Electrical License Requirements (RSA 319-C)

In accordance with New Hampshire Statute, it is unlawful for anyone to install electrical work without a license unless they are exempt from the licensing requirements. No one is exempt from the Electrical Code requirements. All installations, regardless of who performs the work, must comply with New Hampshire and Nashua Electrical Codes.

Exemptions for Homeowners (RSA 319-C:15)

The electrical licensing requirements do not apply to "a homeowner...making electrical installations in or about a single family residence owned and occupied by him or her or to be occupied by him or her as his or her bona fide personal abode." This only applies if the homeowner is actually installing the work. Homeowners who apply for and are issued electrical permits and then decide to contract with a licensed electrician, for all or a portion of the work, shall have the licensed electrician apply and obtain an electrical permit for the work being done by the licensed electrician. The homeowner shall not obtain an electrical permit and then have someone else (licensed or not) do the work under the permit obtained by the owner.

Definitions

For the purposes of administering the above exemptions, the following definitions shall apply:

Residence means a detached, single-family dwelling unit

Homeowner means owner of record who currently resides in dwelling or has the bona fide intent to reside there

Code Provisions (ICC Electrical Code)

Suspension or revocation of permit The code official is authorized to suspend or revoke a permit issued under the provisions of this code wherever the permit is issued in error, on the basis of incorrect, inaccurate or incomplete information; in violation of any ordinance, regulation or any of the provisions of this code; or if there have been any false statements or misrepresentations as to the material fact in the application for permit. (403.7)

Permits obtained under false pretenses are subject to suspension or revocation People are not permitted to obtain permits under the exemptions above then proceed to hire or contract with someone who is not properly licensed to do the work. (403.7)

Work commencing before permit issuance Any person who commences any work before obtaining the necessary permits shall be subject to an additional fee established by the code official (100 percent of the permit fee but not to exceed $250), in addition to the required permit fees. (404.3)

I have read and understand the above. I understand that making a false statement on this form is an offense against New Hampshire law. I attest the place where I intend to perform electrical work is a single-family residence and is my place of abode or abode-to-be.
