KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Nancy Kellogg, M.D.

*Professor of pediatrics and head of the Division of Child Abuse
University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio*

Dr. Kellogg is recognized by her peers in Texas as a foremost authority on sexual and physical abuse of children. Dr. Kellogg has evaluated more than 10,000 children and teens for abuse over 26 years. She is a professor of pediatrics at the Health Science Center and founding medical director of the Center for Miracles, a child abuse and neglect assessment center, a collaboration of several organizations.

Robert F. Anda, MD, MS

*Scientific Consultant (Medicine and Public Health Policy)
Co-PI and Co-Founder, Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACE) Study
Captain, U.S Public Health Service (Ret.)*

Dr. Anda earned his MD from Chicago's Rush Medical College in 1979, and is Board Certified in Internal Medicine. After earning an MS in Epidemiology from the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine in 1984, he served for 2 years as an Epidemic Intelligence Service Officer for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). At the CDC, Dr. Anda has served as an Epidemiologist in the Nutrition Division, the Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance Branch, the Cardiovascular Health Studies Branch, and on the Task Force on Genetics in Public Health. From 1992 to 1994, he was the Chief of Epidemiology and the Surveillance Section in Cardiovascular Health. Since 1993, Dr. Anda has been a co-Principal Investigator of the ACE Study. He has authored and coauthored numerous publications on the health and social implications of adverse childhood experiences.

Rosalinda Mercado-Garza

Born in Mexico but raised in Harlingen/San Benito area in the Rio Grande Valley, Rosalinda Mercado-Garza is the eleventh child out of 13 in her family. Growing up in a family of former migrant workers, she dreamed of a life beyond the fields. After 16 years as an educator, she had the opportunity to share her experiences with her parents, staff and students. Her family is complete with her husband Genaro, daughter Gisele and son Gael. She is the author of an autoethnographic novel, which offers insight into her life from childhood to motherhood. In From Being Considered At-Risk to Becoming Resilient she shares a glimpse of how a life filled with poverty and abuse impacted the choices she made along the way to obtain her education and achieve a more balanced professional and personal life. These lived experiences are ones we can take with us in our career, philanthropic work, as well as impart with family and friends.
