Certificates

Certificates for the purpose of first aid at work last for three years. Before their certificates expire, first-aiders will need to undertake a requalification course as appropriate, to obtain another three-year certificate. Once certificates have expired the first aider is no longer considered to be competent to as a workplace first-aider.

Half Day Annual Refresher Course

Under the current guidelines it is 'strongly recommended' that first aid trained staff attend a half-day update every 12 months before completing full re-qualification training at the 3 year point. This can be booked individually or as a group at your own venue. Further details on request.
