GENCA QLD branch Winter Warmer

Saturday 20 June 2015

What you will learn?

What's your most bursting question on infection control in endoscopy? You may find the answer at this meeting. Likewise for the oft late diagnosed swallowing disorder - achalasia. Obesity being an epidemic that we see daily with our patients, we have sought a provocative speaker for your edification. We will look at one of the primary diagnostic cues for patients to have an endoscopy - iron deficiency. Then to round off, what about the pelvic floor, the symptoms, disasters (oops! fecal leakage) and treatment options.

Who should attend?

This study day is designed to meet the needs of Gastroenterology nurses and allied health practitioners.
