EMERGING LEADER AWARD AND SYMPOSIUM APPLICATION

Home Performance Coalition Emerging Leader Award

In celebrating 30 years of Home Performance Conferences, the Home Performance Coalition is looking to the next 30 years by recognizing one of our industry's rising stars with our first ever HPC Emerging Leader Award. This new honor features a different and exciting award - the recipient will curate the inaugural HPC Young Leader Symposium at the 2016 National Home Performance Conference in Austin, TX, April 4-7.

Criteria

- Demonstrated track record of emerging leadership in the residential energy efficiency industry through upward mobility within organizations as well as a demonstrated commitment to the industry through volunteer activities
- Strength of programming proposal/relevance to the future of our industry/cutting edge content and/or delivery format (we want innovation from the young leaders!)
- Under 40 years of age on April 7, 2016
- Willingness to lend support to current and future HPC activities
- Ability to be responsible and honor commitments
- Possession of leadership skills
- Availability to attend and develop content for the National Home Performance Conference

Please complete all sections of the application. Applications must be received by January 31, 2016.
