

Be A Smart Cookie!

Summer is upon us once again! In order to encourage summer reading, we will have The Sacred Heart Summer Reading Program.

Each child will use this "Be a Smart Cookie" paper as their reading log. Students need to write the title and author of each book they read during the summer. This paper can be used as their reading log. The reading log should be returned to school by the date on the bottom of this form which is September 6, 2013 and be signed by a parent.

Each child in Kindergarten through grade 3 should read to least 10 books. Children entering grade 4 through grade 8 should read at least 5 chapter books at their reading level. These five can include the books required by the reading teachers.

Part of the fun of summer is choosing books to read for pleasure. I hope that all of the students at Sacred Heart choose something that transports them to other worlds, either real or imagined, that expands the imagination, entertains and enlightens while helping to sharpen the reading skills that have been built during the course of the school year.

This can be done by looking through all of those books on the shelves at home, browsing the stacks at the local library, or walking through the bookstore searching all of the tables of summer reading selections. And, of course, there is an infinite amount of information about books and authors, as well as a wealth of fun, educational literacy games available online.

Have a wonderful summer and "Be a Smart Cookie" for a portion of the time, you won't regret it.

Thank You,

Mrs. Kilbane

Be A Smart Cookie!

Summer is upon us once again!
In order to encourage summer
reading, we will have The Sacred Heart Summer Reading Program.

Each child will use the back of this brochure as their "Be a Smart Cookie" reading log.
This is to be used as a record of the books that they read during the summer. This reading log should be returned to school by the date on the bottom of this form which is September 6, 2013 and must be signed by a parent.

Each child in Kindergarten through grade 3 should read to least 10 books. Children entering grade 4 through grade 8 should read at least 5 chapter books at their reading level.
These five can include the books
required by the reading
teachers.

Part of the fun of summer is
