

Outstanding teaching and learning in primary geography

CPD
Training Courses from the
Geographical Association

Leeds

Monday 3 February 2014

London

Friday 7 March 2014

Leicester

Monday 24 March 2014

For primary teachers and subject co-ordinators

Overview

This course is designed to address key areas of concern highlighted by primary teachers across the country. It will help you promote high-quality geographical learning and teaching in your school and ensure that the geography you plan and deliver is progressive, meaningful, emotive and inspiring.

The day will include a mix of presentations, group work and practical activities. You should bring your subject plans to help with improvement planning tasks.

Aims and outcomes

- Explore outstanding teaching and learning in primary geography
- Assess pupils' learning and how to set improvement targets
- Use the school grounds and local area for geographical learning
- Promote high-quality geographical detection skills
- Use geography to support community cohesion and the global dimension

Presenter

Jeff Stanfield, County Geography Inspector/Adviser
Hampshire LA and freelance geography consultant
