SENIORS TO PRESENT 'SOUTH PACIFIC'

The Haverling Senior Class of 2015 is proud to present its production of South Pacific on Friday, March 13 at 7:00 p.m. and Saturday, March 14 at 2:00 p.m. Unlike show schedules of the past, there will be just one evening performance and one afternoon performance this year. Tickets are $10 for adults or $7 for students and senior citizens and can be purchased from any senior, in the Main Office during school hours or at the door.

The story of Rodgers and Hammerstein's South Pacific takes place on an island in the southern Pacific Ocean during World War II. The show begins with a budding romance between Nellie Forbush, an American military nurse (Theresa Colomaio), and a middle-aged French planter named Emile de Becque (Brad Ward). Nellie struggles to accept his mixed-race Polynesian children, Ngana (sixth-grader Phoenix Perry) and Jerome (fifth-grader Christopher Phillipson).

There is another love-at-first-sight romance between Lt. Joe Cable (Noah Schuster) and a Tonkenese gal, Liat (Taylor Gerhart), from Bali Ha'i. Joe struggles with what the social consequences could be should he marry this Asian girl. Because the setting is in the 1940s, racial prejudice is prevalent and a driving force throughout the story.

The comic roles of Seabee Luther Billis (Walker Kapral) and Bloody Mary (Kirsten McCloskey) tie the two romances together.

South Pacific includes popular tunes such as There Is Nothin' Like a Dame, I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair, Some Enchanted Evening, I'm In Love with a Wonderful Guy, Happy Talk and the show-stopping Honey Bun.

This will be Director Cheryl Muller's last production at Haverling before she retires in June. Mrs. Muller has enjoyed working with Musical Director Neil Bryson, Choreographer Kori Colegrove and Stage Manager Sandy Wheaton on this production.

Mrs. Muller and Producer Kathy Morris expressed thanks to all teachers and parents who helped with the show in countless ways.

"It took a village to raise these wonderful seniors and to put on this production of South Pacific," she said.

SUPERINTENDENT'S COLUMN

Dear Parents and Community Members,

I can't believe it's already March and that spring is just around the corner. Although it is still cold outside, the days are passing quickly and soon we'll be in the midst of May and voting on our school budget for the 2015-16 school year.

In recent years, it seems that the March edition of the Haverling News has been devoted to explaining to the community what we as a district are doing to maintain quality educational programming in a poor economic climate. Once again, there are hurting people in our community who have lost jobs and are struggling to pay their bills or to even meet their daily needs. As we prepare the school budget for the 2015-16 school year, we keep these economic conditions close to heart and scrutinize every purchase closely. It is our goal to carry over as much money as possible from this school year's budget and apply it to next year's needs. The faculty and staff have done a wonderful job taking inventory of all their supplies and requisitioning only what is necessary for next year. Additionally, the Board of Education has made a commitment to do everything necessary to keep any increase to the budget minimal. It is our belief that this can be done without cutting into current instructional programs.

Unfortunately, this year we are dealing with very uncertain numbers from Albany as Governor Cuomo has held back any projected state aid figures until he gets the policy changes he desires in education. This type of posturing is unprecedented and has truly hand-cuffed our schools in the budgeting process over some issues that are completely unrelated to our region. For example, unless Buffalo, Rochester and the other large cities give up control of their schools to the mayor of each city (such as in NYC), then we will see no increase in aid for our schools. In fact, the Governor has demanded that the Legislature agree to his 11 major education policy proposals in exchange for a larger aid package to schools. These are major legislative proposals that, if handled appropriately, should stand on their own merit. However, by bundling these proposals into one in exchange for an increase in aid, the Governor is effectively holding schools hostage to get the change he desires. Once again, I believe that these proposals can be potentially changed with open and transparent debate, but this tactic is really harming our schools. Because legislative action may not be achieved within the next few weeks, we may not know our final state aid amount in a timely manner.

In spite of this confusion, we will continue to be transparent on our budget process and do everything we can within our control to communicate our needs to the greater Bath community. In the meantime, I encourage all of you to advocate for our schools with our local legislators. We have established a Legislative Action Committee consisting of board members, administrators, faculty, staff and students to send a strong, unified message to our legislators and to the other leaders in Albany. We are encouraging other schools to join our efforts and hope that you will as well. Please refer to the website for letter templates and feel free to contact me with any questions regarding our school. More information will follow as we prepare for the upcoming budget vote on Tuesday, May 19.

Finally, as we watch the evening news, we see countless stories about the dysfunctional operations in our government in Albany. Whether it be the latest scandal involving Sheldon Silver, the inability to agree on how much debt has been created by out-of-control spending, or just plain child-like behavior because of a disagreement, it is easy to become frustrated and/or embarrassed by the actions of our leaders in today's society. The cure to these feelings is to be around your children every day. Bath Central School is represented so well by so many students that it can restore our hope in the future. I can honestly say to you with much pride, that the leaders of tomorrow (at least from Haverling) hold much promise!

Respectfully,

Joe Rumsey

HANDS-ON SCIENCE ENGAGES STUDENTS

Second-graders learned about the life cycle of the darkling beetle this winter. Students were given a mealworm to care for and observe during January and February. The students watched as the mealworms transitioned from larva to pupae to the adult stage. Students recorded this growth in a scientific journal as they learned how insects eat, the parts of an insect and the differences between insects and spiders. Pictured are Olivia Lumia, Leah Krelie and Triesta Sprague.

