COMMANDER'S MESSAGE

School Days! School Days!

Cdr Bob Bach, AP*

Fall is knocking at our door. The weather this week has made me wonder if it is not already here. All too soon those yellow buses will be seen rolling to and from school.

The bridge and committees have been very busy this summer lining up classes and meetings to fill your winter evenings with entertainment and information. Check out the Education News column and the full fall calendar posted in this issue of the Porthole.

The highlight of our first dinner meeting will be our own P/C Jean Turnbull, SN, telling her story of that ambitious trip she made to circumnavigate the eastern US.

Our Basic Boating Course kicks off on 11 September, and as all of us who have benefited from this class know, it is important to continue to offer this information to the public. That takes a lot of teamwork. So while you are considering which advanced or elective course you want to take, please think about helping with teaching or proctoring a class.

That is the gift of a volunteer organization. If you haven't tried, this year would be a great time to jump in. Teaching is a two-way street. You will find you continue to learn and reinforce what you know when you pass that information on to someone else who is eager to learn.

There is a Four District Conference coming up at the Marine Biological Laboratory in Woods Hole 9-11 November. It will include lots of interesting seminars to attend. It is close enough that I hope we have a good showing from our squadron. Look for the insert with complete information.

But wait! Summer is not over yet. We still have two Paddlers' Rendezvous coming up on 2 September and 21 October; and the Nantucket Rendezvous on 7-9 September is one trip you will talk about all winter long. Maybe it will be about the exciting trip over or the dockside hors d'oeuvres on Saturday evening which is a great way to enjoy old friends and make new ones. You also have the opportunity to march in the parade or take a watch at our display booth at the Yarmouth Seaside Festival on Columbus Day Weekend in October.

So get ready to get back in the swing of fall and winter on Cape Cod and sign up for that next class you have wanted to take and/or offer to help teach a class.

After all, it is BACK TO SCHOOL TIME!

Still Simply Messing!

NANTUCKET RENDEZVOUS

7 - 9 SEPTEMBER

Lt/C David Atwood, AP

Make your plans to attend the Nantucket Rendezvous on 7 - 9 September 2007. We have arranged unconfirmed reservations under Cape Cod Sail and Power Squadron to be paid on arrival. Although a list of participants will be set up, unconfirmed reservations should be made directly with Nantucket Boat Basin (Tel 508-626-2628; Fax 508-228-8941: www.nantucketboatbasin.com). Be sure to write on the form or be sure the marina staff member you speak with records that you are with the squadron so they will group our boats together.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Lt James Reed, AP

The deadline for the next Porthole will be set for 29 September. E-mail me at editor@ccsps.org if you have an article, pictures or information for the Porthole.

ILLUMINATION NIGHT –

OAK BLUFFS

Paula Bacon

Once again our Illumination Night cruise sold out. We welcomed our Buzzards Bay Squadron friends and only needed more room. Excitement bonded us all as we braved 30 mph winds and larger gusts with seas which tossed us about as we got drenched in the spray. The small craft warnings seemed to have kept all but the ferries and a few fishing boats in port. But we were headed to the 140th lighting of the campground and not to be deterred.

Boats crowded the Oak Bluffs harbor where they rafted as many as five on a mooring. Yachts as large as cruise boats lined the dock. The campground filled with people intent on celebrating a ritual that has cemented a community together for almost a century and a half.

A well mannered mass of people all felt joined in good will as light filled the hundreds of beautiful lanterns hung for generations around the tabernacle on this special night each year.

Many of us spread out our picnics to dine as we listened to the band. Music is essential to an event like Illumination Night. The locals played for hours. The conductor took a short break to inject some humor by telling how Americans win duration contests by playing The Stars and Stripes Forever.

CCSPS ROSTER EDITOR

Lt Lois E. Caldwell, S

I want to thank the CCSPS members who have notified me with corrections for the 2007-2008 roster. In order for the squadron to publish an accurate roster every member can help by letting us know of any changes that need to be made to your personal roster entry and the fleet roster.

Please mail in your corrections to 39 Delta Street, Hyannis, MA 02601 or you can contact me at 508-771-2111 or by e-mail at lecaldwell@verizon.net.

