Please Note: Student Resources: Students must declare all resources when applying for a bursary. This includes, but is not limited to, money received from scholarships, awards, and employment earnings. All student resources will be compared against the student's current OSAP application or the assessment notice from the financial aid of another province. Allowable Expenses: Allowable expenses include all direct educational costs, including tuition, books, and living expenses.

The Financial Aid office will maintain a list of reasonable living and education costs, based on costs allowed by OSAP. Students with extra costs because of special circumstances must use the bursary appeal process to access additional funding.

The School of Graduate Studies at Trent University allows the disclosure or exchange of information to donors or sponsors and internal departments as required regarding the awarding of scholarships and bursaries.
