Prof. Ian D. Rotherham and colleagues are organising a major event on the theme of ‘Animals, Man and Treescapes’ looking at the interactions between grazing animals, humans and wooded landscapes. This international landmark awareness-raising and networking event will attract the attendance of key people from NGOs, academia and practitioners. It seeks to link to relevant community projects and educational outputs throughout the UK and across Europe. With our partners, the Ancient Tree Forum, IUFRO, BES and the Landscape Conservation Forum, we will be promoting landscape ecology conservation through local & national initiatives. Speakers include Frans Vera, Della Hooke, Adrian Newton, Hans Baete, Naomi Sykes, Derek Yalden, Richard Gulliver, Tobias Pleininger and Ian Rotherham.

The conference will bring together speakers and poster presentations from a range of disciplines:

- ecology; landscape history; environmental conservation; forestry; farming; and countryside management;

and backgrounds:

- academic; NGOs; Local Authorities; conservation trusts; businesses and the voluntary sector;

The event will look at:

- the impacts of grazing animals on both upland and lowland wooded landscapes;
- managing sites with grazing animals;
- problems and issues of inappropriate grazing;
- issues around re-wilding landscapes: and
- whilst giving an historic perspective through landscape history will seek to address issues of current and future management.

The conference will begin in the afternoon and after the opening presentations there will be a field visit to a site on the edge of the Peak District which will finish in the early evening. The conference dinner on the following evening will have an after dinner guest speaker linked to the field visit site.

Conference proceedings on cd. will be available at the conference; and pdf. / print on demand hard copy online after the conference.

Cancellation fees: Full fee payable if cancellation is within 2 weeks of the event; 50% payable if within 3 weeks; 25% payable if cancellation within 4 weeks; over 4 weeks – full fee will be refunded minus a small administration charge.