ONLINE LOGO CLOTHING Visit the squadron's online logo clothing Supply Store at www.ccsps.org. For all members, logo clothing adds to the squadron esprit de corps.

The 2007-2008 Roster of Members includes “Dress Guidelines for Public Events” to cover occasions when our members are representing the squadron before the public. In addition to white long- and short-sleeve polo shirts, caps and visors, and tan long-sleeve twill shirts for Certified Instructors, a navy fleece or wind shirt is suggested for chilly weather.

IMPORTANT ORDERING DETAILS For the squadron to receive credit for purchases, online orders are required by the vendor. To avoid shipping charges, write “In-store pick up” in the order comment section. For members without Internet access, items may be ordered from Commodore (800-438-8643).

SEAMANSHIP: CLASSROOM TO CRUISING

P/C Joan Croft, AP*

Seamanship concluded 30 June with a day on the water. The occasion put classroom lessons and discussions into practice on Cape Cod Bay, Nantucket Sound, and Buzzards Bay. Lt/C Hugh Blair-Smith, SN, P/C Ronald Kessel, SN, and Lt Wayne Richardson, N, are to be thanked for volunteering their vessels and sharing their knowledge of local waters and boating safety. Instructors onboard included Lt Roger Bodley, AP, Joan Croft and D/C Arthur Kimber, SN.

Seamanship is the first in the series of Advanced

(Above) Aboard the June K cruising from North Bay into Nantucket Sound to Hyannis Harbor were Jim Leonard, Robert and Mary McGrath, Paula Bacon, Captain Ronald Kessel, and instructor Roger Bodley (photographer).

(Below) The Mashantam crew sailed from Sippican Harbor, Marion, transited Buzzards Bay, and picnicked in Pocasset Harbor. Aboard were Tor Moksvold, instructor Arthur Kimber, Captain Hugh Blair-Smith, Douglas Burke, and Walter Penczar (photographer).

Grade USPS piloting and celestial navigation courses. Congratulations to 16 new Seamen: Paula Bacon, S Douglas Burke, James Canavan, Maureen Costello, Edmund Flynn, Richard Glivinski, Lt/C Roberta Gough, S, John Keefe, Robert McGrath, Tor Moksvold, Gary Moores, Patty O'Leary, 1st Lt Mary Lou Walsh, S, Lt Walter Penczar, Marc Venables, and Fred Wetzel. They will receive an endorsement to affix to their membership certificate.

Thank you to the following Seamanship instructors who presented classroom sessions, contributing to the success of the course: Lt/C David Atwood, AP, P/R/C Donald Chase, N*, Lt/C Evan Croft, JN*, Karl Davis, JN, Art Kimber, Walter Penczar, AP, and Wayne Richardson, JN*.

Aboard the Madison B, Wayne hooks a handsome bluefish. It was a good catch outside Wellfleet Harbor; the blues were all but jumping over the gunwale. The Madison B crew cruised from Rock Harbor to Billingsgate Shoal and Wellfleet Harbor on Cape Cod Bay. Taking turns at the helm were Garry Moores, Captain Wayne Richardson, Mary Lou Walsh, and instructor Joan Croft.

S.O.S. – Safe “Oar” Suggestions

With two paddlers' rendezvous scheduled for this fall, it seemed an appropriate time to offer some safety tips. Also, after seeing the number of paddlers attending the Egg Island outing, these safety reminders should benefit many in our squadron who either are now or are thinking of becoming kayak/canoe enthusiasts.

Kayaks come in all sizes and shapes, so it is important to decide how and where you want to use it before buying or renting one. Shops dealing in just kayaks can give you expert advice and it's wise to consider going to more than one before making a decision.

Safety advice:

1. Wear a PFD at all times even though state law requires it only between 15 September 15 and 15 May. Attach a whistle to it, preferably plastic without the little “ball” in it.
2. Keep a bailing device, compass and flare handy and a 360-degree flashlight.
3. If you capsize, stay with your kayak as it will provide floatation and a large colored object to be easily seen by rescuers.
4. Consider tethering your paddle to your wrist (lanyard on a wrist band). Once that paddle is dropped, it is extremely difficult to catch up with it (especially without a paddle!!).
5. A float plan is always a wise precaution. Let someone know your plans; when you are leaving, where you are kayaking and when you plan to return.
6. Check out your route, where you will put in and take out, what the current is like and if there is a tide, whether it is coming in or going out. It is very enjoyable going with the current and hard work paddling against it.

