Introduction

As is well known, most projects are very complex, have numerous inter-dependent and inter-related activities, involve heavy investments, require high level of technology and need effective management of voluminous resources. They cross geographical boundaries, corporate channels, traditional systems and cultural diversities. Modern projects have inherent difficulties, uncertainties and risks. They interact technically, economically and socially with the environment. The fast changing environments of the present era impose numerous financial, legal, ethical, environments, and logistic constraints.

Project management involves use of technical and management skills to achieve the project objectives, within the specified time, budgeted cost and predefined quality specifications, by leading the project participants, efficiently, effectively and ethically. While our engineers possess technical expertise, they often lack project management skills.

Objective

The main Objectives of the Course are to discuss advanced project management tools so as to orient engineers with the knowledge and skills needed to manage such projects, covering aspects like formulation of a project and management of its scope, organisation, time, resources, costs, quality, procurement, risks, information system and interpersonal skills.

ENGINEERING COUNCIL OF INDIA

About Engineering Council of India (ECI)

ECI was established on April 4, 2002 by coming together of a large number of Professional Organizations /Institutions of engineers to work for the advancement of engineering profession in various disciplines and for enhancing the image of engineers in society, by focusing on quality and accountability of engineers and to enable the recognition of expertise of Indian engineers and their mobility at international level in the emerging WTO/GATS environment. It has emerged as a common voice of its member organizations.

Objectives

The main objectives of ECI are to work for the advancement of engineering profession in various disciplines and for enhancing the image of engineers in the society. To this end, ECI is focusing on quality and accountability of engineers, professionalisation and their mobility for delivering engineering services in other countries, with expertise of Indian engineers developed, recognized and accepted at the international level.

Engineers' Bill

ECI has facilitated formulation of a conscious draft Engineers' Bill for the consideration of the Govt. of India, which aims at the recognition and regulation of the Engineering profession in the country. The draft is being processed by the Ministry of Human Resource Development.
