

NOTICE

This vacancy will remain posted at Human Resources and will be listed on our web site until notification is received from the President's Office that the position has been filled or written notice is received that the position has changed or will not be filled as posted.

Hiring Procedure for Staff Positions

When a vacancy occurs:

Please send a copy of the letter of resignation (for a contract employee) or a Non-Academic Personnel Action Notice with the section for resignation completed (for an hourly employee) to the President's Office as soon as a resignation is known.

Filling a vacancy:

1. Complete a Faculty/Staff Personnel Request form, available from Human Resources. Be sure to include budget number and signature for placement of ads.
2. Route the Faculty/Staff Personnel Request Form to the appropriate offices for the required signatures.
3. The Faculty/Staff Personnel Request Form will be returned to Human Resources for approval by the EEO officer. The EEO officer will discuss any suggested changes with the originating office. A qualification listed as "preferred" will allow the department to select an applicant that does not have that qualification but it will be given special consideration in the decision process. An applicant should not be considered if he/she does not have a qualification which is listed as "required."
4. Human Resources will post the position opening and prepare the advertisement(s). The originating office will receive copies of all materials involved. All vacancies must be posted for five working days, to include one Tuesday, before applicants can be contacted and interviews arranged. Depending on where the ad is published, please allow time for applicants to respond before giving serious consideration to making a final decision. See the suggested time frame on page two of the Faculty/Staff Personnel Request Form.
5. Application materials for staff positions should be directed to the Human Resources Office. A copy of all applications received in response to advertisements will be forwarded to the hiring office.
6. Conduct interviews and check references (at least five working days after posting).

7. Complete the Non-Academic Personnel Action Notice for the recommended candidate. Attach a copy of the application, transcripts, a summary of the verification of references, a brief rationale as to why this person is best qualified for the position, and a statement that the person recommended for employment meets all criteria listed as “required” on that position posting. If all qualifications are met, the information listed above should be forwarded to the appropriate offices for approval.
 - If the recommended employee does not meet all the criteria specified as “required” by the originating department, the position search must be reopened with a new posting and a revised position description. The originating department should contact the Human Resources Supervisor to initiate a new posting. Once again, a five-day waiting period must be observed.
8. An offer of employment to the person recommended for employment can NOT be made until the Non-Academic Personnel Action Notice has been approved, signed, and returned to the hiring office.

After employment offer is accepted:

1. Make sure the new employee comes to the Human Resources Office to fill out all required paperwork so he/she will get a paycheck. The new employee will need to meet with the Benefits Coordinator. It is advisable to call ahead and make an appointment. A driver’s license and Social Security card, or other appropriate identification, are required to complete the I-9 and other paperwork.
2. Complete the Position Recruitment Report and send the original to Sally Detweiler, Gender Equity/EEO Compliance Officer and a copy to Human Resources.
3. It is important that applicants receive notification that the position has been filled. Please coordinate with Human Resources to assure that all candidates who applied for the position are notified. Sending Human Resources a copy of the Position Recruitment Report will assist in that process.
4. All application materials of persons not selected should be destroyed or returned to Human Resources.

Confidentiality:

All information provided about an applicant is confidential and should not be available to individuals who are not directly involved in the search process. Information learned from this process should not be discussed or shared outside the search committee.
