Dear SOHN Colleagues,

If you could spend a day with some of the most powerful men and women in the world, how would you explain to them the importance of the work that you do as a nurse? How would you articulate your day to day workplace responsibilities as well as the issues you face in the larger context of health care? Representing you, the members of SOHN, I had that important opportunity in April through my participation in the Nurse in Washington Internship or NIWI.

NIWI is an annual conference held in our capitol city to educate nurses on health policy and the nuts and bolts of advocating effectively for our profession. It also focuses on the health care issues that impact patient care and delivery. NIWI has been in existence for 24 years and is sponsored by the Nursing Organizations Alliance which represents over 100 specialty nursing organizations. There were over 140 participants from around the country including nurse leaders and executives from nursing organizations and corporations as well as 60 doctoral nursing students.

The first two days of NIWI were filled with the didactic educational principles for learning about health policy, best advocating techniques, and also with becoming familiar with the "Asks" for us to bring to our representatives and senators on the Hill. On the third day of the conference, three other nurses from my home state and I trekked across Capitol Hill to meet with our Congressmen to deliver the "Asks" or request for their support for specific nursing issues. The beauty of a group visit to the Hill is not only safety in numbers, but also each of us brought different professional experiences, expertise and life stories to share with our Congressmen.

The first "Asks" or request we made was for their support for funding Title VIII to support Nursing Workforce programs under the Public Health Service Act. Title VIII was initially signed into law by President Lyndon Johnson 50 years ago and awards federal educational grants, loans and stipends to nursing students. Without this funding, significantly fewer individuals would have had the opportunity to go into the nursing profession. All four of us, at some point in our nursing education, have received federal funding toward our nursing degrees.

The second request was for them to support the funding of $150 million for the National Institute of Nursing Research (NINR). This amount is less than 0.5 percent of the total National Institutes of Health budget. The funding for NINR helps to expand the nurse scientist community and the number of research initiatives, while allowing for more complex studies focused on health promotion and disease prevention.

The third request was for $20 million in support for nurse-managed health clinics. Our health care delivery system is moving more towards the nurse-managed clinic model for the delivery of primary care. This is especially true in underserved areas where nurse-managed health clinics and nurse practitioners are the area's only primary care providers.

The last request was for ensuring veterans access to high quality care. As an employee with the Veterans Administration I had a few things to say to my Congressmen. I shared that our medical center, the second fastest growing facility in the country, is meeting the congressional mandate of getting new veterans enrolled and seen for an initial appointment within two weeks. To reach this goal we are working weekends, and using our dedicated administrative time to see new patients. I argued that the VA needs more of me – the advanced practice nurse. By allowing nurse practitioners to practice to the full extent of our training and education and by recognizing us as Full Practice Providers, we can further facilitate timely delivery of high-quality health care to our nation's service men and women. We are the solution. What caught me by surprise in the course of this dialogue was when my nurse colleague interjected and asked the congressional legislative assistant if he knew what an advanced practice nurse was. He stated that he did not. She carefully described the four categories of APNs and corresponding responsibilities. I quickly learned that the visit to the Hill was more than requesting support for funding or sharing our perspectives, but also an opportunity to educate what a nurse is and does on different levels based on education, training, and experience.

Our group had very productive meetings with staff members from the offices of Senator Johnny Isakson, Senator Saxby Chambliss and my congressman, (one of my all-time heroes) the civil rights icon Representative John Lewis. I came away with a sense of accomplishment and a rallying call for my nursing colleagues – "Let your voice be heard!" We are being called upon to educate and advocate for our profession.

Keep in mind that advocacy is best carried out in a coordinated fashion. Coalitions have mastered the art of coordinated message as it offers policymakers one voice. The message is then more clearly received and delivers a stronger impact. As Suzanne Miyamoto, Director of Government Affairs and Health Policy with the American Association of Colleges of Nursing related, "We do not have to say the same thing all of the time, but when the opportunity arises to share a coordinated message the profession wins." This calls for being in the know about current healthcare policy and nursing issues. Join your state's Action Coalition to get in the loop. Follow this link to learn about Action Coalitions and how to coordinate your message with fellow colleagues: <http://www.thefutureofnursing.org/content/action-coalitions>

I encourage you to communicate with your elected officials, as they are making decisions about how you can and cannot practice. Nursing education and practice must be defined and governed by nurses. Start with your professional organization, SOHN, and join the Health Policy and Advocacy committee (formerly called Government Relations). Our chair, Sharon Jamison, will welcome your participation. Contact your representatives and senators via email, snail mail, telephone or stop by their office to meet them. Tell them that you are happy to be a resource for them. Invite them to your workplace. They may be shocked to find out what you do during the normal course of a day, the decisions you are responsible for and the complicated care that you coordinate and deliver. Then continue to stoke that relationship with ongoing communication to be sure they have the nursing community's priorities foremost in their minds. Be positive and always thank them for their time.

