Sales Invoice Template with Discount Percentage Column Features and Facts

Sales Invoice Template with Discount Percentage Column is a variant of Sales Invoice Template with Discount Amount Column. It differs from the original one by changing the discount amount field to percentage field on the printable invoice form.

The original sample invoice template Sales Invoice Template with Discount Amount Column defines the discount column as an amount value, i.e. the Line Total equals to Unit Price * Quantity - Discount. There are also many businesses who prefer to use a percentage discount, i.e. make the Line Total equals to Unit Price * Quantity * (1- Discount Percentage). So here is the Sales Invoice Template with Discount Percentage Column for those people.

This customized sample invoice template has exactly the same layout and format as the original one. It includes "Shipping To" fields so it is also a Sales Invoice Template, except the number format of the Discount column is now a percentage, and the formula of the line total fields is changed too. Download Sales Invoice Template with Discount Percentage Column for free from the download page to see the details.
