Partnerships for preparing students to meet the needs of today's complex job environments

Ross Clennett, International keynote speaker and specialist in the Recruitment Industry and author of Succeed Quickly or Fail Slowly and Changing War on Talent will engage you in discussion on:

- major changes to the Australian employment market over the past 15 years, predictions for the next 5-10 years, skills in demand (now and in the next 5 years), the opportunities for job seekers outside of Australia.
- how organisations recruit their employees and how this has changed over the past 10 year, the role of organisations in developing their employees.
- how to present yourself as a job seeker in the most advantageous way in application and interview.
- how recruitment agencies work and, as a job seeker, how to best gain employment through an agency.
- how to take responsibility for your own career and skill development (as a job seeker/ employee).

Partnerships for preparing students to meet the needs of today's complex job environments

Anyone in a position of working with young people in their preparation for the future must make the time to attend this Forum.

It provides an opportunity for key groups involved in assisting young people move from school to work or further education to get right up-to-date on career development. Local Community Partnership (LCP) staff, school career advisers, Regional Industry Career Advisers, industry representatives, employers and vocational education and training staff will hear about current career and transition issues from leaders in career management and practitioners from education and training. Principal outcomes will bring stakeholders together and the opportunity to work together to better meet the employment and career needs of young people.

Date: Monday 18 May 2009
Time: 10.00 am – 2.30 pm
Venue: The Sebel Surry Hills,
 28 Albion Street,