My call to you, fellow ORL colleagues, is to step out of your comfort zone and get involved. There is a popular phrase in Washington, "either you are at the table or on the menu." If the nursing profession does not step to the plate, we will be left behind.

All the best,

Maggie Chesnutt

Be Inspired ~ SOHN's 38th Annual Meeting in Orlando, Florida

September 19 - 23, 2014 • Hyatt Regency Orlando – Orlando, Florida

See the May Update for registration forms, or register online at www.sohnnurse.com

Inspired Attractions

With seven of the world's top 20 theme parks in one destination, not to mention nearly 100 other attractions, Orlando certainly knows how to entertain. After a day full of ORL nursing education, a leisurely escape to a world of imagination and fantasy will leave you feeling refreshed and inspired. Whether seeking to reconnect with childhood nostalgia or experience leading-edge innovations in ride technology, these latest additions are truly one-of-a-kind.

Walt Disney World

Walt Disney World, king of theme park resorts, is a massive complex that can take planning and expertise to navigate smoothly. Here are the basics: There are four theme parks at Walt Disney World — the Magic Kingdom, Epcot, Disney's Hollywood Studios and Disney's Animal Kingdom. That said, don't try to see everything – it's impossible. Pick a few must-do attractions and take everything slowly. It's the details that make Walt Disney World a magical place.

Universal Orlando Resort – The Wizarding World of Harry Potter

Transport yourself to Hogwarts, sip some Butterbeer or browse the shops at Hogsmeade in this faithful recreation of the world of Harry Potter at Universal's Islands of Adventure theme park. A pair of coasters – Dragon Challenge and Flight of the Hippogriff – satisfy thrill-seekers, while fans can also line up for a chance to have a wand choose them at Ollivanders. Tuck into some fish and chips, a Cornish pasty or shepherd's pie at the Three Broomsticks, and grab some pumpkin juice at the adjacent Hog's Head Pub. Islands of Adventure is also home to some of the best and most thrilling theme park rides in Orlando.

SeaWorld

This aquatic theme park may be best known for its live show featuring mascot Shamu, but recent expansions have created an interactive, high-tech marine playground. One of SeaWorld's newest additions, Turtle Trek, is a 360-degree, 3-D movie that takes guests through the hidden world of Nyah, a deep sea turtle hatchling. Sharks, flotsam and assorted sea life are so realistic, you'll be ducking and weaving throughout the entire performance. Get personal with penguins, sharks, dolphins, flamingos and pelicans at live shows. Splurge a bit and spend the day at SeaWorld's Discovery Cove park, where you'll have the chance to swim, touch and play with bottlenose dolphins, snorkel with tropical fish and stingrays.

Legoland

Central Florida's newest major theme park, Legoland is a playground for the creative at heart. The 150 acres that make up this world dedicated to those squarish building blocks is packed with 50 rides and several shows and attractions.

Gatorland

Visit an old-time Orlando theme park with teeth. Gatorland, which opened in 1949 as a roadside attraction, has expanded to a 110-acre habitat for alligators, crocodiles, snakes and other exotic wildlife. Live shows — gator wrestling, up-close encounters, a train ride through the swamp and a zip line overhead — can fill a day with plenty of scaly thrills.

Request for Absentee Ballot

Please send an absentee ballot for the 2014 Society of Otorhinolaryngology and Head-Neck Nurses election. I understand that mailing of this ballot to me in the manner and form approved discharges SOHN's responsibility to me in the matter of absentee voting. I further understand that requesting an absentee ballot removes my name from the list of eligible voters at Congress. Absentee ballots must be received at SOHN Headquarters by September 6, 2014.

