Root Cause Investigation

This class follows the entire root cause process from beginning to end and makes the actual determination of a root cause easier to understand. This is a must class for all new safety personnel, supervisors, foremen and anyone who is considering entering the safety profession. It is also an inexpensive and excellent training addendum for those people that have completed the CSST program in the last three years.

Course Objective

To provide the knowledge and skills necessary to participate in effective root cause analysis in order to positively impact the reliability of plant operations.

Course Includes

- Problem solving flowchart
- Cause and effect chain
- Cause and effect chart process
- Cause and effect flowchart
