PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Ohio Urological Society (OUS) Board of Directors has been hard at work planning the 2016 Annual Spring Meeting. This event is the highlight of the year for the society and offers an opportunity for our members, residents, visiting speakers and corporate partners to get together and learn about some of latest controversies in urology.

Much thought and effort has gone into planning this upcoming program. While attendance has been stable in recent years, our goal is to try to grow the society and make it an appealing meeting for all healthcare professionals with an interest in urology to attend. We have attempted to incorporate as much of your feedback as possible into the planning of this year's program. As such, we are pleased to once again bring a live surgery to this year's meeting, thanks to Bodo Knudsen's expertise in PCNL.

The meeting will be held in Cleveland at the Westin Cleveland Downtown Hotel, March 4-5, 2016.

Below are a few "fun facts" about Cleveland for those of you not familiar with the local area:

It's not a bird, not a plane, it's Superman!-he was born in Cleveland from the imaginations of Jerry Siegel & Joe Shuster-1933. He'll be on display at the airport.

Take note from the airplane as you fly above Cleveland, The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum was designed by IM Pei to look like a record player.

*The Cleveland Cavaliers are playing over the weekend:
3/4: Cleveland Cavaliers vs Washington Wizards, Quicken Loans Arena*

3/5: Cleveland Cavaliers vs Boston Celtics, Quicken Loans Arena

Please visit Destination Cleveland for information about other entertainment and dining options: <http://www.thisiscleveland.com/>

I look forward to seeing you all here in Cleveland this spring. Please feel free to contact me directly at Edward.cherullo@UHhospitals.org if you have any questions or concerns regarding the Ohio Urological Society.

Edward Cherullo, MD
OUS President

TREASURER'S REPORT

Our organization has a total of $40,162 in our deposit accounts as of December 1, 2015. Our investment holding in our UBS account has $231,712.99 similar to 2014.

We encourage everyone to pay their 2016 annual dues (notices have been sent).

It is our goal to make 2016 our best meeting ever. Please invite your peers to join OUS and participate in our annual meeting!

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

I am very excited to share with you the wonderful program planned for this year's Ohio Urological Society (OUS) 2016 Annual Spring Meeting to be held March 4-5, 2016 in Cleveland. The OUS board has organized what promises to be one of our best meetings with a diversity of topics and speakers sure to benefit everyone, no matter their practice focus.

Our program will begin on Friday evening with a Welcome Reception and an opportunity to mingle with colleagues and old friends from around the state. We once again will have the opportunity to hear from elected officials on political and health care policies relevant to our membership.

We will host our Moderated Poster Session on Friday evening; this is a chance to hear our residents from around the state present the latest research that they are working on.

Our Saturday morning program will begin with resident research presentations highlighting the best projects.

We are pleased to once again offer a live surgical broadcast. This year we will feature a PCNL surgery that will be moderated by one of our guest speakers, Dr. Mitch Humphreys from Mayo Clinic Scottsdale in Scottsdale, AZ. There will be opportunity for questions and real-time interaction between the audience in the meeting room and Bodo Knudsen's team in the OR. To note, Dr. Humphreys has an engaging presence and is sure to be entertaining as well as informative.

Our next session, Controversies in Prostate Cancer will feature Dr. Leonard Gomella from Jefferson University in Philadelphia speaking about the role of the urologist and our own Andrew Stephenson providing an overview of the latest in diagnostics. With the controversies surrounding prostate cancer today the panel discussion is sure to be lively.

We are pleased to have with us this year Dr. Dana Ohl, from University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, who is our NCS visiting professor. He will be speaking about the urological care of the transgender patient. This is part of an exciting session featuring Controversies in Sexual Health that will also feature presentations from our other Ohio guest speakers; Dr. Sheryl Kingsberg and Dr. Allen Seftel.

After our Industry Sponsored lunch we will return to a lively discussion about Controversies in Stone Disease. Dr. Humphreys will present his State of the Art Lecture: Stone Disease Diagnosis; Medical Management and Prevention. This will be followed by a panel discussion featuring some of our local colleagues.

Finally, we will have our Controversies in Voiding Dysfunction session where we will hear what's new in both female and male surgery management.

As a new addition to this year's program we will conclude with a fun session featuring Bizarre and Interesting Cases that will be submitted by residents across the state.

I encourage everyone to join us in Cleveland for what promises to be a great meeting! Please invite your local colleagues and partners to come and participate in the OUS.

Best regards,

Geoffrey Box, MD

NEEDS & OBJECTIVES

NEEDS

The diagnosis and management of urologic stone disease carry with it the obligatory risk of medical or surgical complications. Pre-therapeutic identification of those individuals at specific risk, as well as the early identification of these complications and timely therapeutic intervention to treat them are imperative for the successful management of the disease as well as patient safety.

Percutaneous renal surgery is a specialized area of urology that utilizes image guided access techniques, scopes and special lithotripters to access the urinary tract and remove stones in a minimally invasive manner. Knowledge regarding the best application of this technology, its unique risks to our patients, how to avoid or minimize those risks, and what to do when they do occur is essential. Knowledge of the risks and proper performance of percutaneous renal surgery is imperative.

The medical management of nephrolithiasis can be complex and include initial evaluation, dietary modification, pharmacologic treatment and decisions of appropriate follow-up. Identifying those patients best suited for each option is critical to providing safe, appropriate care. Also, urologists should be aware of the American Urological Association (AUA) guidelines for medical management of kidney stones.

Female Hypoactive Sexual Desire Disorder is a very prevalent sexual disorder in women of all ages. Understanding the evaluation, diagnosis and treatment options are important for practicing urologists. The FDA recently approved the first drug to treat this disorder. Urologists should have knowledge of the indications and side effects of this medication.

Lower urinary tract symptoms secondary to clinical BPH are some of the most common conditions treated by urologists. Usually these symptoms can be managed medically, but surgical intervention is sometimes indicated. Patient and procedure selection is critical to successful patient outcomes.

Medications are used as first-line therapy for overactive bladder (OAB), but surgical options become necessary or are preferred in some patients. There have been advances in these procedures that have brought many benefits and some new complications. The correct use of these procedures has improved the quality of life for many patients but patient selection, complication recognition and management can be complex and understanding these issues is paramount to patient care.

It is imperative that urologists are familiar with the standards of care authored by the World Professional Association for Transgender Health as it relates to the role of the urologists, and the improvement of patient care.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of the OUS 2016 Annual Spring Meeting, attendees should be able to:

1. Describe various techniques used in percutaneous renal surgery to maximize outcomes and minimize complications.
2. Describe the available genetic tests for assisting with the management of prostate cancer patients.
3. Explain the evaluation and management of nephrolithiasis and patient selection for medical expulsive therapy, shock wave lithotripsy, retrograde renal surgery and percutaneous nephrolithotomy (PCNL).
4. Recognize the agents and strategies used for refractory overactive bladder and their efficacy and side effects.
5. Identify current indications for the appropriate use of testosterone.
6. Identify the role of the urologist with transgender patient care.

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint providership of the American College of Legal Medicine and the OUS. The American College of Legal Medicine is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

AMA PRA CATEGORY 1 CREDITS™

The American College of Legal Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 10.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
