

The Zoo Snooze

Who: You and the Oregon Zoo Critters!

What: What's a Zoo Snooze? It is a fun, and educational opportunity to campout in a classroom at the Oregon Zoo. Not only do you get to have a slumber party with your friends, but you get to tour the exhibits at night, prepare a snack for the animals, and do activities with the zoo staff. What a great way to bond with your classmates, and learn about science at the same time!

When and Where: We will leave on Friday, April 13th, after school and be back at Blanchet by Saturday at about 10-10:30 am. We will be traveling by bus. All food (dinner, evening snack, and breakfast) is included in the cost of admission. Students and all chaperones will campout in sleeping bags in classrooms Friday night. Bathrooms will be available, but not showers. A more complete list of what to bring, and what not to bring will be available closer to the date. The fee includes bus, zoo fee, registration, and all food for the weekend. Please keep in mind, that you must attend the whole field trip. The zoo gates will be locked to the public, so you can not leave early or come late.

Cost: $50 dollars per person (this includes chaperones). Please include your money when you return this form. We need this money to make our reservations, and it will be nonrefundable.

RSVP: In order to reserve this date we need you to return the attached form as soon as possible. We plan to take about thirty students if we have enough chaperones. It is required that we have one chaperone for every five students. Parents will make up the bulk of the chaperones along with 2-4 school personnel. Bring this form and your money to Mrs. Lyons on or before Thursday, March 1st.
