who forgot theirs that extra can of broth or tomato sauce that you had been holding back? Where else but a cookoff do you shed tears of joy when you have driven many a mile and spent several dollars to see some of the competition take First Place, and you just make the trash can?

Regardless if it is a 1-day cookoff or a week in Terlingua, the hard and sad part comes in packing up and saying "good by and we'll see you down the road". Many good things have come from cookoffs, but the best would be taking all the friendship back home with us and applying it to our daily lives – which we don't and that includes Harry and me. Oh, maybe some do. When was the last time you gave the clerk at WalMart a big hug and started talking to them in a down-to-earth conversation like we do at cookoffs?

Well, I've about had my time and Harry's hollering at me to get the truck loaded for Fort Smith.

Fort Smith is going to be a little different this year. One of the people that has been a long-time fixture (and many of you know him who have attended the Judge Issac Parker CCO) is going to be absent this year. Larry McKay is in Tulsa, Oklahoma, with heart problems. As I write this (June 14), Larry is having a valve replacement. I know it will be July before you read this article, but Harry and I are saying a special prayer that when I write the August column I will be able to report nothing but good and successful things about Larry.

It doesn't stop with Larry, however. Our chili family has grown to include friends from coast to coast and border to border. As I turn this over to Harry, I'll leave you with a little prayer. "Lord, treat me today as I treated others yesterday."

Hello all from beautiful Lamar, Missouri! Yes, I know I got on to Bess for talking so much. I told her I was going to have to get her out in public more often, so she would run down. But for someone who is never at a loss for words, I don't think I can top what Bess said.

Looking at the big clock on the wall, I see it's about time to head out to Fort Smith. So, keep your eyes open and the next time you see that big silver GMC pull in – with the lady doing all the talking – it will be Old Harry T and Bess.

"Thank you for your time until next time".... and "remember to start slow and then taper off."

Bess and Harry

To CASI Great Peppers and Board Members:

At the Great Pepper's Meeting in Denver in 2000, I was privileged and honored to be elected to the CASI Board of Directors. I thank you and your Pod members for the vote of confidence you expressed in electing me. I now ask for your consideration in re-electing me to the CASI Board. I want to continue on the Board of Directors because I believe I still have much to contribute. It's difficult for a Director to accomplish his or her goals of service in the first term – and I ask that you consider me for a second term.

As your Chilicity Director in 2001, I responded to over 100 e-mails requesting information relative to cookoffs, cooking chili, TICC, recipes, spices, and various other CASI-related questions. I wrote and disseminated press releases relative to the National Scholarship Program and the Great Pepper's Meeting, in addition to the pre-TICC press release forwarded to 270 newspaper, radio and television outlets across the United States. The Terlingua Passport was updated while I served as Chilicity. I also started a CASI Press Scrapbook to store articles relative to the organization.

I currently serve as your Secretary to the Board and pledge to distribute all meeting minutes well within the thirty-day mandated deadline. I recently began e-mailing the minutes to those Great Peppers who requested such. I also serve as Articles Editor for the Terlingua Trails.

While there have been instances when we may not have totally agreed on matters, I think you've found that I have been more than willing to listen to your concerns and suggestions. I have taken those issues to the Board in order that your opinions and concerns could be heard. I still feel the chili cooks' opinions are very important to the organization! For CASI to continue its growth, input must be received from each and every cook.

I will be YOUR voice...I will present YOUR thoughts and ideas...I will represent YOUR interests. I would consider it a great honor to continue serving as YOUR representative on the CASI Board and hope you will cast your Pod's vote for me at the Great Pepper's Meeting in Phoenix.

Please don't hesitate to contact me with any questions you may have.

