Kirkland Museum of Fine & Decorative Art displays a major collection of international decorative art from about 1875 to about 1990. More than 3,500 works are shown from every major design period from Arts & Crafts to Postmodern. About 700 works by more than 230 Colorado and regional artists are on view. The Colorado and regional art collection is concerned with a period from 1820 to about 1990 (traditional through modern), with an emphasis on the 1850s onwards. The museum also features a retrospective of Colorado's distinguished painter, Vance Kirkland (1904–1981). All three collections are housed in a 1911 Arts & Crafts building, formerly Kirkland's art school and studio, which will be relocated from 1311 Pearl Street to become a central part of the new museum experience. Kirkland Museum is a member of Historic Artists' Homes and Studios, a program of the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

Regarding the tax-deductibility of memberships:

Kirkland Museum of Fine & Decorative Art is a 501 (c)(3) tax exempt organization. Under Internal Revenue Service guidelines, you may be entitled to deduct all or part of your gift(s). The tax-deductible portion of the museum membership is as follows: Student/Senior/Teacher $30; Individual $35; Dual $45; Individual + Guest $50; Arts & Crafts $100; Art Nouveau $245; Bauhaus $440; Art Deco $817; Modern $2,317.

You may choose to make your membership fully tax-deductible by declining some of your member benefits.

Be part of Kirkland Museum's new adventure!

We are building a new facility and relocating to 1201 Bannock Street in Denver's Golden Triangle Museum District. The new 38,500 square foot museum, designed by Seattle-based Olson Kundig, is projected to open in 2017.

Kirkland Museum will remain open at the current Capitol Hill location through May 1, 2016.
