This application form must be accompanied by:

1. Two letters of recommendation, each addressing specifically (1) the applicant's career intentions, and (2) reasons for believing that a successful career can be expected. One letter should be prepared by an Indiana University instructor familiar with the applicant's academic performance; the other by someone acquainted with the applicant's non-academic work habits. For T-to-T Applicants Only: the instructor's letter may be from an institution other than Indiana University, if necessary. The second letter may be from a previous employer, supervisor or other person qualified to address previous professional work habits.
2. A one-page applicant statement describing: (1) career objective and reasons for its selection; (2) self-assessment of suitability for this career; (3) area(s) of greatest personal weakness requiring improvement; and (4) the employment position desired in 10 years.

This statement must not exceed one typed (12 point) page and may be presented in an outline (or partial outline) format if desired.

For Undergraduates Only: Include applicant's best estimate of current semester's final grades.

For T-to-T Applicants Only: Include: (1) a summary of post-graduate employment, including dates; (2) a clear description of, and justification of the need for financial assistance; and (3) evidence of having been accepted into the T-to-T Program.

Submission of Applications: Electronic submission of recommendation letters (kpaulin@indiana.edu) will be accepted, but is not required. Supporting letters should be on the writer's letterhead. Regardless of submission method, each letter must indicate clearly that it has been prepared specifically for the Klinge Scholarship competition. Send application and letters to Katie Paulin, Indiana University School of Education, Undergraduate Recruitment and Professional Community, Suite 1000, 201 North Rose Avenue, Bloomington, IN 47405-1006.