Parker's Crossroads

The historic Parker's Crossroads Tennessee battleground was invaded by Texans this weekend at the 8th Annual Battleground CCO. Tennessee Governor, Don Sundquist, honored the event by proclaiming Saturday, June 8, 2002 as the official "Battleground Day" in Tennessee and honoring the two non-profit organizations of CASI and the Parker's Crossroads Historic Committee for contributing to the preservation of the history of the civil war battle and honoring the Union and Confederate soldiers that gave their lives in the battle. Every dollar donated by the HOT Pod event becomes $10 after matching state and federal grants. The money is used to continue to buy land that was part of the Parker's Crossroads Civil War battleground.

"In the Texas-Tennessee challenge, Texas was victorious with the most chili cooks participating in the Saturday CASI Mid-South Regional Championship cookoff, but when the final round of chili judging was completed the non-Texas cooks were favored by the judges as the cookoff winners. The CASI event was one of the largest chili cookoffs this year held outside of the original homeland of chili-Texas. The three-day event brought together chili cooks from 13 different states and saw 223 chilis judged.

AP News Release

My Fellow Great Peppers and CASI Members:

Sitting by the campfire and reminiscing with friends caused me to realize how CASI has come a long way since 1983 when I had started cooking. We have seen many changes, both good and bad. Recent correspondence has reminded me of how far CASI has progressed in becoming an organization that truly represents the cooks and not special interests, and how change is effected by parliamentary procedure, not by personal enactment.

CASI must continue to grow in administrative methods and technology as well as in membership and Pod numbers. We have begun to attract new cooks into the competitive cooking process and their views of CASI are quite different than what we have come to expect. CASI must not forget the past and the heritage and contributions of those who have gotten us where we are today, but at the same time, we must not close our minds to the future. The most damaging phrase in the English language is "It's always been done that way!"

With the thought of moving CASI into its next logical phase – increasing visibility, gaining technological expertise, and sharing the expertise with CASI Pods and members, I am running for a position on the Board of Directors. For those who don't know me, my qualifications are simple. I am a worker. My experience – Great Pepper Space City Pod 1988-1989, Area Referee, Houston Regional Referee, and most recently, Great Pepper of Piney Woods Pod and the Board of Directors - Texas Ladies State Chili Championship. My professional background is Engineering/Construction, Programmer and Statistical Analyst. My experience has allowed me to build the www.pineywoodspod.com Web site with the goal of providing information to the new cooks entering the competitive process. Through the web technology we have also published our newsletter and made available electronic payment options to our members and cooks for their memberships and cook-off entries. We have created web pages for use by the Texas Men's and Ladies State Championships, and any Pod that has requested assistance. I am currently retired and have had the good fortune to devote my hours to CASI and the Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo, where I served on a Go Texan Committee for 10 years, raising money for scholarships.

I would like the opportunity to serve as your representative on the Board of Directors. I may not have all the answers but I am always willing to listen to new ideas and communications.

I am looking forward to speaking with you at the Great Pepper's meeting in Arizona, if not personally before then. I can be reached via e-mail at shelly246@houston.rr.com or by phone at 281-357-0175 if you have any questions regarding my candidacy or qualifications.

Big Bend High School

Class of 2002

Recently, it was my very good fortune to be invited to the dedication of the new library and the annual graduation at Big Bend High School on May 24th.

When I responded that I would be there, I was informed that I would present the CASI Scholarship to the Valedictorian of the graduating class. What a thrill to be included on the program and sit up front with all the dignitaries!

There were seven graduates - all young ladies, six of whom have already committed to attend college. Miranda Garcia did a beautiful job delivering the Valedictory address.

The new library is a beautiful example of what people can accomplish when they set their hearts and minds to the task. By the way, the new librarian's maiden name was Brown, and from Sanderson, no less! But we are not related. She spent her career in the El Paso schools as a librarian, so she knows her business!

I gave a brief history of the CASI Scholarship Program, beginning in 1992 with one scholarship. Eleven years later, 2002, we are awarding four national scholarships plus the Big Bend High School Scholarship. Among the recipients, we count a University instructor, a nurse, a teacher, etc. The money has been well spent on our most valuable natural resource - our young people.

