Thanks for thinking local first

NELSON & DISTRICT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The newly restored Chamber of Commerce Regional Visitor Gateway at the foot of Baker Street hosted the December Business after Business last week. Thanks to the over 200 folks who showed up for the first public event in the new Chamber of Commerce in the heritage CP Station.

Hume Hotel owner Ryan Martin (right) introduced his son Dawson to the Nelson community along with his wife Leandra and Save on Foods' operations manager Karen Solbrekken (centre) during December's Business after Business festivities.

We look forward to many more special events in this new Chamber home in years to come. We envision the space being utilized for regular community events.

Mandala Homes advances to the Top 10 in Best Workplace

The Small Business BC Awards are the most visible awards program in BC for small business owners and entrepreneurs. A key part of the Awards' mission is to celebrate the contributions new and existing businesses registered in BC, with fewer than 50 employees, make to their local communities and the global economy.

"Small Business BC takes great pride in celebrating entrepreneurs and helping them to become more successful says George Hunter, CEO at Small Business BC. "I am delighted to see Nelson's vibrant business community entering the Small Business BC Awards to be recognized for their achievements both locally and globally."

Congratulations to Mandala Homes for reaching the Top 10 in the Best Workplace category.

The Best Workplace Award, sponsored by Wellness-Fits, recognized the business that provides the best overall place to work. The business that receives this award provides a supportive, happy and healthy work environment for their staff. It's a leader in encouraging both mental and physical health in its employees through education, incentives and activities for all staff members.

Other nominees from Nelson included :
Finley's and Sage Tapas and Wine Bar and SkinBliss Medi Spa - Best Workplace Category

Nelson Kootenay Lake Tourism is looking for your support

Nelson Kootenay Lake Tourism wants to market to YOUR clients, but need your help to find out who exactly is visiting your business.

NKLT Executive Director Dianna Ducs says "there is a great opportunity over the holidays (starting this week if possible), to collect valuable data. We would love it if you could collect just customers' Postal Codes, keep it simple. It doesn't have to be every customer, but the more data the better." NKLT will retrieve the data from your business in January.

How to collect the Postal Codes - some ideas:

- have a sheet of paper by your cash register and hand write in customers postal codes - see attached pdf
- have a sheet of paper that visitors add their postal codes to - see attached pdf
- enter customers postal codes into your POS system and export the data
- create an excel file that holds all the postal codes

Or better yet, have a draw box and if they enter their name, email and postal code they could win a prize from your store

NKLT notes, "The best way for us to market to your clients is for you to tell us who your clients are. Let's work together and focus our marketing dollars on the right visitors."

All businesses participating will be entered to win a "Kootenay Travel Package" of awesome items from around the region.
