

Instructions for Hiring Manager and Search Committee for iGreentree— TCU's online application system

1. Go to <https://tcu.igreentree.com/>
2. Click on Hiring Manager.
3. Contact the HR Employee Coordinator for your username and password.
4. Click on the Login button.
5. In the box on the left, click on Reqs.
6. Then select My Reqs.
7. The next screen will display any jobs that you are the Hiring Manager or search committee member for.
8. The number in blue is the number assigned to the position by iGreentree.
9. The status column will tell you if the position is open, closed, or on hold.
10. There is a small box containing a plus sign to the left of the blue requisition number. Click on that box to view the applicants for that position.
11. You should now see a chart that displays all of the applicants who met the minimum posted qualifications.
12. The fourth column is a pre-screening section that rates the candidates on their answers to the screening questions that accompanied your position. The column is a requirement since this form replaces the Form II and Form III.
13. The "Result for this Req" column is very important. Applicants have a status screen that updates them on the status of the hiring process and how the search is proceeding. This must be updated by the Hiring Manager as soon as the applicants start applying. The automatic response that the system inserts is Received Application. As soon as you open the box that lists the applicants, you should change all of those that say Received Application to another response choice from the drop-down menu. Routed to Department, HR is Reviewing, Departmental Review, and Reviewable are some I use. If you know that the person will not be one of the ones considered, then Not Selected or Limited Teaching Experience are possible choices. I can add new messages if you want something that is not on the menu. The applicant can view these responses.

14. The comment section should be filled in for every applicant. It is important because it allows us to provide information on why one candidate was chosen instead of another. Again, this form replaces Forms II & III in former faculty searches. Everyone should have a comment filled in for AA/EEO compliance. Do not put the same comment for everyone. Use job specific reason. The form will be reviewed by the AA Officer for the University. Applicants cannot see this comment.
15. You can interview only applicants who have applied online and met the minimum qualifications.
16. If anyone contacts you directly, refer them to HR immediately. We will help them with the application process for you.
17. At any point in the process after the required five day posting, I can close the position. I can send letters to applicants. The letter can be a "Thanks but no thanks" letter when applicants are not selected, or I can create email letters to send whatever information that you would like.
18. The letters can go to one person or to everyone. Let me know the desired contents and recipients.

Recruitment Procedures (Please initial each step when completed.)

Human Resources now provides EEO II and III reports. Departments no longer need to mail Voluntary Survey Cards.

_____ 1. A Faculty Search Authorization form, accompanied by a copy of the proposed advertisement or position announcement, must be processed by the school/department in which a vacancy occurs. Final authorization rests with the Provost. Upon approval by the Provost, the original Faculty Search Authorization form, search guidelines, and appropriate forms are sent to the school/department. The Provost's office will notify the Deputy Affirmative Action Officer that a search will begin.

_____ 2. Most searches for tenure-track faculty appointments involve the formation of a search committee. Ideally, the committee should be appointed before a position description has been finalized and members should have the opportunity to review it before it is submitted for approval, in order to ensure a range of input and perspectives.

_____ 3. TCU is committed to national advertising of full-time faculty positions. Any deviation from this policy must be approved by the Dean of the school/college in which the vacancy occurs and by the Provost. The Provost's office covers the cost of advertising for faculty positions; the specific allocation amount is set annually. Departments may choose to place ads in The Chronicle of Higher Education, professional journals/newsletters, or post position announcements on appropriate web sites. At a minimum, (budgeted) full-time tenure-track positions must be advertised in one national site (i.e. Chronicle), two minority sites (AAHHE; Diverse Issues in Higher Education), one women's site (WIHE), and on the TCU Human Resources website: <http://www.hr.tcu.edu/300.htm>. Lecturer positions (at a minimum) must be posted on the TCU website, the AAHHE site and Diverse Issues in Higher Education site. All advertisements and postings must contain the statement: "TCU is an AA/EEO employer." Ads will be posted for a minimum of five business days. Payments for advertisements should be processed through the office of the Provost.

_____ 4. All faculty positions must be posted on the TCU Human Resources website. Only applications on the TCU website will be accepted for review. Outside postings in journals, newsletters, or other websites must direct the candidate to the TCU website to apply. Resumes and other documents cannot be posted on other websites or sent directly to the department.