Part Two of North-South Chili Challenge

Provides Winners, Losers, and Surprise Ending

May 18 found 32 members of the Houston Pod surf in' into Ennis, Texas, for the Top-of-Texas Pod Cookoff. Feeling the effects of early morning libations and dressed in colorful, outrageous beach attire, the group claimed to be TOTally confused about where they were.

After pairing up with their TOT hosts, who provided cooking stands, propane, snacks and additional refreshments, everyone got down to the serious bizness of chili cooking for this was Part Two of the North-South Chili Challenge. Unbeknown to the TOT Pod, this would prove to be a humbling day.

For the record, there were 122 CASI chilis turned in, making the cookoff, with the Houston Pod's support, one of the best TOT Pod Cookoffs in recent years. The TOT Pod won the North-South Chili Challenge and retained the Dr. Feelgood trophy by virtue of having sent over 40 cooks to the HP cookoff vs. only the 32 cooks Houston could muster for the TOT Pod Cookoff.

However, the HP cooks proved not to be as confused as they pretended. The beach bums left the TOT turf with seven out of 10 chili places, including 1st place, and also won 1st place in show! But that's not all they left with.

Somehow the Dr. Feelgood trophy found its way onto the Houston Pod bus, rumored to have been helped by Al Austin. Yes, they stole the trophy, thus ensuring that this won't be the last salvo fired in the North-South Chili Challenge.

And so it goes on the chili trail!

Tales from the Pub

Three engineers and three accountants are traveling by train to a conference. At the station, the three accountants each buy a ticket and watch as the three engineers only buy one ticket.

"How are three people going to travel on only one ticket?" asks an accountant.

"Watch and you'll see," answered an engineer.

They all board the train. The accountants take their respective seats but all three engineers cram into a rest room and close the door behind them.

Shortly after the train has departed, the conductor comes around collecting tickets. He knocks on the restroom door and says, "Tickets, please!" The door opens just a crack and a single arm emerges with a ticket in hand. The conductor takes it and moves on.

The accountants see this and agree it is a clever idea. So after the conference, the accountants decide to copy the engineers on the return trip and save some money.

When they get to the station, they buy one ticket for the return trip. To their astonishment, the engineers don't buy a ticket at all.

"How are you going to travel without a ticket?" says one perplexed accountant.

"Watch and you'll see," answered an engineer.

When they board the train all three accountants cram into a restroom and the three engineers cram into another one nearby. The train departs.

Shortly afterward, one of the engineers leaves his restroom and walks over to the restroom where the accountants are hiding. He knocks on the door and says, "Tickets, please!"

The man told his doctor that he wasn't able to do all the things around the house that he used to do. When the examination was complete, he said, "Now, Doc, I can take it. Tell me in plain English what's wrong with me."

"Well, in plain English," the doctor replied, "You're just a plain old lazy fart."

"Thank You," said the man. "Now give me the medical term, so I can tell my wife!"

Bed wetting had plagued Roscoe from childhood. He was filled with shame but couldn't seem to control himself, no matter how hard he tried. Finally his wife had all she could take and ordered him out of the house until he was cured.

Roscoe went to the doctor who advised him to see a psychiatrist since his chronic bed-wetting was probably due to a mental or emotional disorder. About three weeks later, he returned home wearing a cheerful face. His wife met him at the door and cried, "Honey, you look so happy, are you cured?"

"Nope" replied Roscoe, "but now when I wet the bed now, I'm proud."

A man goes to a doctor and says, "Doctor, I have a sexual performance problem. Can you help me?"

"Oh, that's not a problem anymore!" announces the proud physician. "They just came out with this new wonder drug, Viagra, that does the trick! You take some pills and your problems are history."

So, the doctor gives the man a prescription and sends him on his merry way. A couple of months later, the doctor runs into his patient on the street.

"Doctor, Doctor!" exclaims the man excitedly, "I've got to thank you! This drug is a miracle! It's wonderful!" "Well, I'm glad to hear that," says the pleased physician. "What does your wife think about it?"

