Professional Development Grant

GUIDELINES

Professional Development Grants are self-learning activities that are prospectively planned by individual Fellows in collaboration with a mentor, supervisor or instructor. These self-learning activities are planned to achieve a defined set of learning objectives and qualify as planned learning projects within Section 2 – Planned Learning (2 credits per hour) of the Royal College's Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. Professional Development grants can be developed as individual traineeships to learn a skill or expand an area of competence relevant to their scope of practice. Professional Development grants can equally support participation in Formal Courses offer by a university, college or institute.

General Policies

- Only Fellows are eligible to apply for funding for a professional development grant.
- All professional development grants must be structured to meet the self-learning requirements of traineeships or formal courses as defined by the Royal College's MOC Program.
- Professional Development grants can be developed to address a relevant professional practice need within any domain of clinical practice
- Professional Development grants can be designed to achieve or enhance competencies across one or more of the CanMEDS Roles.
- The learning plan, the selection of activities and evaluation strategies must be developed in collaboration with a mentor, supervisor or instructor and structured to provide each Fellow with feedback on the achievement of the intended learning objectives.
- Professional Development grants can occur in any location within Canada.

Grant Eligibility

- Each applicant must be a Fellow of the Royal College in good standing.
- Each applicant must be practicing in the region at the time of application and intending to return to practicing in the region following the completion of the professional development activity.
- Each applicant is eligible to receive a professional development grant once every 5 years.

Application Process

A Royal College Professional Development grant application form must be completed with required documentation and forwarded to the Office of Professional Affairs by the applicant at least 8 weeks in advance of the start of the planned period of professional development.

Grant Conditions

Within 3 months of completion of their professional development grant, each successful applicant must provide the Royal College with the following documents:

- A completed report using a standardized report template provided by the Royal College that summarizes their experiences and achievements;
- A copy of the evaluation form completed by their supervisor or mentor;
- Evidence they have documented their professional development findings and outcomes in MAINPORT using the Self-Learning (Section 2) planned learning template for traineeships or formal courses.

Grant Amount

- All successful applicants will receive $1,000 per week ($200 per day) up to a maximum of $4,000.
- 50% of the funds will be distributed at the time the application is approved.
- The balance of the funds will be distributed once the professional development activity has been completed and all required documents have been provided to the Office of Professional Affairs.