_____ 5. Letters or announcements must be sent to minority, women's and professional organizations notifying them of faculty vacancies and requesting names of qualified female and minority applicants. The office of the Provost will provide assistance in identifying such organizations as well as information from women's and minority doctoral candidate directories and prospective faculty vita banks as appropriate. A copy of all postings must accompany the EEO I form. Additionally, faculty in the hiring unit should contact colleagues for assistance in identifying women and minorities and other underrepresented groups who may be potential applicants.

_____ 6. Recruitment for all faculty vacancies must be undertaken without designation by race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age, veteran status, or disability status. It is a violation of federal standards for a position to be identified as open only to members of a particular minority group or gender. Faculty in the hiring unit should use all available sources to ensure that the underrepresented groups listed above are represented in the applicant pool.

_____ 7. Job requirements must be applied uniformly to applicants without regard to race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age, veteran status, or disability status. Departments must be certain that the credentials and level of experience, which are required for any position, are actually necessary for proper performance of the job. It is as inappropriate to relax standards in order to hire an applicant from an underrepresented group as it is to raise standards to artificially prohibit employment. Lowering standards preferentially for underrepresented groups is discrimination against others. A requirement for employment which results in a disproportional impact upon minorities or women can be maintained only if such requirement is clearly related to the job in question and is first approved by the Affirmative Action Officer.

Search Procedures For Full-Time Faculty Positions

Introduction

Texas Christian University is committed to its mission, vision and core values:

- Mission – To educate individuals to think and act as ethical leaders and responsible citizens in the global community.
- Vision – To be a prominent private university recognized for our global perspective, our diverse and supportive learning community, our commitment to research and creative discovery, and our emphasis on leadership development.
- Core Values – TCU values academic achievement, personal freedom and integrity, the dignity and respect of the individual, and a heritage of inclusiveness, tolerance and service.

With these tenets as a foundation, Texas Christian University, (TCU) affirms that all individuals must be treated with equity in the hiring, retention and promotion process. TCU insists that each person be evaluated on his or her individual merits and not on a stereotypic conception of any group classification practices. TCU rejects any and all barriers that artificially limit the professional and personal development to individuals.

TCU seeks candidates dedicated to excellence in teaching, scholarship, service and professional development. The following procedures are designed to guide all units engaged in searches for full-time faculty positions. These procedures and guidelines will assist units in making hiring decisions consistent with the campus commitment to our mission, vision, core values, and the affirmative action policy. Use of these procedures should 1) facilitate the development of excellent candidate pools, 2) help to eliminate potential sources of bias in the search and screening process, 3) lead to appointments that will bring more academic recognition to the University and support our work to create a more diverse and inclusive campus community. The foundational premise of our commitment to this process does not require a lessening of our commitment to our mission, vision and core values statement; rather, it is essential to the successful accomplishment of stated goals.

Under federal law and executive order, TCU and other institutions of higher education are required to comply with certain standards in their recruitment and hiring of faculty members. These policies and procedures are detailed in various publications of the Office for Civil Rights, the Department of Labor, and of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Pertinent documents are available from the TCU Affirmative Action Officer or from the Office of the Provost. Affirmative Action/EEO requirements for full-time faculty positions are incorporated in the following procedures.

Before Candidates Are Invited to Campus for Interviews

- _____ 1. Request the AA/EEO report from Human Resources.
- _____ 2. Forward the HR AA/EEO report and the EEO-Affirmative Action, Form 1 to the dean of the college for review and approval. The dean's office forwards the documents to the Provost's office for review and approval.

After the search procedures have been approved, the Provost's office notifies the school/department that a candidate may be scheduled for a campus visit.

Schools/departments are expected to make every effort to economize on travel and entertainment expenses by limiting the number of campus visits whenever possible. Funds are budgeted in the office of the Provost for bringing candidates to campus for formal interviews (i.e., airfare, mileage, lodging, meals, etc.), as well as entertainment expenses incurred by the school/department. The dean should be contacted concerning the departmental allocation for candidate expenses. Paperwork for candidate travel expenses and reimbursement for entertainment expenses should be processed through the dean to the Provost's office.

EEO-AFFIRMATIVE ACTION - FORM 1

Complete this form and return to Cindy Odiorne (c.odiorne@tcu.edu) in the Provost's office.