"Request for Absentee Ballot" must be received at SOHN Headquarters by August 2, 2014.

No "group requests" will be honored. Send "Request for Absentee Ballot" to:

Dining & Entertainment Districts

Orlando is a true culinary hot spot with award-winning restaurants and celebrity chefs that cater to visitors from across the globe. There's an extensive menu of fine-dining establishments, international eateries, casual cafés and chic wine bars for just about any taste or budget. Looking for an upscale steakhouse or a night of dancing? What about a jazz club or a new neighborhood bistro? Or want to check out where the locals wine and dine? Orlando has it all. The destination's distinctive dining and entertainment districts include the Convention Area, Restaurant Row, Winter Park, Downtown, Universal/CityWalk and Disney/Lake Buena Vista.

Energized Nightlife

From casually sipping wine at a trendy outdoor lounge, to dancing at a high-energy club and checking out a rock band at a live venue, Orlando provides participants with nearly unlimited nighttime opportunities. You can see music performances at the House of Blues in Downtown Disney® and Hard Rock Live at Universal CityWalk®. Experience mind-bending entertainment with the Blue Man Group and the La Nouba™ by Cirque du Soleil®. Or discover a modern, big-city nightlife scene in downtown Orlando that includes dozens of dance clubs, bars, restaurants, and live music.

Distinctive Shopping

When it comes to distinctive shopping, Orlando has something for all budgets. While the destination can certainly bring out the glitz, it also knows a great deal when we see one. Our mix of sophisticated malls like The Mall at Millenia, quaint boutiques on Park Avenue in Winter Park, and value-driven outlet centers serve up internationally known brands and unique local finds. And the close proximity to the convention center district, within a 15-mile radius, makes for a stress-free shopping spree.

Golf Legends

With 176 courses, it makes sense that Orlando was recently named the North American Golf Destination of the Year by the International Association of Golf Tour Operators. Play 18 holes on greens designed by golf legends including Palmer, Watson, Nicklaus and Norman. Or try the Rees Jones-designed, 18-hole championship golf course shared by the Hilton Orlando Bonnet Creek and the Waldorf Astoria Orlando.

Destination Spas

Many of Orlando's 19 destination spas are conveniently located at convention hotels, making the temptation nearly impossible to resist. Whether seeking a traditional experience, sports recovery or even a group outing to be pampered in unison, the spas provide a unique menu of services that allows you to emerge for the next day's sessions, energized and ready to go.

The Future of Nursing: Leading Change, Advancing Health

Mary Lou Brunell, MSN, RN
Executive Director, Florida Center for Nursing
Co-Lead, Florida Action Coalition

Mrs. Brunell will present information on how the Florida Center for Nursing is able to describe with great accuracy its present and future nurse workforce. She will introduce participants to the National Forum of State Nursing Workforce Centers and discuss how it relates to the Future of Nursing: Campaign for Action. The Florida Action Coalition will be described as a model of state level effort to achieve the recommendations of the IOM report The Future of Nursing: Leading Change, Advancing Health.

Mary Lou Brunell was appointed to the position of Executive Director for the Florida Center for Nursing in November 2002. Mrs. Brunell completed her graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania. She has worked as a critical care nurse, administrator, and educator prior to her current commitment to nurse workforce and health policy issues. Mrs. Brunell's professional activities include appointment to the National Advisory Council for Nurse Education and Practice. In partnership with the Florida Blue Foundation, Mrs. Brunell co-leads the Florida Action Coalition, convened to advance the recommendations of the IOM report – Future of Nursing: Leading Change, Advancing Health.

Closing Session

Tuesday, September 23 • 1:45 p.m.

Transitional Care-It's Here to Stay

Connie Yuska, MS, RN, CORLN
Vice President - System of Care
ACNO, Northwest Community Healthcare

This session will examine how healthcare in the United States is going through a revolution. Some have speculated that no single event in the history of healthcare in our country has been as significant as the changes that we have experienced and will continue to experience. How and where patients receive healthcare is changing rapidly. The role of the nurse leader in guiding those changes is critical. This course will describe how nurse leaders can be instrumental in leading changes in care models in their own settings.

