I think we need a surface suitable for recreational play as a minimum. I don't think we need a surface for regular sport but a something you can run on without risk of breaking an ankle
We would love to do sports such as rugby or football on it but nothing too fancy is needed really. Having village volunteers is a great plan.
Keep it flat and available for multiple sports (rugby, football, cricket etc). I have seen rugby posts that can also be used football, maybe something to consider.
Needs maintenance and then I would consider using it
Definitely go for "informal recreation activities", some that give enjoyment to more users. Avoid situation where some people feel excluded
Why not have village "volunteers" to help with the maintenance. Didn't someone volunteer to cut the grass?