Tribute to Jimmy Don "Goober" Lloyd

He was Daddy to Donnie & Christie, Grandpa to Ashley, Sabrina & David, Mother & Daddy's baby boy, our little brother, Dot's protector, Uncle Don to a group who always put his lake place as the best reunion of all, and the family entertainer.

He was the storyteller, laughing at his own tales; the chili maker who could eat it three times a day; Andre's hunting buddy; Wendell's fishing pal; a guy who wore black tee shirts & rode a motorcycle; the friend who cared & shared with young & old, all colors, rich & not so rich, broke & broken, loved & unloved, doctors, bankers, ranchers, widows & children. To all he was the Goober.

He was never too busy to help, never considered the cost, always an encourager. He loved to camp out, cook out, and _____! (Fooled you there, didn't I!)

He drew a crowd wherever he went, was on TV at the rattlesnake roundup - when he got in his mode, everybody listened & laughed - at old car shows, family gatherings, boat races, chili cookoffs - winning with a frozen cobbler, not winning many times, but people knew Goober from Waikiki Beach to Florida, to California & South Dakota.

There were nine of us - Carl Ray, Eltine, Pat & Bob - then Joe, Keith, Weldon & Don - the boys; add Dot & you had "the kids". We are a close family and now there is another void in our lives. As our circle grows smaller here, it grows larger in heaven. I'm sure Goober has a group listening to him now telling Peter, the great fisherman of men, how he, too, was a fisher of men on this earth.

Keep his memory. He is alive, just at a new address. "Lay up treasure in heaven for where your treasure is your heart is also." AND BE A DONOR! Someone you love may someday need a heart, too.

I hope when my time comes, I will be remembered even close to this. Thank you.

Patsy Childress

Cookoff Insurance is Again Available!

Great news! After the confusion and the questions raised last month with respect to the availability of insurance for local cookoffs, we are very pleased to report that our carrier, Ramey & King, has negotiated coverage for cookoffs. The rate is twice as high, but there will be no added premium to CASI to offer this to local cookoff promoters and Pods. The increase in the premium charged (from approximately $130/event to approximately $275/event) is but a small price to pay for the coverage. All it takes is one accident for us to realize the value of insurance.

Some of you thought that all local cookoffs were covered by CASI. CASI had maintained an insurance policy for TICC that would allow local promoters to insure their events by rider, but there has never been a "blanket" policy in place. The inside cover of the rulebook gives the insurance company's name and contact numbers, and this is where the confusion arose. Because that information was contained there, it was thought CASI had coverage for all local cookoffs.

Ramey & King is continuing to investigate blanket coverage, but as yet there is no firm offering.

Let me stress that most cookoff locations will carry their own insurance that can be extended to cookoffs. Sometimes a fee is charged to the cookoff. If you are promoting a cookoff at a location that does not have premises liability insurance, please consider insurance protection. This will protect you personally and the Pod and the sponsor and everyone involved.

That being said, how do we fund insurance increases if we are able offer blanket coverage? Do we increase the "per cook per cookoff" amount? Do we have a cookoff registration fee increase? Do we have an "insurance" fee?

The insurance question will be considered by the Board at its July meeting, and I welcome everyone's insights into how to proceed and how to proceed properly with this entire insurance question. No doubt about it, we need coverage. This is a first step in bringing the Pods and individual promoters back under the safety net. How can we best take it forward?

Free Quarter Page Ad to CASI Pods

As a CASI Pod you are required to put on a pod cookoff once a year. To help you advertise your pod cookoff we allow each pod to place one quarter page ad in the Terlingua Trails, each year, free of charge. This ad should run the month before your cookoff occurs. Should you decide that you need an ad larger than a quarter page we will simply bill you for the difference in price. This ad should not be confused with the article advertising your cookoff in the "Cooking with CASI Calendar" section in the Terlingua Trails. That article will start to run as soon as you request your cookoff packet and will run until your cookoff occurs. Remember that every CASI member receives a monthly issue of the Terlingua Trails and this is the best media you have to advertise your event.