Course continues on Saturday, September 20 • 8:50 – 11:05 a.m.
(ticketed course – additional fee)

The overall purpose of this course is to provide the ORL nurse with an overview of common ear, nose and throat problems/disorders and their management. The material has been divided into sections to include: Otolaryngology; Disorders of the Nose, Sinuses and Oral Cavity; Pediatric Otolaryngology Issues; Head and Neck Disorders; and Treatment Modalities for Head and Neck Cancer. Each of the anatomical sections will review the normal anatomy, common disorders, etiology, symptoms, diagnostic evaluation and management. The course is ideal for the nurse who is new in the otolaryngology specialty or for the seasoned ORL nurse seeking a good review.

Getting to Know You in Orlando (An Insider’s Secrets to Congress 2014)

Saturday, September 20 • 8:00 – 8:45 a.m.

Each year a number of attendees come to SOHN’s Congress for the first time. If you are a first-timer, choose to attend the First-Time Attendee Orientation. First-Timers will be greeted by SOHN’s National Congress Planning Committee and many volunteers who have “been there and done that”. In addition to meeting other first-time attendees, you will hear insider’s secrets to help you get the most out of Congress 2014.

Opening Ceremony

Saturday, September 20 • 1:15 p.m.

Plan to attend the Opening Ceremony and show your support to friends and colleagues and celebrate the accomplishments of the Society, the activities of our countless volunteers and the achievements of our members. SOHN President, Maggie Chesnutt, will preside over this exciting event!

Special Interest Group Meetings

Saturday, September 20 • 3:15 – 5:30 p.m.

ORL Nursing covers a wide range of subspecialties, each of which present a special set of skills and unique knowledge base. SOHN special interest groups (SIGs) will link you with other members practicing in your designated subspecialty. All SIGS will be meeting at Congress. Join a SIG and share your ideas and gain new information.

Posters

Posters will be displayed and available for viewing during Congress. Posters will reflect various administration, education, clinical practice, and research topics of interest to ORL nurses. This is a wonderful opportunity to share your knowledge with other ORL nurses.

There are monetary rewards for outstanding posters at Congress. Do not miss this opportunity to share your ideas and possibly win one of the poster awards. Applications are available on the SOHN website with the other conference information.

SOHN's President's Gala Titanic - The Experience

Saturday Evening, September 20, 2014

$65 (Includes tour, dinner, re-enactment and transportation)

Redesigned in 2012, Titanic: The Experience immerses visitors in the more than 100 year old story as never experienced before.

Titanic The Experience, exclusively features...

- A 17 gallery, 20,000 square foot Interactive Museum
- Guided tours led by trained actors in period dress portraying actual Titanic notables
- "Little Big Piece" a 3-ton section of the Ship's hull and the second largest piece of Titanic ever recovered
- Full-scale recreations of her Grand Staircase, First Class Cabin, Verandah Cafe and more

Hundreds of thousands of visitors each year come to stroll through full-scale recreations of famous Titanic rooms, including her Grand Staircase, First Class Parlor Suite, Boilers, and Promenade Deck, where you can walk out and feel the chill of the cold Atlantic air as you gaze at the stars.

Exceptionally trained actors in period costume portray famous Titanic notables such as Captain Smith and Margaret Brown, sharing stories of her passengers and crew during a guided journey on board the most famous ship in history. The exhibit showcases an extensive Underwater Room, displaying an 8-foot replica of Titanic as she appears on the bottom of the Atlantic today as well as over 400 artifact and historical treasures, including the second largest piece of Titanic ever recovered.

Titanic Dinner Event - Saturday Night

At a one-of-a-kind Titanic Dinner Event you are a participant in one of the most famous dinner parties in history, celebrating the retirement of Titanic's legendary Captain E. J. Smith as they did the night of the sinking. You will experience a sumptuous three-course meal, and will be treated to a "night to remember". You will interact with some of Titanic's most notable passengers and luminaries treating you to first-class food, first-class show and first-class fun! This unique experience also includes a tour of the ship and a re-enactment of that tragic night of April 14-15. Come on board our wonderful 'Ship of Dreams' and help us to keep her legacy alive.