The date for the next rendezvous is the 21 October, at a Middle Cape location. Get your kayaks/canoes outfitted and join the fun in the water with these small crafts.

Most of all, be safety conscious.

EDUCATION NEWS

Lt/C Evan Croft, JN*

Piloting and Basic Boating chairs needed

There are several opportunities to learn under the able guidance of current instructors who have dedicated many years to the educational department.

The Advanced Grade Piloting course is in immediate need of a chairman. Instructor lesson plans and the assistance of the SEO and former chairman will be provided.

We have a very rewarding opening for a Basic Boating chairman. It is a great opportunity to share your squadron and boating experience with the public, receive Power of One recognition for influencing students to become members, earn a merit mark, and work with a team of knowledgeable certified instructors.

Please contact Evan Croft to discuss: 508-420-9023; www.redhouse@cape.com.

Fall Course Lineup

Course descriptions can be found from the Educational Program hyperlink on our Web site: www.ccsps.org.

Basic Boating will start Tuesday, 11 September at 1900 at the Barnstable Middle School cafeteria, 895 Falmouth Rd. (Rt. 28), Hyannis. If you would like to proctor, let me know if you haven't already done so. Enjoy the camaraderie and meet students eager to learn what it takes to be a safe boater.

Sail is scheduled for Monday, 10 September at the Centerville Fire Station, Rt. 28 in the downstairs classroom at 1900 instructed by D/C Arthur Kimber, SN. See the accompanying article in this issue and contact Art for registration and additional information at 508-778-2476.

Piloting is canceled until a new chairman volunteers. At that time, members who expressed an interest will be contacted.

SUNSHINE COMMITTEE

Lt/C Roberta Gough, S

Anyone who has knowledge of a CCSPS member who might benefit from a bit of cheering up with cards, calls or visits, or a member who is experiencing an important event, please phone Secretary Roberta Gough at 508-790-2394.

TENTH ANNUAL LOBSTER BAKE Lt/C Hugh Blair-Smith, SN

This year's Lobster Bake returned to its traditional venue on P/C Jean Turnbull, SN's lawn, with the 40-pallet fire pit thoughtfully located next to Jean's swimming pool—just in case! 70 lobsters were reserved and 70 eaten, happily if not tidily, along with a like number of ears of corn and other veggies, not to mention uncounted steamers. If any more people had turned up, they'd have had to eat Jean's stunningly lobster-themed hat. Max Sarazin, AP, having come early to manhandle pallets, chose his feasting spot at the uphill end of a table, mindful of where spilled clam broth flows!

Max Sarazin heating her up

Most of the old faithful crustacean lovers attended, along with a few newcomers to such affairs. Vicki Blair-Smith came and thus met Vicki Smith; they ascertained that they are indeed different individuals, no matter what happens to their e-mail. While Paul Smith, S and Craig Ashworth did their usual masterful job of onion-watching and general quality control, Jean's guests and several volunteers efficiently doled out chowder and steamers. Hugh Blair-Smith was tasked to create an orderly queue for that part, and was quickly reminded of what they say about herding cats.

Bake Master Paul Smith with assistance form Art Kimber and Craig Ashworth uncover the pit while all look on.

The weather was ideal, with clear views all the way to Dennis's Chapin Beach, but actual swimming was done only by kids for some reason. Maybe it's because they look better in swimsuits than we do? At the other end of the age scale, it was inspiring to watch Art Kimber run uphill pushing a wheelbarrow full of lobsters. Boating builds men, by golly (and women equally of course).

Dave Atwood MC'd the raffle enthusiastically, but couldn't really explain what those smoke bomb thingies are supposed to be used for. Then he ran off to southern France before he could write this article.

Those of you who've attended past bakes, but didn't this year, missed a great day. Don't let next year's get away from you!