SECOND-GRADERS ENJOY FOOD FAIR

Second-graders recently hosted their own mini international food fair. Students in Joe Brown's, Bryan Wolfe's, DeAnna Ritter's and Christine Piraino's classes sampled dishes from Mexico, Brazil, France and Ukraine.

McKEE INDUCTED INTO HALL OF FAME

Tim McKee, a 1987 Haverling graduate, was inducted into the Livingston County Wrestling Hall of Fame in January. Mr. McKee finished his high school wrestling career with a 112-18 record. He was a four-time Genesee Valley Tournament champion, four-time Avon Tournament champion and three-time Midlakes Tournament champion. In addition, Mr. McKee placed in the Section V Class B Tournament four times and was Sectional champion in 1987. He represented Section V at the New York State Wrestling Tournament twice and placed third in the state in 1987.

Mr. McKee holds a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Ithaca College and a Ph.D. in chemical research from Brandeis University. He and his wife, Cedar, and son, Oscar, live in Massachusetts, where he is employed as a research scientist with BioGen.

ROBOTICS TEAM PLACES SECOND

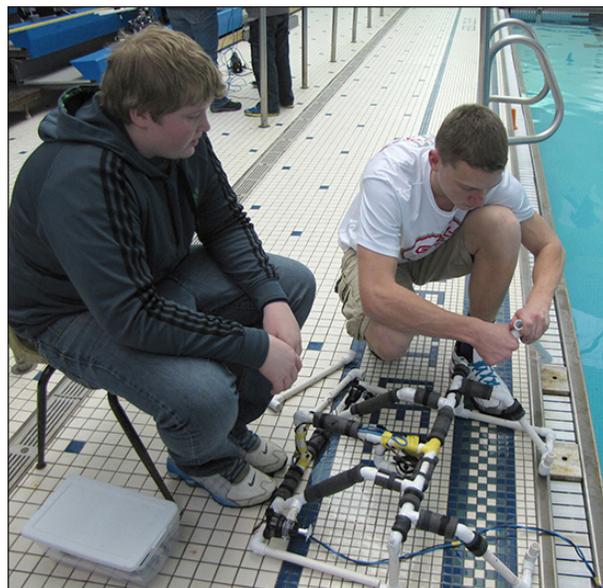

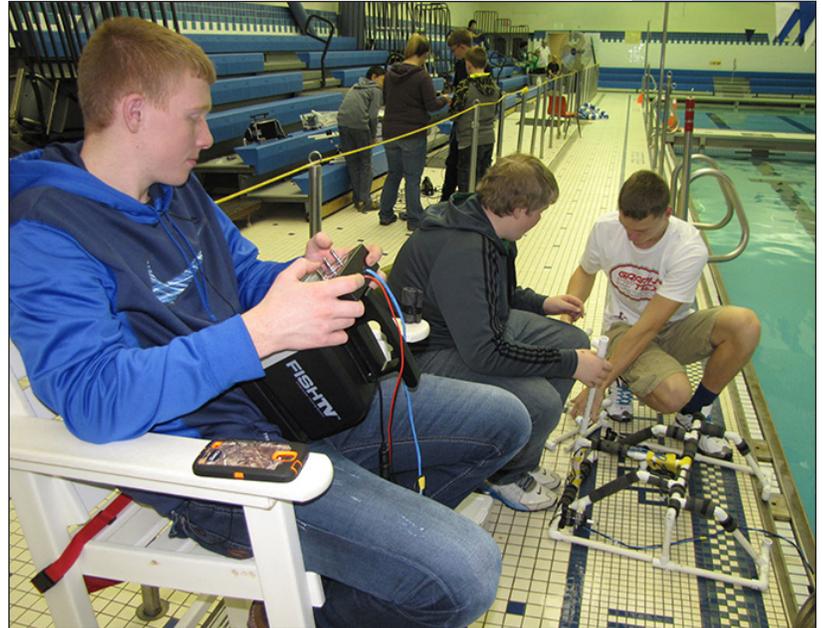

In January, the district hosted the second Regional After School Under Water ROV (Remotely Operated Vehicles) Robotics competition. Seventeen teams from Avoca, Bath, Corning-Painted Post and Horseheads school districts competed with robots that they constructed and programmed to function under remote operator control.

Bath entered five teams and one of the combined middle/high school teams placed second overall in the competition. Team members included high school students Brady Derick, Josh Abrams, John Sebastian, Alex Watches and Brendan Wacenske and middle school student Blake Jackson. Other students involved in the event included Franklin Jackson, Caleb Doughty, Nate Birch, Chris Ward, Nate Mattison, Erin Draper, Maritza Filomeno, Hannah Makitra and Hunter Colomaio.

Middle and High School Science Teacher Greg Longwell and Middle School Technology Teacher Neil Rogers worked with students after school.

The event was coordinated by the GST BOCES STEM Team, which also provided professional development and training for faculty advisers. Funding for the program was provided through a Perkins Grant.

Students pictured as they display, test and operate their remotely operated vehicles include (clockwise from upper left) Erin Draper, Maritza Filomeno, Hannah Makitra and Hunter Colomaio; Chris Ward, Nate Mattison and Nate Birch; Nate Birch and Nate Mattison; Brady Derick and Josh Abrams.
