About this Program

This continuing education program focuses on the improvement of maternal and infant health through the delivery of risk-appropriate high-quality nutrition services. It is designed for dietitians, nutritionists, certified nurse midwives, registered nurses and nurse practitioners, physicians and public health professionals who serve preconceptual, pregnant, postpartum and breastfeeding women.

OBJECTIVES

- Describe ways that appropriate nutrition services can improve pregnancy outcomes.
- Describe the effect of maternal eating behaviors on birth outcomes and infant health status and development.
- Identify characteristics of model programs and counseling approaches for maternal and infant nutritional health.

Cancellation Policy

A refund can be made if written notice of cancellation is received by July 15. All refunds will be assessed a $25 administrative fee. A full refund will be made if the program is not held. The University of Minnesota reserves the right to cancel the program if necessary.

COURSE LOCATION AND PARKING

The course will be held in Cowles Auditorium at the Hubert H. Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs, 301-19th Avenue South on the West Bank Campus of the University of Minnesota.

Online viewing is available from August 20 to October 22, 2010 and eligible for up to 9.6 contact hours of professional continuing education or .96 Continuing Education Units (CEUs).

PREPARATION FOR STREAMING FOR THIS EVENT:

- Before viewing go to: <http://www.unite.umn.edu/streaming-video/special> to learn about system requirements.
- We will send complete video viewing instructions upon registration.
- Firewalls and slow Internet connections may make it impossible to view the program. Be sure to view the demonstration site prior to registering.

VIEWING OPTIONS

- Small groups of 3-4 people can gather around a personal computer to view the video streamed program.
- Larger groups require computer (LCD) projection and classroom/auditorium space. In this setting, the group can enhance the program by conducting their own discussions after the sessions.

GROUP SITE REGISTRATION

The registration fee for a group site is $100 for 9 or fewer participants and $200 for 10-20 participants. Each site receives a login identifier and password to access the program unlimited times from August 20-October 22, 2010. Sites with more than 20 participants will be charged $10 for each additional person requesting a certificate of attendance.

Group sites are required to provide a site coordinator who is responsible for:

- Registering the organization/company
- Acting as the contact person for communication with the University of Minnesota
- Ensuring that the organization's equipment meets the minimum technical requirements
- Testing the computer configuration and linkages with the demonstration prior to a group program
- Distributing information about accessing the program and providing technical support to participants who view the video streamed program on individual computers
- Collecting fees for additional participants (more than 20 participants per site) and submitting payment to the University of Minnesota
- Returning continuing education forms and program evaluations from participants to the University of Minnesota