Recommendation and Appointment Procedures

(Initial Each Step When Completed)

- _____ 1. A criminal background check must be conducted for the top candidate prior to submissions of a recommendation letter. The school/department is responsible for sending the candidate's name, email information and position number applied for the Provost's office. An electronic invitation will be sent to the candidate requesting online background release information. The Provost's office will communicate the results to the dean and department chair.
- _____ 2. All recommended appointees are expected to meet the Southern Association criteria for faculty (i.e., have completed at least 18 graduate semester hours in the teaching field and hold at least a master's degree from a regionally accredited college or university.) In exceptional cases, outstanding professional experience and demonstrated contributions to the teaching discipline may be presented in lieu of formal academic preparation. Such exceptions must be justified in writing by the chair/dean to the Provost/Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs.
- _____ 3. When the department chair (or the dean in a non-departmentalized school) is ready to recommend the appointment of a new faculty member, he/she shall transmit a recommendation electronically that includes the following:
 - A. Name and address of candidate
 - B. Position number for the position to be filled.
 - C. Action to be taken (proposed rank, salary, number of years credit to be granted toward the tenure probationary period, and any special conditions of employment.)
 - D. Evaluation of the candidate. Explain why the candidate was chosen over others interviewed for the position. Include an estimate of the candidate's background and qualifications as reflected in the vita.
 - E. Conclusion. Explain how the candidate will fit into the teaching and research efforts of the school/department. For example, if the candidate will fill a qualitative gap in the school/department, designate the area and explain how the candidate's qualifications will fit the school/department's needs.
 - F. Request an AA/EEO report from HR identifying the candidates interviewed to be included with this recommendation.
 - G. A copy of the candidate's vita should be downloaded from iGreentree and electronically mailed to the Provost's office.
- _____ 4. The recommendation for appointment (prepared by the department chair) is forwarded electronically to the dean. The dean shall then forward the recommendation electronically to the Provost by way of a cover letter, which may confirm the information contained in the department's recommendation or provide additional information as appropriate.
5. The Provost issues an official letter of appointment and contract to the candidate.
- _____ 6. Once a candidate has accepted an offer, the online job evaluations on iGreentree must be completed by entering the specific job-related reasons why each applicant was rejected. This information should be placed in the Comment section of the Hiring Manager's page on iGreentree. The evaluation will be submitted to the University Affirmative Action Officer at the end of two weeks.

EMPLOYMENT OF NON-U.S. CITIZENS IN TENURE-TRACK FACULTY POSITIONS

Please keep in mind the following information when considering non-U.S. citizens for tenure-track faculty positions.

- First and foremost - keep in mind that IF the hiring department wants to hire a non-US citizen, they must be able to document (to the Department of Labor) that the qualifications of the non-U.S. citizen who is offered the position are superior to those of any U.S. citizen who applied for the position. This evidence will be required in conjunction with an Application for Alien Labor Certification (step 1 in the application process for Permanent Residency green card). Thus, complete and detailed documentation from the faculty search and all applicants considered should be retained.
- If there is any possibility that your department may wish to hire a non-US citizen for this position, a print ad is NO LONGER required. It is, however, still required that an electronic version of the ad be run for the hire -- in either the Chronicle of Higher Education - OR- in a national journal in that field.
- TCU cannot hire a non-U.S. citizen unless he/she already has or is able to obtain H-1B (Nonimmigrant Worker) status. This status has a maximum time period of 6 years and is obtained via a petition submitted to US Citizenship & Immigration Services by an immigration lawyer in Dallas, TX, on behalf of TCU. The prospective faculty member can be either in the U.S. or outside the U.S. - the procedure is the same and can take up to 4 months.
- The faculty member cannot begin employment until approval for H-1B status (and/or visa) has been received.
- In conjunction with H-1B employment, the university is required to offer a salary that is equivalent to or exceeds the "prevailing wage" for the position. This process is also handled by the immigration lawyer.
- Individuals on H-1B status are permitted to pursue permanent resident status in the U.S. Faculty candidates should be informed, however, that TCU does NOT provide legal counsel for subsequent applications/petitions involved in obtaining permanent resident status (green card). TCU will stipulate in the initial appointment letter that obtaining permanent resident status is required BEFORE tenure can be granted.