To the CASI Great Peppers and Board of Directors:

My name is Anne Roberts and this letter is to announce my intention to run as a CASI Director. I'm a Lifetime member of CASI, an Old 320 member and I've been cooking chili since 1987. I'm known to be a worker and would like to continue to support CASI as a Director.

I've served as a Great Pepper for the last two years, Cowtown CASI in 2000-2001 and the North of Waco Pod in 2001-2002. I was a member of the Nominating Committee for the 2000 and 2001 Great Pepper Meetings and I am currently a Director on the Texas Ladies State Board, in charge of the entry form mail-out, receipt, data entry and verification. At TICC, I'm in charge of the slice, chop and dice team, preparing the veggies and cheese for judging the last three years. As most of you know, I can't go to a cookoff and not find something to do!

I believe that in order for CASI to grow as an organization, we as chili cooks need to introduce interested people to chili, sharing recipes and other help. We need to make a point of greeting new cooks and inviting them to join in all of the activities involved in cooking and running cookoffs.

I am a detail oriented person, and enjoy making sure that things are in order and correct. I feel that I can serve CASI and the chili cooks as a Director and would appreciate your vote at the Great Peppers Meeting in Phoenix this September.

Thank you for your support!
Anne Roberts

Promoters of State Championships Regional & Other Major Chili Cookoffs

In the last few issues of the Terlingua Trails we have featured the winners of the Texas Men's and Ladies State Championships. This coverage has featured both the winner's picture and a short story. It would be nice if we could showcase all of our major cookoff winners in the Terlingua Trails, and you, as the promoter of these cookoffs, can make this happen. All we need you to do is send us the appropriate picture and short story. If you will reference the April and June issues of the Terlingua Trails you will see examples of what we need, on the front page. Make sure that the pictures are bright and that the winner fills up the picture. Due to space limitations we won't get everyone on the front page, but we will certainly do our best to provide the appropriate coverage for all of our winners.

"Email Etiquette"

Repeat after me: "Under no circumstances will I ever buy into anything offered to me as the result of an unsolicited e-mail message. Nor will I forward chain letters, petitions, mass mailings, or virus warnings to large numbers of others. This is my contribution to the survival of the online community."

It is important that we all obey by the commitment you just made. Take my word for it when I say, you will never get "rich" or get better "karma" by the forwarding of unsolicited e-mail. As tempting as it may be, please refrain from selecting everyone in your address book and forwarding the chain letter you just received. Chain letters are easily recognizable, as they request you to "forward" the email to 8-10 people, etc. When you do receive a message of this nature, repeat the above mantra and promptly "delete" the message. Doing this will earn the respect of everyone in your address book.

Unfortunately there is a proliferation of unsolicited e-mail being sent from countless party's, using dubious techniques to send their "message" to millions of unsuspecting individuals. It is important that we do not subject our friends, families, associates and fellow chili heads to this same abuse.

You may want to visit <http://urbanlegends.about.com>, to learn the history and origin of some of the spam currently in circulation.

To all CASI Directors, Great Peppers, and fellow members

I, John Goforth, am declaring my intent to run for the CASI Board of Directors at the Great Peppers meeting in Phoenix, Arizona, 2002. I have been a member of CASI for the past 6 years. Although a relative newcomer to the cookoff world, I have qualified for both show and cooking the last five years. I understand and believe in the rights of the individual as I have been a one person show team during my involvement with the Chili World. I believe that the voice of the small can and must be heard for our organization to grow and prosper.

Our Board of Directors has been and will remain to be responsive to the needs and wishes of our membership. I hope, only, to play a part in the continuation of that process. I feel that I can and will be a sounding board for new ideas as well as carrying on with tried and true policies and rules.

I believe in CASI. No one person or group can sway me from my way of thinking. I come on my own with no fanfare. We can move forward with our desires to accomplish as much as we can in our lifetimes.

Let me be your voice of now and the future.

Thank you for your consideration,

John Goforth
