STAFF

Corsairs Head Coach
Amy Sasin

A New England native who has achieved success playing and coaching at two of the most highly-regarded softball programs in the region is head softball coach at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth. Sasin served as an assistant coach at Wheaton College in Norton, MA for three seasons, assisted at Oliver Ames High School in North Easton, MA, and coached in the Westport Youth Softball program. A 1999 BSU graduate, Sasin was a four-year starter for the Bears as a catcher, serving as team captain three times and twice earning All-American honors.

Since taking the helm of the UMass Dartmouth Corsairs in 2011, Sasin has brought her heart passion and get dirty attitude for the game to the program helping it reach new heights in the Little East Conference. In 2014, the team finished 4th in conference, the highest regular season finish by UMD softball as well as Sasin being named “Coach of the Year” by the Little East Conference Coaches. In 2015, UMD made the postseason, accomplishing back to back appearances.

Sasin will be joined by UMD pitching coach Shannon Silva and the current UMD softball team.