These include:

- Commitment to the mission of SOHN
- Strong communication skills
- Consensus builder
- Diplomatic
- Sense of humor

Position statement:

These are changing times in health care. As nurses we have an important part to play. We must continue to develop the science of our practice through research but not lose sight of the art of nursing as well. I hope to be a part of SOHN's continuing effort to provide ORL-HN nurses with the resources needed to develop this role as an important member of the health care team. As President Elect and eventually President I would:

- Encourage the use of evidence-based practice.
- Foster critical thinking and clinical research to increase the body of evidence-based knowledge.
- Provide quality continuing education opportunities for our membership.
- Encourage collegial relationships with our physician partners.
- Maintain a legislative presence at State and National levels.

Position statement:

My 19 years of experience volunteering in SOHN has been about learning and change, about empowerment to fulfill one's potential, and about mutual caring. I think it is important to recognize that as President you only have two years to accomplish any goals set forth and attend to the many other duties asked of the position. I started focusing on these goals many years ago as a board of director, then VP and have continued to make it a priority of my work at SOHN. I envision a SOHN leadership that is well prepared to lead SOHN members in a changing healthcare environment. This would come to life with a strong strategic plan that promotes leadership through membership and leadership development. This initiative will advance the nurse leader through education, research and practice. The SOHN nurse leader will be prepared to meet the challenges of a transitional healthcare environment. SOHN membership will benefit by participating in educational programs that will showcase leadership development and practice.

I believe my research in leadership and leadership experience makes me the right candidate to be the President of SOHN. My research focused on transformational leadership practices of nurse leaders in professional nursing associations. This is the first study to describe transformational leadership (TL) practices of nurse leaders in professional nursing associations (PNAs). Results of this study show that nurse leaders of PNAs emulate practices of TL. Transformational leaders can mobilize and direct association members in reaching shared values, objectives, and outcomes. Understanding TL practices of nurse leaders in PNAs are important to the future of nursing in order to enable nurses to lead change and advance health through these organizations.

In the position of President-elect and then President, I will continue to move SOHN safely through a complex healthcare environment by focusing on membership and leadership development of our future nurse leaders. I will strive to keep SOHN financially viable and strong. I will exhibit transformational qualities of charisma, flexibility, shared leadership, vision, expertise and authenticity. I will remain actively committed to excellence in nursing.

Position statement:

As a long time member active at the national and local level in SOHN, the experience in a variety of capacities has prepared me for a leadership role as a national officer. We are all committed to providing safe, quality care for our patients and may often be challenged performing our tasks and obtaining great outcomes. Entering into my 34nd year in nursing, I have been involved in many changes and advances in healthcare. My love of nursing, otolaryngology and SOHN has provided me with the motivation to learn and advance in my career. My focus would be to help broaden awareness of the opportunities of SOHN and have others take advantage of the boundless activities awaiting them. The more people involved provides new and diverse ideas to help move the organization into the future. It is vital that our organization increases membership and the involvement of our membership to further the goals of education, research and patient care. I would utilize the knowledge and resources I have gained to fulfill the responsibilities of this position.

- Sigma Theta Tau member elected secretary for 2013-2015 academic term

Qualifications for this position:

I have 28 years of nursing experience, 11 of those being in Otolaryngology. I have been an active participant locally and nationally in SOHN. I have served as Nominating Chair in 2013 and have served our local SOHN Chapter as secretary for the last 5 years. I have been serving as Special Interest Group facilitator for Otology. I am finishing my MSN in September. I have presented on multiple occasions locally and nationally for SOHN.

Position statement:

I would be honored to be considered as a candidate for the position of Board of Directors. I have been active in SOHN and have enjoyed being in the field of otolaryngology nursing for 11 years. The amazing professionals I have met in the SOHN organization have been an inspiration to me professionally, educationally, and personally. I would be honored to serve and become more active in our organization and I would bring to the organization my dedication, enthusiasm, and the desire to advance our profession. I am committed to my colleagues and our organization and would truly be honored to be elected for a position on the Board of Directors. Qualifications for this position:

I have been working as a nurse for the last 18 years and specifically with the otolaryngology department for the last 7 years specializing in caring for patients with a tracheostomy and / or difficult airways. I have been an active member for the last 5 years. In the short 5 years, I have been involved with several committees both at the MD/DC chapter and the national level. At the local chapter, I am currently serving as the Vice President and at the national level, I am serving as the chair for the nominating committee, and member of education committee, research and practice committee, and the editorial board. I have presented at several conferences and published 18 articles related to tracheostomy and airways. The most important qualifications that I possess are my interest in the organization and my desire to become a nursing leader. It would be an honor to serve as a Board of Director at the SOHN.