CHATHAM 4TH OF JULY PARADE

Lt Lee Johnson

We were outnumbered!

It was a gorgeous day and the midweek crowds were overwhelming for us. The old and true crew of Truck Driver: P/C George Pettengill, AP*, Marchers: Dave Akin, AP*, P/D/Lt/C Paul Brown, SN, Jim Leonard, JN and Lt Lee Johnson did a yeoman's job handing out good will and Life Savers® candies. Terry Wilcox, JN, was a new recruit and now is a seasoned member of the Parade Committee. The marchers dispensed 3600 candies. Last year more than 6000 were distributed.

Crew photo: Standing L to R, George Pettengill, David Akin, Terry Wilcox, Paul Brown, Jim Leonard, Kneeling Lee Johnson, Marielle Clayton, In boat, Monomoy Bear, Annaliese Clayton, Peg Johnson.

The squadron needs your help for the next parade on Columbus Day weekend in Yarmouth . There were many hundreds of people in Chatham who were empty handed of good will and candies from our Squadron due to the lack of walkers. Mark your calendar and gear up now for the next parade by ordering a white hat and squadron white polo shirt at:

<http://commodoreuniform.com/stores/capecodps/index.html>

The beautiful Proline boat, truck, and trailer were graciously supplied by Ren Nichols of Allen Harbor Marine. Matt Wake of Sturgis Boat Works, West Yarmouth supplied a new Optimist Pram sail and rig. David Akins designed the truck bed support to hold the sails and it worked well.

Now our mobile display depicts the CCSPS! Thanks Dave.

Special thanks to the one family that showed up from Pennsylvania to ride in the boat – the Clayton's. Grandma Peg Johnson, Mom Heather Clayton, 3-year-old Annaliese plus 2-year-old Marielle, all were wearing PFDs.

If you would like to help promote the Squadron and its mission of safe boating through education, please drop a note to capedrj@comcast.net or call 508-398-7256.

Best in Parade Award for Civic Awareness, Cape Cod Sail and Power Squadron

Congratulations to our squadron marchers.

The 1st place, Best in Parade Award for Civic Awareness was presented 1 August in Chatham, MA by Danielle Jeanloz, executive director of the Chatham Chamber of Commerce. Accepting the first place ribbon for the Chatham Fourth of July Parade on behalf of the Cape Cod Sail and Power Squadron was past Parade Chairman P/C George E. Pettengill, AP*.

For the past 20 years, the Cape Cod squadron's parade unit has marched and won awards in community parades. P/R/C Ren Nichols, AP, president of Allen Harbor Marine graciously provides a truck, trailer and spanking new powerboat. Members decorate the truck and boat with signal flags and banners to promote USPS® boating education and safety themes.

The parade unit, dressed in white marching uniforms, walks alongside the truck and boat passing out Life Savers® candy to remind people to wear life jackets (PFDs) on the water. Over 3000 children and adults received this reminder message on the Fourth of July.

SEASONAL ADDRESS CHANGE?

Continue to get your squadron news P/C Joan Croft, AP*

Among our members are a number who spend winter months off Cape. There is a quick and easy way to receive your Porthole newsletter to keep in touch with squadron activities and friends. (Bulk mail is not forwarded by the post office.)

Notify Secretary Roberta Gough with your seasonal address change information. Let her know in what month you wish to start receiving the newsletter at your off-Cape residence.

Before your return to the Cape, remember to notify her once again.

For example, to receive the next month's newsletter at either location, your mailing address change should be received a week before the end of the month.

Roberta's phone and email contact information are at hand in your new 2007-2008 Roster of Members and in each Porthole issue under the Bridge listing. If you know your plans now, contact her as soon as possible. Option 1 is by phone at 508-790-2394. Option 2 is by email at rgough@Chatham-Ma.Gov.

For Option 3, if you decide to send her a picturesque postcard from your seasonal retreat, allow time for post card snail mail. Roberta's mailing address is PO Box 464, Centerville, MA 02632-0464.

