Reflection.....

- We don't rejoice because of "what we do in God's name" (especially important for those in ministry to note) but, rather, we rejoice because God knows our name...our names are written in Heaven.
- God always provides for us, cares for us, watches out for us...He is the perfect parent.
- The Kingdom of God is more than walls and buildings – where God's love is, His kingdom is made manifest. When Christ came, God's Kingdom came with Him.

Chance of a Lifetime!

Have you ever wondered what it was like to live in another country?

How would like to have a "chance of a lifetime"?

Well now you can - by hosting an exchange student. When you host an exchange student, you will have the opportunity to experience first-hand another culture; gain memories that will last a lifetime; and make not only a new friend, but a "member of your family".

World Link conducts exchange programs for educators and youth through government sponsored projects that seek to improve the understanding and cooperation among the peoples and cultures of the world. Their students have undergone extensive screening processes and are just waiting for someone like you to take them in for a school year. The requirements are quite simple:

1. A nurturing family environment
2. Three meals per day.
3. Transportation to school and program events.

If you are interested in hosting a child, or would like more information, please contact Margie Williams at 309-3329 or Amanda Marple at 469-7996.

DECIMOCTAVO DOMINGO DEL TIEMPO ORDINARIO

“Eviten toda clase de avaricia, porque la vida del hombre no depende de la abundancia de los bienes que posea” Lc 12, 15

Reflexionemos sobre la Palabra de Dios

“No puedes llevarte nada contigo; nunca he visto un coche fúnebre jalando una camioneta de mudanza”, decía siempre la tía Francisca. Dedicamos mucho esfuerzo en hacer dinero, en nuestras familias, en planear nuestra jubilación y en administrar nuestras inversiones. Sin embargo no tenemos ningún control acerca de aquel momento en que se nos pedirá la vida. Y ojalá no sea la riqueza el único “tesoro” que “almacenemos”. Tenemos muchas maneras de preservar una falsa seguridad y de enmascarar la vulnerabilidad que todos los humanos compartimos. Podemos instalar un sistema de seguridad, vivir en una urbanización privada o comprarnos un arma de fuego. Podemos comprarnos una camioneta SUV con frenos anti-bloqueantes. Podemos almacenar las buenas obras, para sentirnos ufanos y autosuficientes, o los rencores, que adeuden a otros a favor nuestro. Las Escrituras de hoy nos recuerdan que todo con lo que contamos para sentirnos más seguros es pura “vanidad”. *Virginia Stillwell. Derechos de autor © 2012, World Library Publications. La Corresponsabilidad Viva Ahora

Rico o no, hay muchas maneras de compartir las bendiciones de Dios: Dona la ropa que esté poco usada y artículos domésticos a algún lugar benéfico. Compra en tu comunidad y apoya a los negocios de tu localidad. Muéstrate resistente a los anuncios; compra sólo lo necesario. Pasa tiempo con familiares y amigos. Comparte con algún banco de alimento local alimentos que no se echen a perder. Apoya los esfuerzos de tu parroquia y las causas buenas con tu tiempo y habilidades. Apaga el televisor y emplea ese tiempo para montar en bicicleta, practicar el excursionismo, la pesca, una buena lectura o simplemente caminar y dar un paseo por ahí. Sé bueno con el planeta tierra: Disminuye los residuos, recicla, siembra un jardín.

No pases la vida luchando por las ventajas materiales (Eclesiastés 1:2; 2:21-23).

Tu vida no consiste en las posesiones, sino en las riquezas del Reino de Dios (Lucas 12:13-21).

Vivamos la Palabra de Dios

Los cristianos tenemos un gran tesoro en Jesucristo, que personificó para nosotros el amor y la bondad de Dios. Cada vez que nos sintamos abrumados por nuestra vulnerabilidad podemos recurrir con esperanza a la vida y el amor que fluyen de su cruz.

Reflexionemos sobre la Palabra de Dios

Una tradición antigua en la Iglesia es conmemorar a los santos en el aniversario de su muerte, porque ése fue el día en que nacieron a la vida eterna. Nosotros celebramos esta misma realidad en las exequias y el aniversario de la muerte de nuestros seres queridos. En el caso de María hemos celebrado su “cumpleaños” el 15 de agosto, desde hace mil quinientos años aproximadamente. A través de todos esos años los teólogos comúnmente han pensado que tanto el cuerpo como el alma de María fueron llevados a la gloria. Ésta es la misma gloria que nos espera a todos los cristianos al final de los tiempos. Su cooperación perfecta con Dios durante su vida y el lugar de honor que ocupa como Madre del Mesías le concedieron ser la primera que gozara de la plenitud de la Resurrección. Como respuesta a la petición de los creyentes durante todo un siglo, de que se proclamara la Asunción de María como doctrina de la Iglesia, el Papa Pío XII definió la como doctrina en 1950.

TRANSFIGURATION OF THE LORD

CHANGES

We are not the same today as we were yesterday. Even if we found yesterday precious, nothing lasts forever. Everything that is precious to us changes. Today's liturgy speaks of changes and transformations. More than that, it calls us to be people of change and transformation. This can make for an unsettled life, but it also makes for a life of glory.

COMMENT

The first reading describes a vision of eschatological glory. The "one like a Son of man" is given dominion, glory, and kingship over all things. In this passage we see a portent of the coming of Christ once in time and again at the end of time.

The Second Letter of Peter is addressed to a faith community that has found itself beset by fraudulent teachers and doctrine. One such notion derides the Christian belief in the Second Coming of the Christ, an event the community had considered imminent. The passage reminds the community that the Second Coming is not some fairy tale concocted to fool the faithful. Rather, it is a teaching based on Peter's own first-hand experience of the Transfiguration, which disclosed the Lordship and dominion of Christ. The passage implies that the Transfiguration was a foreshadowing of the final coming. The Transfiguration event and the authenticity of the prophetic message should inspire the community to trust in the advent of the parousia; they will experience a personal transformation when "the morning star rises in your hearts" (2 Peter 1:19).

Today's Gospel passage recounts a crucial revelatory event in the unfolding of Jesus' identity. The three disciples catch a brief glimpse of the glory of the Lord, the fullness of which will not be revealed to humanity until the Second Coming. That coming is also hinted at by the presence of Moses and Elijah. Together, they discuss Jesus' "passage," his suffering and death, which remind us that divine ecstasy—total transformation—is achieved only through divine agony.

REFLECTION

In the Broadway show The Music Man, Marian discovers that she has fallen in love with Professor Harold Hill and sings that she had never heard bells ringing or seen birds winging until she met him. Put simply, Marian underwent a transforming experience because of the presence of another. We have experiences like this as well, experiences that enable us to perceive more definitely, to feel more sincerely, and to recognize more clearly the presence of the One who loves us—the presence of God. Experiences like this are like doors opening into the holy. And they are not as few and far between as we might think. We need only pay attention and realize that no matter where we are, we are in the company of the holy.

Some people would have us believe that no one really changes. A person may alter an attitude or obliterate a bigotry, but the core of the person does not change. Jesus would not agree. For Jesus, change was and is crucial. It is the hallmark of conversion. It is at the heart of the paschal mystery, of our dying and rising in Christ Jesus. It is precisely what Jesus Christ calls each of us to do. For without change, we cannot enter into the glory of God's reign.