Position statement:

If elected to serve in the Board of Directors committee, I would support the SOHN organization so that it will be central to the development of national education and research initiatives to fostering the professional growth of the ORL nurses within the organization through association with other institutions and organizations. One of my goals, if elected, is to take an increasing leadership role in the society. I would like to see every ORL nurse engaged in SOHN. SOHN offers a pathway for advancement of ORL nurses, and I would like to be a continuing part of ensuring this.

Qualifications for this position:

I have been providing care to head and neck cancer patients since 2000 and more recently have become involved in the care of patients presenting with general otorhinolaryngology disorders. In my role as a research nurse, I have had the chance to witness novel therapies and ideas that go from the development stage to clinical trials for patients in this population. This opportunity has provided me the experience to identify characteristics of leaders who will seek nursing methods and ideas that will lead to promoting effective nursing leadership and outstanding care to our patients. I have been a member of SOHN both nationally and locally for five years and during this time have had the privilege to meet and learn from nurse leaders in our field. I have served as an officer in the local chapter for four years and currently serve on the Research Practice Committee for SOHN. Since becoming a member of SOHN, I have developed a passion in increasing awareness of our organization and the importance it plays in providing excellence of care for this patient population.

Position statement:

If elected to serve as a member of the Nominating Committee, I will support the mission of SOHN in helping to identify and seek leaders who will help maintain the level of excellence needed to make SOHN one of the leading professional nursing organizations both nationally and internationally. I will also seek the input of the members for their opinions on what characteristics are needed in the nursing leaders for our organization.

Position statement:

I look forward to this opportunity to serve again as a member of the National Nominating Committee. I firmly believe that each member of SOHN has something special to share with our organization. I hope to “seek out” each member’s talent, and encourage each to share his/her abilities with SOHN for the betterment of our organization. I hope to facilitate diversity within our leadership, both in our leadership’s areas of expertise, but also locales. I think that it’s important that our leadership is representative of our membership so they can understand their needs and know how to serve them. Diversity is critical for our organization’s ability to innovate and adapt in the fast-changing healthcare environment. Diversity breeds innovation, and innovation breeds success. I hope you support me as I try to find the best and most diverse group of leaders to bring success to SOHN.

Spotlight on SOHN Members Jane Cooper, FNP-BC, CORLN

SOHN is very proud of its members and their special accomplishments! Jane has been chosen to be the recipient of the 2014 Cynthia Mabry Lectureship and she will be presenting at the 38th Annual Congress and Nursing Symposium-Innovation, Imagination, Inspiration: ORL Nursing-being held in Orlando, FL September 19-23, 2014. Her presentation is titled: Immunotherapy: SCIT and SLIT-What's the difference? It will share information about immunotherapy, both the patients and the challenges. Immunotherapy treatments will be presented, specifically allergy injections (SCIT) and sublingual therapy (SLIT). Jane also presented at the 2013 Congress.

Jane is a Nurse Practitioner with the Department of Otolaryngology, Head and Neck Surgery at the University of Missouri. She graduated from the University of Missouri in Nursing. Her interest in ENT patients started when she was a young staff nurse working in the SICU. She cared for a variety of post-op head and neck patients in the unit, alongside the patients with trauma. The ENT physicians in SICU, like Dr. David Parsons, were inspirational teachers and invited nursing input about care. Jane became hooked on ENT while there and later returned to get her FNP degree from the University of Missouri in order to work even more closely with her patients.

Jane's first NP ENT position was in private practice where she worked 11 years with both adults and children. The focus of the practice was sinus and allergy along with general ENT. Five years ago, Jane returned to the University to work primarily with pediatric ENT and decided to get her CORLN certification at that time. She also collaborates with Deb Ritchie, FNP, GNP, CORLN, a SOHN member, who is in the ENT Department. Jane says she is an excellent motivator/cheerleader!

Jane believes ENT nursing has been a great career choice for her. She feels she has been very fortunate to have wonderful teachers and mentors throughout her career. Her goal is to make a difference in the lives of her patients and to "pay it forward" to her nursing colleagues.

SOHN would like to congratulate Jane as the recipient of the 2014 Cynthia Mabry Lectureship and we look forward to hearing her presentation at Congress.