We look forward to seeing you at September events highlighted in the Porthole, including the dinner meeting featuring P/C Jean Turnbull, SN, presenting the Great Circle Loop cruise aboard Ocean Flier. And, if you linger into October, join us for social and civic activities publicized in this issue.

Then, from your winter refuge, as you revel in forgetting that winter has arrived on the Cape – assuming you travel south rather than north of Lat 41.7° N, /Lon 70.3° W – think warm thoughts of us as Jack Frost nips at our noses.

DINNER MEETING VENUES & PROGRAMS

Lt/C Hugh Blair-Smith, SN

SEPTEMBER DINNER MEETING P/C Jean Turnbull, SN's Excellent Adventure

Jean skippered her 45' cruiser Ocean Flyer, with a little help from her friends, on just about the mightiest cruise you can do without having to use a passport. If you believe, as I do, that whatever you sail all the way around you can claim as (slightly) your own, come and see how our past commander took title to nearly everything between New England and the Mississippi. Come and enjoy her presentation in any case. We're expecting a big turnout of members and guests, possibly the biggest in CCSPS history, at Yarmouth House, West Yarmouth, on Thursday 27 September. Urgent: please reserve early!

For those who want an advance preview, check out their website at www.seatrekkers.net.

Please Note: Make your reservations via the mail-in form in each Porthole, as far ahead of the deadline as possible!

EGG ISLAND FAMILY RENDEZVOUS

Lt/C David Atwood, AP

We had fair weather Saturday, 21 July at this year's Egg Island family rendezvous. The entire island was exposed during mid-day. Seventeen members and guests arrived: 1 power; 2 sail; 5 kayaks; and 1 canoe. (Hmmm! Cape Cod Sail, Power, and Paddlers Squadron)

Standing in back: Norma & Dave Atwood with dog Ozzie, Linda Church with burgee, Walt Penczar, Maryanne Morse;

There was no vessel to shuttle people to shore so we asked a beached small power boat if they would bring some of our group ashore. They declined. I was pressed into service using Norma's two person kayak; shuttling food, grills, and people ashore. Mary Lou Walsh brought enough food to feed all those who said they were coming. So we had lots left over! Some people dabbled in the Hillbilly (Redneck, as Max Sarazin called it) golf game.

Dave and Norma Atwood with Captain Ozzie

We were all impressed with a huge gathering for Hyannis Marina's Annual Rendezvous at the end of the island. They had generators, music, steamer pots, a large grill, and tent set up for their crowd. Thanks to Linda Church of Buzzards Bay who carried our burgee along the shore to help folks find our location among all the other boaters that day. Bob Bach's guest, Dave Selfe, gave a lesson in "toeing" for quahogs. Those others not already named who attended: Lee Johnson and, his granddaughter, Annaliese Clayton, Kathy Selfe, Walt Penczar, Hugh Blair-Smith, Terry and Barb Wilcox, Art Kimber, Jim & Maryanne Morse, plus Ozzie (our dog). Some interesting events occurred during our departure and return, but those stories shall remain on the island.

WELCOME ABOARD

1st Lt Mary Lou Walsh, S

Welcome aboard to new CCSPS members. Randall Monte's wife, Carole Monte, and son, Evan Monte, have joined the squadron. Evan completed the July Boat SmartSM course and Massachusetts Boat Operator Certification. The family enjoys boating aboard Reel Broke out of Mashpee.

Richard and Kate Carey vacation in Centerville during the summer and reside in Rutland, VT. They sail an 18-foot Cape Dory, Day Dreamer, from their homeport on the Centerville River.

You are invited to contact Bridge members listed in the roster and the Porthole newsletter with any questions that you may have. Additionally, the Porthole is a good source of information. You will receive a Welcome Aboard Package and we also look forward to meeting and introducing you at a class, dinner meeting or other squadron activity.

21 OCTOBER "PADDLEQUE"

Lt/C David Atwood, AP

The Paddlers' Rendezvous season finale is Sunday, 21 October, Lewis Bay. 1030 put in. Turn south on Berry Ave. from Route 28 in West Yarmouth. Turn right on New Hampshire Ave. Bring something to toss on the grill. Contact xo@ccsps.org to sign up for email updates. More details in October issue.
