KOLKATA/NEW DELHI: Change comes with a price and Bengal is willing to pay the price, but with riders. People approve of the change, but a majority feels there will be no change in governance if the Trinamool Congress comes to power.

Yet it was this government which gave power to the farmers, distributed land among them and promised a stable future to the people. The last five years changed things for the Left leaders drastically. Mamata Banerjee rose like a phoenix and usurped the Left's dominance in areas it held strongly for years. She rode on the wave of discontent and became the champion of farmers, minorities and the jobless

What were the factors? Is West Bengal ready for the government by the Trinamool Congress? Where did the Left Front fail? Who wins in the Buddhadeb between Bhattacharjee and Mamata Banerjee? Will the Maoist insurgency end? Will jobs come to Bengal? An extensive and exclusive survey by HT-MaRS across seven districts of West Bengal and with more than 5,000 respondents tries to find out the answers.

A government that came to power on popular choice 34 years ago may have run its course. The Left Front government has failed to create jobs, keep corruption in check, curb the spread of Naxalism and maintain law and order. And it is paying the price for these failures now.

The survey results show that people of West Bengal are leaning towards Mamata not because they have faith in her leadership and her ability to pull the state out of decay. Ît is because people want to see a change. The people of West Bengal are desperate for a change. The survey shows that more respondents want to see either the Congress or TMČ in power than see the Left Front in power. However, more than half of West Bengal voters across all age groups also feel that people would vote for Mamata because any government will be better than the Left Front government.

Irrespective of whether Mamata Banerjee and the Trinamool make history, the upcoming election is going to be a landmark one for West

Methodology

The research agency MaRS conducted during February among 5,000 respondents, spread across seven districts The idea was to gauge the mood of the voters on issues that matter the most. Special emphasis was given to understand the minds of the first time voters and the youth. We chose the two 24 Parganas districts, North and South, to understand the two places, which have turned green after remaining red strongholds for ages. West Midnapore was selected for its noto riety as the hot spot of Maoist activity. In South Bengal, Burdwan became our choice because it still remains a left stronghold. In North Bengal, Malda was selected as an exam ple of a Congress bastion and Darjeeling be came the automatic choice to understand a region troubled by separatist move-

IMPHAL: A 21-year-old student was shot dead allegedly by the son of a Manipur minister along the Imphal airport road, the police said on Monday.

Irom Rozer, a student from Bangalore, had gone to his hometown to celebrate Holi with his family and friends when 27year-old Ajai Metei, son of the state irrigation and flood control minister N Biren Singh, chased him in his black Bolero and shot him, the police said.

notice to Jindal Steel and Power Limited on December 14, 2010, on why its environment clearance should not be revoked for starting construction in nonforestland for its integrated steel plant in Kerjang in Orissa before the forest clearance was granted in October 2010.

A ministry panel found the allegation to be true in December. Jindal steel admitted that the construction has taken place but cited a clause in an agreement with the Orissa government to start work within three years of signing it.

In the meantime, the Forest Advisory Committee, which allowed diversion of forestland, met and recommended insertion of key words - "it is advisable" — in the guidelines of the Act. The revised rule said, "if a project involves forest as well as non-forestland, it is advisable that the work should not be started on non-forest land till the approval of the government for release of the forestland under the Forest Conservation Act, 1980 has been given".

"It was only on February 17, I discovered the existence of the January 6 circular. The circular has been issued without my approval but after a discussion in the forest advisory committee. I took serious note of the this lapse and ordered that the status quo ante should be restored," Ramesh said on Monday.
