Dear Parishioners,

November brings memories of our loved ones who have died, whose names surround us in church, who are already enjoying the kingdom of God. It's harvest time; thus, the pumpkins and gourds. The fruitfulness of the earth reminds us of the fruitfulness of their lives - in progeny and in works of mercy and love. They've been harvested home. They are the "great cloud of witnesses," our own saints.

The readings speak about giving our all, like the widow's donation of the last of her money. This passage precedes Jesus' first prediction of his passion, his giving of us all. The widow in the first reading trusts Elijah, using the last smidgen of her flour and oil to make him something to eat. He promises that God will supply her need and she, amazingly, believes him. Recalling that widows in those days were considered expendable and had no social standing, their great generosity is even more striking.

People's experience of Superstorm Sandy holds many lessons for those experiencing it and for the rest of us. There is great sadness, of course, for those who've lost loved ones and a sense of isolation for everyone cut off from communication with the outside world. We assume we'll have power, heat, light, gasoline for cars or generators. Does this experience cause them to be newly grateful for these basic services we can take for granted? How about us?

The blessing in this awful tragedy is that people have opened their homes to each other, have checked on elderly neighbors, and have shared the electricity they had. And in the process, whether on the giving end or the receiving end, they've discovered that we really are one family, regardless of our differences.

If you can give blood which is sorely needed for these areas, please call 1-800-707-8483.

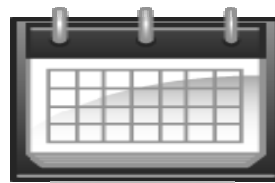

Thank you. Peace, S. Sheral

Next Weeks Collection

Next week's Collection for the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD) needs your support. CCHD was founded to end the cycle of poverty in America by funding organizations that help individuals help themselves. With the tradition of improving education, housing situations, and economic development, CCHD continues to make a positive impact in communities nationwide. Fight poverty in America. Defend human dignity. Give to the CCHD Collection.

In Memory of the Faithfully Departed.

When Someone Is Ill

If you're aware of a parishioner who is homebound, in the hospital or in rehab, please be sure to let Sr. Patricia know. She can be reached at posullivan3@juno.com or at 589-0104. She'd rather hear twice than not at all. Thank you.

Thanksgiving Traditions-St. Vincent de Paul

Please help us continue our Thanksgiving tradition as we share our blessings with those in need. Saint Vincent de Paul Society volunteers will be delivering Thanksgiving food bags to 40 or more families living in San Bruno and we will need items to insure a good traditional T.G. dinner.

Items like; cranberry sauce; chicken broth; turkey stuffing; mashed potato mixes; canned yams & canned pumpkin can be placed in the baskets located on the altar steps..

Thanking you on behalf of those less fortunate.
